Bandow, David Schindler, 2014-05-06 The rapid spread of the liberal market order across the globe poses a host of new and complex questions for religious believers indeed for anyone concerned with the intersection of ethics and economics Is the market economy particularly as it affects the poor fundamentally compatible with Christian moral and social teaching Or is it in substantial tension with that tradition In Wealth Poverty and Human Destiny editors Doug Bandow and David L Schindler bring together some of today's leading economists theologians and social critics to consider whether the triumph of capitalism is a cause for celebration or concern Michael Novak Richard John Neuhaus Max Stackhouse and other defenders of democratic capitalism marshal a number of arguments in an attempt to show that among other things capitalism is more Christian in its foundation and consequences than is conceded by its critics that as Stackhouse and Lawrence Stratton write the roots of the modern corporation lie in the religious institutions of the West and that as Novak contends globalization is the natural ecology of Christianity The critics of liberal economics argue on the other hand that it is historically and theologically shortsighted to consider the global capitalist order and the liberalism that sustains it as the only available option Any system which has as its implicit logic that stable and preserving relationships among people places and things do not matter and are of no worth in the words of Wendell Berry should be regarded with grave suspicion by religious believers and all men and women of goodwill Bandow and Schindler take up these arguments and many others in their responses which carefully consider the claims of the essayists and thus pave the way for a renewed dialogue on the moral status of capitalism a dialogue only now re-emerging from under the Cold War rubble The contributors' fresh insightful examinations of the intersection between religion and economics should provoke a healthy debate about the intertwined issues of the market globalization human freedom the family technology and democracy T&T Clark Handbook of Suffering and the Problem of Evil Matthias Grebe, Johannes Grössl, 2023-07-13 This wide-ranging work provides an extensive exploration of the theology of theodicy asking questions such as should all instances of suffering necessarily be understood as evil Why would an omnipotent and benevolent God allow or perpetrate evil Is God unable or unwilling to reduce human and non-human suffering on Earth Does humanity have the capacity to exercise a moral evaluation of God's motives and intentions Conventional disciplinary boundaries have tended to separate theological approaches to these questions from philosophical ones This volume aims to overcome these boundaries by including biblical Part I historical Part II doctrinal Part III philosophical Part IV and pastoral interreligious perspectives and alternative intersections Part V on theodicy Authors include thinkers from analytic and continental traditions multiple Christian denominations and other religions and both established and younger scholars providing a full variety of approaches What unites the essays is an attempt to answer these questions from the perspective of biblical testimony historical scholarship modern theological and philosophical thinking about the concept of God non-Christian religions science and the arts The result is a combination of in-depth analysis and breadth of scope making this a benchmark work for further studies in the theology of suffering and evil Ethics ,

Blackness and Modernity Cecil Foster, 2007 Cecil Foster presents a rigorous interdisciplinary analysis of blackness by challenging existing notions of blackness and arguing for the viability of a multicultural world In Blackness and Modernity Foster traces the main philosophical anthropological sociological and mythological arguments that support views of modernity as a failed quest for whiteness He outlines how these views were implemented as part of a world history and shows how Canada became the first country to officially reject this approach by adopting multiculturalism Blackness and Modernity presents four categories for understanding blackness and whiteness the somatic cultural status differential and the idealistic The somatic the colour of skin is merely one category and perhaps the least meaningful for while it may be the most important for some people Foster argues that multiculturalism which he views as ontological blackness is an attempt to make rational idealism the only category that matters
