Studying the Power Elite G. William Domhoff, Eleven Other Authors, 2017-08-04 This book critiques and extends the analysis of power in the classic Who Rules America on the fiftieth anniversary of its original publication in 1967 and through its subsequent editions The chapters written especially for this book by twelve sociologists and political scientists provide fresh insights and new findings on many contemporary topics among them the concerted attempt to privatize public schools foreign policy and the growing role of the military industrial component of the power elite the successes and failures of union challenges to the power elite the ongoing and increasingly global battles of a major sector of agribusiness and the surprising details of how those who hold to the egalitarian values of social democracy were able to tip the scales in a bitter conflict within the power elite itself on a crucial banking reform in the aftermath of the Great Recession These social scientists thereby point the way forward in the study of power not just in the United States but globally A brief introductory chapter situates Who Rules America within the context of the most visible theories of power over the past fifty years pluralism Marxism Millsian elite theory and historical institutionalism Then a chapter by G William Domhoff the author of Who Rules America takes us behind the scenes on how the original version was researched and written tracing the evolution of the book in terms of new concepts and research discoveries by Domhoff himself as well as many other power structure researchers through the 2014 seventh edition Readers will find differences of opinion and analysis from chapter to chapter The authors were encouraged to express their views independently and frankly They do so in an admirable and useful fashion that will stimulate everyone's thinking on these difficult and complex issues setting the agenda for future studies of power

When Race Meets Class Rhonda Levine, 2019-01-04 A rare 15 year ethnography this book follows the lives of individual low income African American youth from the beginning of high school into their early adult years Levine shows how their interaction and experience with multiple institutions family school community and individuals parents friends teachers coaches strangers shape their hopes fears aspirations and worldviews The intersectionality of their social identities how race class and gender come together to influence how they come to think about who they are influences many behaviors that directly contradict their stated aspirations Affected too by limited access to resources these youths often take a path profoundly different from their stated values and life goals Levine explores the volatility and constraints underlying their decision making and behaviors The book reveals the critical junctures and turning points shaping life trajectories challenging many long held assumptions about the persistence of racial inequality by offering new insights on the educational and occupational barriers facing young African Americans The Routledge Doctoral Student's Companion Pat Thomson, Melanie Walker, 2010-04-07 This book addresses a set of interlocking and overlapping big questions that sit behind the plethora of doctoral advice texts and run through the practice of knowledge identity work Doing Educational Research in Rural Settings Simone White, Michael Corbett, 2014-04-24 Doing Educational Research in Rural Settings is a much needed guide for educational researchers whose research interests are located outside metropolitan areas in places that are generically considered to be rural This book is both timely and important as it takes up the key question of how to conduct educational research within and for rural communities It explores the impact of educational research in such contexts in terms of the lasting good of research and also those being researched The authorship is international which brings together researchers experienced in conducting educational inquiry in rural places from across European Australian American and Canadian contexts allowing readers insight into national and regional challenges It also draws on the research experiences and methodological challenges faced by senior figures in the field of rural educational research as well as those in their early careers Key topics include Working with and within the rural The impact of educational globalisation and the problematisation of cultural difference in social research Researcher subjectivities The position of education research in rural contexts The usefulness of research Reciprocity and converging interest Ethics and confidentiality This book is uniquely written with an eye to practicality and applicability and will be an engaging guide for higher degree and doctoral students seeking to gain a stronger understanding of educational research in rural settings Profitable Ideas Micheal O'Flynn, 2009 Scholarly attempts to explain the development of liberal individualism over the course of modern history have tended to focus on key principles and doctrines The emergence and spread of individualist ideas has been scrutinised to an extent but with insufficient attention to the manner in which they have been bound up with the opportunities and obstacles to accumulation at different stages of capitalist development To this end this book shows that as the capitalist system develops continuously generating new interests and societal conflicts the theories doctrines and moral precepts comprising liberal individualism change and evolve while its vital social function is preserved Western Europe, Eastern Europe and World Development 13th-18th Centuries, 2009-10-23 This collection of essays is most welcome The main articles of Marian Maowist are collected together and in many cases translated into English for the first time Maowist who is one of the major economic historians of the twentieth century is also a much neglected one Of the eighteen articles here only five were published in English language journals that are widely read by historians and social scientists and even these journals are primarily read by economic historians So most scholars have been missing out on one of the most fertile and cultivated minds who have written on the central issue of our times the wide and widening gulf between the core and the periphery the North and the South western and eastern Europe Immanuel Wallerstein Weaving Transnational Solidarity Katherine

O'Donnell, 2010-07-26 Weaving Transnational Solidarity from the Catskills to Chiapas and Beyond analyzes the grassroots economic justice work 1998-2009 of three groups: two Mexican organizations Jolom Mayaetik (Mayan women's weaving cooperative) and Kinal Antzetik (NGO in the highlands of Chiapas) and an informal international solidarity network. The book provides scholar-activist ethnographic case study data which contributes to understanding collective organization, indigenous rights, and the solidarity process within transnational social movements, and critically reflects on Fair Trade, health, and education solidarity efforts, as well as the class, ethnic, and gender dimensions of neoliberal globalization. Central themes include solidarity, human rights, and social justice. Indigenous women's voices are featured in the book as powerful in transnational justice organizing in the global south and north. Critical Global Studies vol 2

Manifesto of the Critical Theory of Society and Religion (3 vols.) Rudolf Siebert, 2010-08-16 The Manifesto develops further the Critical Theory of Religion intrinsic to the Critical Theory of Society of the Frankfurt School into a new paradigm of the Psychology, Sociology, Philosophy, and Theology of Religion. Its central theme is the theodicy problem. The Manifesto approaches this theme in the framework of comparative religion and critical political theology in a narrative and discursive fashion. In search of a solution to the theodicy problem, the Manifesto explores trends in civil society toward: Alternative Future I: the Totally Administered Society; Alternative Future II: the Militarized Society; and Alternative Future III: the Reconciled Society in the horizon of the longing for the Wholly Other as perfect justice and unconditional love. Toward that goal, it relies on both the critical theory of society as developed by Max Horkheimer, Ernst Bloch, Walter Benjamin, Theodor W. Adorno, and others, and on the new political theology of Johannes B. Metz, Helmut Peukert, and Edmund Arens. The Destiny of Modern Societies Milan Zafirovski, 2009 This book is a sociological analysis of the relationship between modern society in particular America and Calvinism in the Weberian tradition. While the book continues this tradition, it further expands, elaborates on, and goes beyond earlier sociological analyses. The book examines the impact of Calvinism on modern society as a whole, thus extending, elaborating on, and going beyond the previous analyses of the influence of the Calvinist religion only on the capitalist economy. It analyzes how Calvinism has determined most contemporary social institutions including political, civic, cultural, and economic in its respective societies, particularly through its derivative Puritanism in America. For that purpose, the book applies the idea of the destiny of societies or nations to American society in particular. It argues, demonstrates, and illustrates the Calvinist societal predestination through the Puritan determination of American society. Crisis, Politics and Critical Sociology Graham Cassano, Richard Alan Dello Buono, 2010 As the first decade of the 21st century comes to a close, the world has entered a sustained period of crisis. In order to understand the forces that created our current social world, we need the tools provided by a critical sociology. This volume draws upon the work of contemporary critical sociologists searching for the roots of our present social and economic problems. Both prominent figures and emerging voices in sociology come together to offer insights into our present dilemmas from a critical perspective. The questions they ask and attempt to answer include What is critical sociology What is the significance of the new Obama administration What tools do post structuralism postmodernism feminism and new forms of social theory offer critical discourse Citizenship across Borders Michael Peter Smith,Matt Bakker,2011-05-02 Michael Peter Smith and Matt Bakker spent five years carrying out ethnographic field research in multiple communities in the Mexican states of Zacatecas and Guanajuato and various cities in California particularly metropolitan Los Angeles Combining the information they gathered there with political economic and institutional analysis the five extended case studies in Citizenship across Borders offer a new way of looking at the emergent dynamics of transnational community development and electoral politics on both sides of the border Smith and Bakker highlight the continuing significance of territorial identifications and state policies particularly those of the sending state in cultivating and sustaining transnational connections and practices In so doing they contextualize and make sense of the complex interplay of identity and loyalty in the lives of transnational migrant activists In contrast to high profile warnings of the dangers to national cultures and political institutions brought about by long distance nationalism and dual citizenship Citizenship across Borders demonstrates that far from undermining loyalty and diminishing engagement in U S political life the practice of dual citizenship by Mexican migrants actually provides a sense of empowerment that fosters migrants active civic engagement in American as well as Mexican politics A Companion to Sport David L. Andrews,Ben

Carrington,2013-06-21 A Companion to Sport brings together writing by leading sports theorists and social and cultural thinkers to explore sport as a central element of contemporary culture Positions sport as a crucial subject for critical analysis as one of the most significant forms of popular culture Includes both well known social and cultural theorists whose work lends itself to an interrogation of sport and leading theorists of sport itself Offers a comprehensive examination of sport as a social and cultural practice and institution Explores sport in relation to modernity postcolonial theory gender violence race disability and politics Law, Not War Richard Derrington Schwartz,2014 Law is an institution that has evolved and flourished throughout its six thousand year history Tracing this history in complex societies from the Ancient Middle East to the contemporary world this book poses the following question can international law become an effective instrument of social control among nations in the emerging world society To develop effective international law will require minimal standards of inclusiveness and mutual responsibility International law must be limited in its scope and its powers It must also meet the fundamental requirement of an effective legal system a widespread belief in its justice and fairness How has that kind of respect for the law come about in earlier societies and how can it be fostered in the evolution of a world legal order

Climate Change Politics , Dialectic of Solidarity Mark Worrell,2008-07-31 During World War II it appeared that American workers in uniform had all that was required to defend democracy on the battlefields yet on the domestic front the working class as it turned out was ideologically inconsistent when it came to democracy Could battles against tyranny be won abroad only to lose the war back home This was the question the Institute of Social Research the famous Frankfurt School asked in 1944 when it embarked upon an important study of the American working class Dialectic of Solidarity draws upon unpublished research reports of the Frankfurt School and represents a unique and multidimensional view of the political imagination of the wartime American worker and the role of antisemitism as the spearhead of fascism Marx, Critical Theory, and Religion, 2006-08-01 The Sociology of Religion has had several frameworks guiding its analysis including functionalism interpretive sociology phenomenology symbolic interactionism and now rational choice theory Marxism has tended to ignore religion assuming it is something that would eventually disappear even though it retained theological elements This collection of essays brings together a group of scholars who use frameworks provided by Marx and Critical Theory in analyzing religion Its goal is to establish a critical theory of religion within the sociology of religion as an alternative to rational choice In doing so it engages in a critique of the positivism uncritical praise of the market neoconservatism and one dimensional conception of rationality of the rational choice theory of religion Marx's Scientific Dialectics Paul Paolucci, 2007 This book examines both problems in traditional readings of Marx's texts and how he used several methods of science to inform his dialectical thinking historical materialist research political economic analyses and his communist project A case is made for Marx's continuing methodological relevance The Future of Religion Michael R. Ott, 2007-06-30 In the midst of the increasing antagonism between religion and secularity the sacred and the profane faith and reason currently described in terms of the clash of civilizations is religion any longer relevant or meaningful in the globalizing development of modern subjectivity inter subjectivity family society state and history If so how and to what end In the socio historical context of the highly secular neo liberal neo conservative globalization movement the question of the social meaning and relevancy of religion has entered directly into the contemporary discourse on the future of humanity This book gives expression to the research of international scholars as they wrestled with these issues during the Future of Religion courses held at the Inter university Center in Dubrovnik Croatia from 2001-2005 Contributors include Aleksandra Bašić Reimon Bachika Aleksi Anja Finger Helmut Fritzsche Denis Janz Hans Herbert Kögler Werner Kriegelstein Mislav Kuko Gottfried Krenzlen Aurelia Margareti Michael R Ott Dunja Potočnik A James Reimer Kjørtan Selnes Rudolf J Siebert Hans K Weitensteiner Brian Wilson Katarzyna Zielinska
