Moscow, the Fourth Rome Katerina Clark,2011-11-15 In the early sixteenth century the monk Filofei proclaimed Moscow the Third Rome By the 1930s intellectuals and artists all over the world thought of Moscow as a mecca of secular enlightenment In Moscow the Fourth Rome Katerina Clark shows how Soviet officials and intellectuals in seeking to capture the imagination of leftist and anti fascist intellectuals throughout the world sought to establish their capital as the cosmopolitan center of a post Christian confederation and to rebuild it to become a beacon for the rest of the world Clark provides an interpretative cultural history of the city during the crucial 1930s the decade of the Great Purge She draws on the work of intellectuals such as Sergei Eisenstein Sergei Tretiakov Mikhail Koltsov and Ilya Ehrenburg to shed light on the singular Zeitgeist of that most Stalinist of periods In her account the decade emerges as an important moment in the prehistory of key concepts in literary and cultural studies today transnationalism cosmopolitanism and world literature By bringing to light neglected antecedents she provides a new polemical and political context for understanding canonical works of writers such as Brecht Benjamin Lukacs and Bakhtin Moscow the Fourth Rome breaches the intellectual iron curtain that has circumscribed cultural histories of Stalinist Russia by broadening the framework to include considerable interaction with Western intellectuals and trends Its integration of the understudied international dimension into the interpretation of Soviet culture remedies misunderstandings of the world historical significance of Moscow under Stalin     Governing Masculinities in the Early Modern Period Jacqueline Van Gent, 2016-04-22 Documenting lived experiences of men in charge of others this collection creates a social and cultural history of early modern governing masculinities It examines the tensions between normative discourses and lived experiences and their manifestations in a range of different sources and explores the insecurities anxieties and instability of masculine governance and the ways in which these were expressed or controlled in emotional states language or performance Focussing on moments of exercising power the collection seeks to understand the methods strategies discourses or resources that men were able or not to employ in order to have this power In order to elucidate the mechanisms of male governance the essays explore the following questions how was male governance demonstrated and enacted through men s and women s bodies What roles did women play in sustaining supporting or undermining governing masculinities And what are the relationship of specific spaces such as household or urban environments to notions and practice of governance Finally the collection emphasises the power of sources to articulate the ideas of governance held by particular social groups and to obscure those of others Through a rich and wide range of case studies the collection explores what distinctions can be seen in ideas of authoritative masculine behaviour across Protestant and Catholic cultures British and Continental models from the late medieval to the end of the eighteenth century and between urban and national expressions of authority     Mirando conceptos Laura Galazzi, 2012-10-29 En este libro se abordan diferentes relaciones entre el cine y la filosofía con el objetivo de enriquecer las propuestas de enseñanza de la filosofía en la escuela media En pos de ello se analizan algunos supuestos propios de la tarea de enseñar tales como la tradicional consideración del cine en tanto recurso didáctico En un recorrido que se propone desplegar encuentros diversos entre ficciones documentales y enseñanza de la filosofía ejemplificando a través del análisis en profundidad de algunas obras en particular se genera una reflexión que sugiere herramientas para pensar y dejar librado el uso del cine para que cada docente lo utilice como creación pertinente en su propio recorrido filosófico Una construcción que no pretende dar recetas ni soluciones sino que espera constituirse en un estímulo para inventar nuevas posibilidades en el aula     Silent
