Eine Fast Magische Anziehungskraft Goethes Wahlverwandtschaften Und Die Chemie Seiner Zeit:

Goethe's Elective Affinities and the Critics Astrida Orle Tantillo, 2001 The first book length examination in English of the critical reception of Goethe's daring novel The Elective Affinities From the time of its publication to today Goethe's famous novel The Elective Affinities Die Wahlverwandtschaften 1809 has aroused a storm of critical confusion Critics in every age have vehemently disagreed about its content whether it defends the institution of marriage radically supports its dissolution or even whether it is about marriage at all its style whether it is romantic realistic modern or postmodern and its tone whether it is tragic anti romantic or ironic The present study begins by focusing upon the reaction of Goethe's contemporaries and then discusses Goethe's own efforts in light of the initial negative critical reaction to shape the novel's reception It continues by viewing the novel through the lens of 19th century Hegelianism positivism and biographical studies and by exploring the relationship between the novel's 19th century reception and the growth of psychoanalytic theory and German nationalism Moving on to the 20th century the book considers the re-evaluation of Goethe's scientific works the impact of World War II on the novel's interpreters and the growing influence of literary theory Here particular emphasis is placed upon Walter Benjamin's seminal essay on the novel and upon the criticism that the essay has inspired Astrida Orle Tantillo is assistant professor of German at the University of Illinois at Chicago

Goethe's Families of the Heart Susan E. Gustafson, 2016-06-30 Throughout his literary work Goethe portrays characters who defy and reject 18th and 19th century ideals of aristocratic and civil families notions of heritage assumptions about biological connections expectations about heterosexuality and legal mandates concerning marriage The questions Goethe's plays and novels pose are often modern and challenging Do social conventions family expectations and legal mandates matter Can two men or two women pair together and be parents How many partners or parents should there be Two One A group Can parents love children not biologically related to them Do biological parents always love their children What is the nature of adoptive parents children and families Ultimately what is the fundamental essence of love and family Gustafson demonstrates that Goethe's conception of the elective affinities is certainly not limited to heterosexual spouses or occasionally to men desiring men. A close analysis of Goethe's explication of affinities throughout his literary production reveals his rejection of loveless relationships for example arranged marriages and his acceptance and promotion of all relationships formed through spontaneous affinities and love including heterosexual same sex nonexclusive group parental and adoptive.

On the Literature and Thought of the German Classical Era Hugh Barr Nisbet, 2021-05-20 This volume provides a valuable contribution to our knowledge of eighteenth and nineteenth century intellectual life inside and outside Germany. Prof. Karl S. Guthke, Harvard University. This elegant collection of essays ranges across eighteenth and nineteenth century thought covering philosophy, science, literature and religion in the Age of Goethe. A recognised authority in the field, Nisbet grapples with the major voices of the Enlightenment and gives pride of place to the figures of Lessing, Herder, Goethe and Schiller. These eleven essays range widely in their compass of thought and intellectual discourse dealing incisively with themes including the philosophical implications of literature and the relationship between religion, science and politics. The result is an accomplished reflection on German thought but also on its rebirth as Nisbet argues for the relevance of these Enlightenment thinkers for the readers of today. The first half of this collection focuses predominantly on eighteenth century thought where names like Lessing, Goethe and Herder but also Locke and Voltaire feature. The second has a wider chronological scope discussing authors such as Winckelmann and Schiller while branching out from discussions of religion, philosophy and literature to explore the sciences. Issues of biology, early environmentalism and natural history also form part of this volume. The collection concludes with an examination of changing attitudes towards art in the aftermath of the Age of Goethe. The essays in this volume have been previously published separately but are brought together in this collection to present Nisbet's widely acclaimed perspectives on this fascinating period of German thought. It will be of interest to scholars and students of the intellectual life of Europe during the Enlightenment while its engaging and lucid style will also appeal to the general reader.

Reading Goethe Martin Swales, Erika Swales, 2002 Goethe is often revered rather than read, known of rather than known. It is the aim of this study to provide a corrective to this state of affairs. The authors concentrate on literary work and offer analyses that represent an impassioned advocacy.

Goethe and the English-speaking World Nicholas Boyle, John Guthrie, 2002 New studies of both Goethe's relationship to the English-speaking world and its perception of Goethe and his works. Goethe's relations with the English-speaking world have been the subject of scholarly investigation ever since his lifetime. This volume brings together eighteen articles that provide new points of view, a broad range of approaches and new and original findings on this relationship. These range from the discussion of applications of recent critical approaches such as chaos theory and Edward Said's Orientalism to Goethean texts through other more empirical contributions that bring to light new material, some of it deriving from archives in Weimar relating to Goethe's contact with English culture. Other essays involve the reassessment of questions of influence from both sides in the case of Cooper and

Goethe some standard assumptions are revised while in the case of Goethe and Edith Wharton and Goethe and George Eliot new comparative ground is broken Close readings of portions of well known texts such as Faust and Wilhelm Meister challenge standard assumptions The analysis of selected recent translations of Goethe's poetry raises perennial questions of cultural transfer while the survey of the role played by some of Goethe's texts in one corner of the English speaking world Dublin is long overdue Nicholas Boyle is Reader in German Literary and Intellectual History Head of the Department of German in the University of Cambridge and Fellow of Magdalene College John Guthrie is College Lecturer in German and Director of Studies in Modern Languages at New Hall Cambridge

Literary Conclusions Oliver Simons, 2022-04-15 Endings are not just singular moments in time but the outcomes of a process And whatever a book's conclusion its form has a history Literary Conclusions presents a new theory of textual endings in eighteenth century literature and thought Analyzing essential works by Gotthold Ephraim Lessing Johann Wolfgang von Goethe and Heinrich von Kleist Oliver Simons shows how the emergence of new kinds of literary endings around 1800 is inextricably linked to the history of philosophical and scientific concepts Simons examines the interrelations of Lessing's literary endings with modes of logical conclusion he highlights how Goethe's narrative closures are forestalled by an uncontrollable vital force that was discussed in the sciences of the time and he reveals that Kleist conceived of literary genres themselves as forms of reasoning Kleist's endings Simons demonstrates mark the beginning of modernism Through close readings of these authors and supplemental analyses of works by Walter Benjamin Friedrich Hölderlin and Georg Wilhelm Friedrich Hegel he crafts an elegant theory of conclusions that revises established histories of literary genres and forms Epistemologische Fiktionen Thomas Klinkert, 2010-12-15 Vor dem Hintergrund der im 18. Jahrhundert erstmals manifest werdenden funktionalen Ausdifferenzierung der modernen Gesellschaft wird das Verhältnis zwischen Literatur und Wissenschaft an Beispielen aus dem französischen Diderot, Rousseau, Balzac, Flaubert, Zola, Proust, Houellebecq, deutschsprachigen Goethe, Freud, Musil, italienischen Vico, Manzoni, Pirandello, Svevo, Calvino, Del Giudice und spanischsprachigen Bereich Pío Baroja, Borges, Cortázar, Volpi untersucht. Dabei zeigt sich, dass es trotz der zunehmenden Trennung der Bereiche, die C. P. Snow auf die Formel der zwei Kulturen gebracht hat, immer wieder zu poetologisch und epistemologisch aufschlussreichen Interferenzen von Literatur und Wissenschaft kommt. Während im 18. Jahrhundert literarische Texte noch einen Platz in der offiziellen Wissensordnung hatten, wchst im 19. Jahrhundert das Bewusstsein für die grundlegende Differenz der Bereiche. Aufgrund der Dominanz der Naturwissenschaften und des Positivismus versuchen literarische Texte seit Balzac sich durch die poetologische Funktionalisierung naturwissenschaftlicher Modelle zu legitimieren. Im 20. Jahrhundert werden in der teilweise skeptischen Auseinandersetzung mit wissenschaftlichen Modellen die Grenzen der Literatur ausgelotet.

Hegel, Kant and the Structure of the Object Robert Stern, 2002-09-11 Hegel's holistic metaphysics challenges much recent ontology with its atomistic and reductionist assumptions. Stern offers us an original reading of Hegel and contrasts him with his predecessor Kant.

Reality and Negation - Kant's Principle of Anticipations of Perception Marco Giovanelli, 2010-11-18 Kant in the Critique of pure reason only dedicates a few pages to the principle of Anticipations of Perception and only a few critical studies are outspokenly dedicated to this issue in recent critical literature. But if one considers the history of post-Kantian philosophy, one can immediately perceive the great importance of the new definition of the relationship between reality and negation which Kant's principle proposes. Critical philosophy is here radically opposed to the pre-critical metaphysical tradition. Reality no longer appears as absolutely positive being which excludes all negativity from itself and negation is not reduced to being a simple removal, the mere absence of being. Instead, reality and negation behave as an equally positive something in respect to one another such that negation is itself a reality that is actively opposed to another reality. Such a definition of the relation between reality and negation became indispensable for post-Kantian Philosophy and represents a central aspect of Kantian-inspired philosophy in respect to Leibnizian metaphysics. The present work therefore departs from the hypothesis that the essential philosophical importance of the Anticipations of Perception can only be fully measured by exploring its impact in the Post-Kantian debate.
