Eighteenth Century Newcastle:

Eighteenth Century Newcastle P. M. Horsley, 1971      Music-Making in North-East England during the Eighteenth Century, 2017-07-05 The north east of England in the eighteenth century was a region where many different kinds of musical activity thrived and where a wide range of documentation survives Such activities included concert giving teaching tuning and composition as well as music in the theatre and in church Dr Roz Southey examines the impulses behind such activities and the meanings that local people found inherent in them It is evident that music could be perceived or utilized for extremely diverse purposes as entertainment as a learned art as an aid to piety as a profession a social facilitator and a support to patriotism and nationalism Musical societies were established throughout the century and Southey illustrates the social make up of the members as well as the role of Gentlemen Amateurs in the organizing of concerts and the connections with London and other centres The book draws upon a rich selection of source material including local newspapers council and ecclesiastical records private papers and diaries and accounts of local tradesman as well as surviving examples of music composed in the area by Charles Avison Thomas Ebdon and John Garth of Durham amongst many others Charles Avison s importance is focused upon particularly and his Essay on Musical Expression is considered alongside other contemporary writings of lesser fame Southey provides a fascinating insight into the type and social class of audiences and their influence on the repertoire performed The book moves from a consideration of music being used as a fashion item evidenced by the patronage of big name soloists from London and abroad to fiddlers ballad singers music at weddings funerals public celebrations and music for marking the events of the American War of Independence and the French Revolutionary Wars It can be seen therefore that the north east was an area of important musical activity and that the music was always interwoven into the political economic religious and commercial fabric of eighteenth century life      Music in North-east England, 1500-1800 Stephanie Carter, Kirsten Gibson, Roz Southey, 2020 This collection situates the North East within a developing nationwide account of British musical culture      Regional Identities in North-East England, 1300-2000 Adrian Gareth Green, A. J. Pollard, 2007 Is North East England really a coherent and self conscious region The essays collected here address this topical issue from the middle ages to the present day      Lunatic Hospitals in Georgian England, 1750-1830 Leonard Smith, 2013-10-18 Lunatic Hospitals in Georgian England 1750 1830 constitutes the first comprehensive study of the philanthropic asylum system in Georgian England Using original research and drawing upon a wide range of expertise on the history of mental health this book demonstrates the crucial role of the lunatic hospitals in the early development of a national system of psychiatric institutions These hospitals were to form an essential historical link in the emergence of a national system of institutional provision for mentally disordered people They provided important prototypes for the subsequent development of a network of state sponsored lunatic asylums during the nineteenth century This is an impressive volume which covers various areas including the provincial lunatic hospitals managing the hospital managing the insane This book will interest specialist historians as well as mental health professionals and people interested in local and regional studies

The Northern Counties from AD 1000 Norman Mccord, Richard Thompson, 2018-10-08 Informative vivid and richly illustrated this volume explores the history of England's northern borders the former counties of Northumberland Cumberland Durham Westmorland and the Furness areas of Lancashire across 1000 years The book explores every aspect of this changing scene from the towns and poor upland farms of early modern Cumbria to life in the teeming communities of late Victorian Tyneside In their final chapters the authors review the modern decline of these traditional industries and the erosion of many of the region's historical characteristics

Unquiet Lives Joanne Bailey, 2003-07-17 Based on vivid court records and newspaper advertisements this 2003 book is a pioneering account of the expectations and experiences of married life among the middle and labouring ranks in the long eighteenth century Its original methodology draws attention to the material life of marriage which has long been dominated by theories of emotional shifts or fashionable accounts of spouses gendered oppositional lives Thus it challenges preconceptions about authority in the household by showing the extent to which husbands depended upon their wives vital economic activities household management and child care Not only did this forge co dependency between spouses it undermined men's autonomy The power balance within marriage is further revised by evidence that the sexual double standard was not rigidly applied in everyday life The book also shows that ideas about adultery and domestic violence evolved in the eighteenth century influenced by new models of masculinity and femininity

Lord Mansfield Norman S. Poser, 2013-09-01 In the first modern biography of Lord Mansfield 1705-1793 Norman Poser details the turbulent political life of eighteenth century Britain's most powerful judge serving as chief justice for an unprecedented thirty two years His legal decisions launched England on the path to abolishing slavery and the slave trade modernized commercial law in ways that helped establish Britain as the world's leading industrial and trading nation and his vigorous opposition to the American colonists stoked Revolutionary fires Although his father and brother were Jacobite rebels loyal to the deposed King James II Mansfield was able to rise through English society to become a member of its ruling aristocracy and a confidential advisor to two kings Poser sets Mansfield's rulings in historical context while delving into Mansfield's circle which included poets Alexander Pope described him as his country's pride artists actors clergymen noblemen and women and politicians Still celebrated for his application of common sense and moral values to the formal and complicated English common law system Mansfield brought a practical and humanistic approach to the law His decisions continue to influence the legal systems of Canada Britain and the United States to an extent unmatched by any judge of the past An illuminating account of one of the greatest legal minds Lord Mansfield presents a vibrant look at Britain's Age of Reason through one of its central figures

Archaeologies of the British Susan Lawrence, 2003 Beginning with the early English colonisation of Ireland and Virginia the international range of contributors in Archaeology of the British examine the interplay of objects and identity in Scotland and Wales regional England Canada Australia South Africa Cyprus and Sri Lanka

Informed by developments in historical archaeology and by postcolonial scholarship the case studies in this volume look at the colonists themselves The evidence draws upon includes vernacular architecture landscapes and objects of everyday life Archaeologies of the British makes it clear that Britishness has never been a fixed entity and that material culture can challenge historical and contemporary understandings of Britishness United Islands? The Languages of Resistance John Kirk,2015-10-06 This is the first title in a new series called Poetry and Song in the Age of Revolution This series will appeal to those involved in English literary studies as well as those working in fields of study that cover Enlightenment Romanticism and Revolution in the last quarter of the eighteenth century The Oxford Handbook of the History of the Book in Early Modern England Adam Smyth,2023-09-05 The Oxford Handbook of the History of the Book in Early Modern England provides a rich imaginative and also accessible guide to the latest research in one of the most exciting areas of early modern studies Written by scholars working at the cutting edge of the subject from the UK and North America the volume considers the production reception circulation consumption destruction loss modification recycling and conservation of books from different disciplinary perspectives Each chapter discusses in a lively manner the nature and role of the book in early modern England as well as offering critical insights on how we talk about the history of the book On finishing the Handbook the reader will not only know much more about the early modern book but will also have a strong sense of how and why the book as an object has been studied and the scope for the development of the field The Musical World of Charles Avison Simon D.I. Fleming,2024-12-02 This book explores the works and influence of the eighteenth century British composer Charles Avison Although he spent most of his life in the northern town of Newcastle upon Tyne Avison went on to have a marked impact on the musical life of Britain during the second half of the eighteenth century His concertos become part of the national concert repertory while his critical treatise An Essay on Musical Expression shaped debates about musical aesthetics This book provides the first sustained examination of Avison s musical works and compositional techniques and it traces how his music not only drew on influences from European composers but also reworked them and in turn influenced others Considering Avison s musical compositions the circumstances around their composition and dissemination and their place in music history the author confronts preconceptions about the quality of Avison s music reveals new dimensions of his work as a composer and demonstrates the enduring popularity and impact of his music The author also draws on Avison s writings to consider how closely he adheres to his own musical aesthetics Reassessing Avison s contribution to British music history this study makes the case for understanding him as an important figure in the development and spread of musical styles across eighteenth century England The Sense of the People Kathleen Wilson,1995-07-28 The people the empire the political subject all three were contentious issues in the politics and culture of eighteenth century English cities This study explores how these three issues came to occupy central roles in the wide ranging political cultures of English towns between the Hanoverian Succession and the American war enabling a variety of groups outside the structures of the state to claim a stake in national affairs      Rogues, Thieves And the Rule of Law Gwenda Morgan, Peter Rushton, 2005-07-28 A study of crime and law enforcement in the north eastern counties between the Transportation Act of 1718 and the Bloody Code of the 1800s the key period of debate in the history of English crime      The Quarterly Journal of the University of North Dakota, 1923      The Quarterly Journal - University of North Dakota University of North Dakota, 1922 Vol 1 includes the installation of Frank Le Rond Mc Vey as president of the University of North Dakota Programs and proceedings Called inauguration number dated Sept 1910      Affective Architectures Jacque Micieli-Voutsinas, Angela M. Person, 2020-09-20 How do places manipulate our emotions How are spaces affectious in their articulation and design This book provides theoretical frameworks for exploring affective dimensions of architectural sites based on the notion that heritage as an embodied experience is embedded in places and spaces Drawing together an interdisciplinary collection of essays spanning geographically diverse architectural sites including Ford s Theater the site of President Lincoln s assassination the Estadio Nacional of Santiago Chile where 12 000 detainees were held following the ouster of President Salvador Allende and Unit 731 the site of a biological and chemical warfare research unit of the Imperial Japanese army in Harbin China amongst others this edited collection assembles critical dialogue amongst scholars and practitioners engaging in affective and other more than representational approaches to cultural memory heritage and identity making Broken into three main sections Affective Politics Embedded Geographies and Affective Methodologies this book draws together multidisciplinary perspectives from the arts social sciences and humanities to understand the role of architecture in generating embodied experiences at places of memory This book offers interdisciplinary perspectives on fundamental questions of memory identity and space It will be of interest to students and scholars in the fields of geography architecture cultural studies and museum and heritage studies      British Clubs and Societies 1580-1800 Peter Clark, 2000-01-06 Modern freemasonry was invented in London about 1717 but was only one of a surge of British associations in the early modern era which had originated before the English Revolution By 1800 thousands of clubs and societies had swept the country Recruiting widely from the urban affluent classes mainly amongst men they traditionally involved heavy drinking feasting singing and gambling They ranged from political religious and scientific societies artistic and literary clubs to sporting societies bee keeping and birdfancying clubs and a myriad of other associations      Northern Landscapes Tom E. Faulkner, Helen Berry, Jeremy Gregory, 2010 How distinctive is the landscape of the North East of England How far does its distinctive nature contribute to region s identity These are key questions addressed by this book drawing on hiterto little known detail and many new research findings      The Provincial Towns of Georgian England C.W.
