Martin, Michael S. Hevel, 2014-09-25 As student affairs units face increasing pressure to use data and evidence to inform planning and decisions the research related to higher education has become more complex and in some cases less accessible This issue aims to bridge this gap by drawing implications for student affairs programs and practices from the results of the Wabash National Study of Liberal Arts Education an investigation that followed thousands of college students at more than 50 colleges and universities The authors identify research based ways that student affairs practitioners can facilitate educational outcomes including critical thinking moral reasoning and intercultural competence while being sensitive to the needs of specific populations of students This is the 147th volume of this Jossey Bass higher education quarterly series An indispensable resource for vice presidents of student affairs deans of students student counselors and other student services professionals New Directions for Student Services offers guidelines and programs for aiding students in their total development emotional social physical and intellectual Methodological Advances and Issues in Studying College Impact Nicholas A. Bowman, Serge Herzog, 2014-12-04 Which curricular and cocurricular practices promote student learning and persistence While most research and assessment on college student outcomes offers limited insight into causal effects this volume provides strong evidence of the impact of college on students The first section discusses statistical analyses that offer more accurate estimates of the causal effect of a particular student experience such as receiving a need based scholarship or using academic support services Providing an overview of the analytical framework it also includes real world examples to illustrate implementation for institutional researchers The second section includes original research to enhance the value of student surveys including aspects of questionnaire design and techniques to cope with item nonresponse variation in respondent effort interpretation of student self reported gains and practical insights to improve survey based research This is the 161st volume of this Jossey Bass quarterly report series Timely and comprehensive New Directions for Institutional Research provides planners and administrators in all types of academic institutions with guidelines in such areas as resource coordination information analysis program evaluation and institutional management Part-Time on the Tenure Track Joan M.

Herbers, 2014-10-28 The case for a flexible work schedule for faculty has been repeatedly made with one policy recommendation being part time positions for tenure track tenured faculty PTTT Despite some of the benefits of this approach for both faculty and institutions the PTTT concept is the least implemented policy for faculty flexibility and is poorly understood This report offers the first comprehensive treatment of PTTT suggesting that this mode of flexibility enhances recruitment retention and engagement of faculty while offering value added productivity planning potential and faculty loyalty for the institution Herbers provides data that explore how a PTTT policy can lead to faculty success and satisfaction across the lifespan of a career and likewise offers analogies and examples of well established practices that administrators across institution types can adapt to create their own policies Administrators and faculty will find the author s policy recommendations best practices and solutions to common challenges to be a roadmap for stimulating change in their institutions This is the 5th issue of the 40th volume of the Jossey Bass series ASHE Higher Education Report Each monograph is the definitive analysis of a tough higher education issue based on thorough research of pertinent literature and institutional experiences Topics are identified by a national survey Noted practitioners and scholars are then commissioned to write the reports with experts providing critical reviews of each manuscript before publication
