The Intellectual Roots of Independence Iris M. Zavala, 1980 In the late nineteenth century American teachers descended on the Philippines which had been newly purchased by the U S at the end of the Spanish American War Motivated by President McKinley's project of benevolent assimilation they established a school system that centered on English language and American literature to advance the superiority of the Anglo Saxon tradition which was held up as justification for the U S's civilizing mission and offered as a promise of moral uplift and political advancement Meanwhile on American soil the field of American literature was just being developed and fundamentally though invisibly defined by this new extraterritorial expansion Drawing on a wealth of material including historical records governmental documents from the War Department and the Bureau of Insular Affairs curriculum guides memoirs of American teachers in the Philippines and 19th century literature Meg Wesling not only links empire with education but also demonstrates that the rearticulation of American literary studies through the imperial occupation in the Philippines served to actually define and strengthen the field Empire's Proxy boldly argues that the practical and ideological work of colonial dominance figured into the emergence of the field of American literature and that the consolidation of a canon of American literature was intertwined with the administrative and intellectual tasks of colonial management

Poesía y prosa de Bonifacio Byrne Bonifacio

Byrne, Francisco Morán, 2011 In republishing Excéntricas 1893 not only will we recover Bonifacio Byrne's most important volume of poetry but also one of the most important titles of Cuban modernism and one which will certainly enrich the canon of Spanish American modernismo This is both a critical and carefully commented edition of Excéntricas and other selections of Byrne's poetry and prose which also includes an updated bibliography and a survey of critical approaches to his poetry The edition also features a rigorous introduction that introduces the author to the reader places the poet in the context of his time and brings to light his singularity as a modernista poet Francisco Morán professor of Spanish American literature at Southern Methodist University is the editor of this volume Prof Morán who has published extensively on the main figures of modernism was in charge of the edition of Juana Borrero o la obsesión del obstáculo also published by Stockcero
