Pitt, 2017-01-01 The English Library of the University of Toronto presents information on Canadian poet Edwin John Pratt 1882 The library offers biographical information on Pratt the full text of several of Pratt's poems and a bibliography of his works      The Literary Legacy of the Macmillan Company of Canada Ruth Panofsky, 2012-01-30 Fifth Business and Alligator Pie Stephen Leacock Grey Owl and Morley Callaghan these treasured Canadian books and authors were all nurtured by the Macmillan Company of Canada one of the country's foremost twentieth century publishing houses The Literary Legacy of the Macmillan Company of Canada is a unique look at the contribution of publishers and editors to the formation of the Canadian literary canon Ruth Panofsky's study begins in 1905 with the establishment of Macmillan Canada as a branch plant to the company's London office While concentrating on the firm's original trade publishing which had considerable cultural influence Panofsky underscores the fundamental importance of educational titles to Macmillan's financial profile The Literary Legacy of the Macmillan Company of Canada also illuminates the key individuals including Hugh Eayrs John Gray and Hugh Kane whose personalities were as fascinating as those of the authors they published and whose achievements helped to advance modern literature in Canada      Complete Poems Edwin John Pratt, 1989-01-01 The volume offers a full sampling of Pratt's poems chosen both for their representativeness and for their intrinsic value      Selected Poems Edwin John Pratt, 2000-01-01 The purpose of The Selected Poems of E J Pratt is to introduce Pratt's poems to the college and university student to provide the kind of information needed for an informed reading of the poems The volume offers a full sampling of Pratt's poems chosen on the joint basis of representativeness and intrinsic value This includes the major long poems The Witches Brew The Iron Door The Titanic BrTbeuf and His Brethren Towards the Last Spike and important shorter lyrics including Newfoundland Come Away Death and From Stone to Steel The editorial approach has been historical chronological and biographical The introduction locates Pratt in his Newfoundland and Canadian contexts and discusses the development of his work in terms of his early modernist contemporaries concluding that E J Pratt remains the most important and influential Canadian poet up to the mid fifties As such he has been a key figure in shaping the Canadian literary imagination of his day and the later poetics of landscape adopted by Earle Birney and Margaret Atwood The reader is provided with annotations textual notes a biographical chronology and an introduction which locates Pratt in his Newfoundland and Canadian contexts and discusses the development of his work in terms of his modernist contemporaries The printed volumes is supplemented by the electronic resources of the Selected Pratt website at <http://www.trentu.ca/pratt/selected>      The Traveling and Writing Self Marguerite Helmers, Tilar Mazzeo, 2009-03-26 The collected essays that comprise The Traveling and Writing Self examine the critical relationship between the journey the author of the travel narrative and published and private texts Contributors draw attention to the performed nature of the travel writer's self emphasizing that the carefully crafted persona of the traveler protagonist is a fiction The traveler s identity is frequently in flux negotiating between social convention literary convention personal motivations and nationalist agendas The Traveling and Writing Self is a notable addition to studies of travel writing because the contributors explore several genres in addition to the traditional accounts of the journey these genres include histories of exploration diaries memoir poetry film and short story Not limited to a specific historical era or geographical location individual chapters explore the work of Rebecca Solnit Isak Dinesen Melinda Atwood William Byrd E J Pratt Beatrice Grimshaw and Louisa May Alcott From each we learn that perhaps the most interesting subject of any travel account is the author

The Newfoundland Diaspora Jennifer Bowering Delisle,2013-06-01 Out migration driven by high unemployment and a floundering economy has been a defining aspect of Newfoundland society for well over a century and it reached new heights with the cod moratorium in 1992 This Newfoundland diaspora has had a profound impact on the province s literature Many writers and scholars have referred to Newfoundland out migration as a diaspora but few have examined the theoretical implications of applying this contested term to a predominantly inter provincial movement of mainly white economically motivated migrants The Newfoundland Diaspora argues that diaspora helpfully references the painful displacement of a group whose members continue to identify with each other and with the homeland It examines important literary works of the Newfoundland diaspora including the poetry of E J Pratt the drama of David French the fiction of Donna Morrissey and Wayne Johnston and the memoirs of David Macfarlane These works are the sites of a broad inquiry into the theoretical flashpoints of affect diasporic authenticity nationalism race and ethnicity The literature of the Newfoundland diaspora both contributes to and responds to critical movements in Canadian literature and culture querying the place of regional national and ethnic affiliations in a literature drawn along the borders of the nation state This diaspora plays a part in defining Canada even as it looks beyond the borders of Canada as a literary community

Canadian Literature in English W. J. Keith,2006 W J Keith has chosen to ignore utterly both the popular at the one extreme Robert Service Lucy Maud Montgomery as well as the avant garde at the other bpnichol Anne Carson in favour of those authors

Both Hands Sandra Campbell, 2013-05-01 Editor and publisher workaholic and romantic idealist and pioneer Lorne Pierce once described his editorial desk as an altar at which I serve the entire cultural life of Canada. Pierce laboured at his altar between 1920 and 1960 as the driving force behind Ryerson Press, the leading publisher of Canadian works during the mid-twentieth century. In Both Hands, Sandra Campbell captures the inimitable cultural role of a remarkable man whose work paved the way for the creation of a national identity. Both Hands delves into the encounters, trials and triumphs that inspired Pierce's vision of cultural nationalism from his rural upbringing in eastern Ontario to the philosophical ideals he acquired at Queen's University to his service as a teacher, a Methodist preacher and a military man during the First World War. All these experiences coalesced in his work at Ryerson Press, then Canada's largest publishing house, even as he battled lupus and deafness to make his mark on the country's literary scene. Campbell situates this unflinching look into Pierce's personal and public life within the context of Canadian society, detailing his relationships with major figures such as the Group of Seven, Harold Innis, Donald Creighton, E. J. Pratt, the modernist Montreal poets Northrop Frye and many others. Set against the rich backdrop of Canada's early literary and artistic heritage, Both Hands vividly presents the life and work of an impresario of literary, historical and art publishing of indisputable influence throughout the country's cultural milieu.

Nineteenth-Century Lives Jerome Hamilton Buckley, 1989 In this unique collection of essays, ten distinguished critics and biographers consider what it means to narrate a life. Their illustrative texts are largely taken from nineteenth-century biography, autobiography and the novel, but narrative is the broader genre that unites their various inquiries. The principal issues are framed by Margaret Atwood, J. Hillis Miller and Phyllis Rose. Atwood compares and contrasts the biographer and the novelist as creators of narratives, emphasizing that the difference is in the ground rules. Determining what these ground rules are is a recurring theme in these essays. Some of the subjects discussed are the boundaries of fact and fiction, the professed power of the narrator and the figurative underpinnings of autobiography.

Many of these pieces are delightful and provocative biographical and autobiographical excursions in themselves Atwood describes her early fear of biography Morton Cohen narrates an exciting bit of detective work he conducted into the life of Lewis Carroll and John Rosenberg gives a vivid and frequently revisionary reading of many aspects of Darwin's life Other critics Carl Woodring Richard Altick Norman Kelvin Margaret Stetz and Robert Kiely consider related topics The contributors as well as the editors have all been colleagues or students of the eminent critic and biographer Jerome Hamilton Buckley in whose honor these essays have been written

Interviews With Northrop Frye Jean O'Grady, 2008-04-19
It is often forgotten that Northrop Frye a scholar known chiefly for his books and articles was also a gifted speaker who was never reluctant to be interviewed This collection of 111 interviews and discussions with the critic assembles all of those published or broadcast on radio or television Also included among the interviews are a number of conversations not generally known many of them transcribed from tapes gathered from personal collections Interviews with Northrop Frye aims to provide another view of the famous literary critic one that supplements that which is often obtained from reading his printed works Ranging from the earliest interviews in 1948 to discussions that took place mere months before his death in 1991 this volume is a complete portrait of Frye the conversationalist demonstrating that he was capable of expressing his thought just as lucidly in person as he could on paper Among the topics included are Frye's views on teaching writing and Canadian literature his opinions on the state of criticism and a fascinating exchange concerning contemporary religion For anyone interested in the life and career of Northrop Frye these interviews are an ideal way to gain greater insight into the man and his work

The Legacy of Northrop Frye Alvin A. Lee, Robert D. Denham, 1994
Alvin Lee and Robert Denham divide the papers into four cohesive sections The Double Vision Culture Religion and Society Imagined Community Frye and Canada The Visioned Poet in His Dreams Frye Romanticism and the Modern and Dunsinane Birnam Wood and Beyond Frye's Theoria of Language and Literature The essays consider Frye in relation to Canadian culture examine his understanding of Romanticism and modernism and explore and evaluate his contributions to our understanding of literature criticism society and religion

F.H. Varley Katerina Atanassova, 2007-03-30
Frederick Horsman Varley was unique among the members of the Group of Seven One of the greatest Canadian portraitists of the twentieth century he is an intriguing example of an artist who despite his fame as a portrait painter remains better known for his landscapes This is due mainly to his position as one of the founding members of the Group of Seven and their deliberate attempt to raise awareness of our national identity by depicting the Canadian landscape Even though many public collections across the country including the National Gallery of Canada the Art Gallery of Ontario and the Vancouver Art Gallery display some of Varley s best known portraits these works do not easily fit into the conventional mould of the Group of Seven Nearly four decades after his death Varley s portraits are still not fully acknowledged The release of this beautifully illustrated bilingual volume coincides with the opening of an unprecedented exhibition of his portraiture
