practitioners providing a sound foundation for future academic and career exploration      Global Order Lynn H Miller, 2018-03-05 A survey of international relations this benchmark text explains concepts of global order from the Westphalian system to current issues in international relations In this latest edition Lynn Miller covers new developments in ethnic violence economic development human rights intervention and environmental issues and discusses the potential developments and choices in the post Cold War era posing alternative new world order scenarios that emphasize improving the world's ability to engage in peacekeeping in light of the Gulf War and other recent conflicts The text advocates critical world order values and proposes means for minimizing violence maximizing economic well being enhancing human rights and protecting the environment      Hunger 1992 ,1991 Bread for the World Institute on Hunger Development The report co sponsored by other anti hunger groups illustrates through ten case studies of specific projects programs ideas that work to alleviate U S world hunger or that have shown enough promise to justify further pursuit Each essay examines the pitfalls involved whether success can be duplicated elsewhere Topics include the green revolution sustainable participatory development U S domestic food programs international food aid reforming economies without hurting poor people demilitarization citizen advocacy The report updates information presented in the previous volume Hunger 1990 on hunger in North South America Africa Asia the Middle East features statistical tables bibliography glossary topical index A new section examines the Soviet Union Eastern Europe Contributors include John Mellor Patricia Kutzner Don Reeves Remy Jurenas Gayle Smith Barbara Murock Patience Elabor Idemudia the editors other Bread for the World Institute Staff Intended for concerned citizens secondary school college instructors students opinion shapers policy makers      Journalism's Roving Eye John Maxwell Hamilton, 2011-08-15 In all of journalism nowhere are the stakes higher than in foreign news gathering For media owners it is the most difficult type of reporting to finance for editors the hardest to oversee Correspondents roaming large swaths of the planet must acquire expertise that home based reporters take for granted facility with the local language for instance or an understanding of local cultures Adding further to the challenges they must put news of the world in context for an audience with little experience and often limited interest in foreign affairs a task made all the more daunting because of the consequence to national security In Journalism's Roving Eye John Maxwell Hamilton a historian and former foreign correspondent provides a sweeping and definitive history of American foreign news reporting from its inception to the present day and chronicles the economic and technological advances that have influenced overseas coverage as well as the cavalcade of colorful personalities who shaped readers perceptions of the world across two centuries From the colonial era when newspaper printers hustled down to wharfs to collect mail and periodicals from incoming ships to the ongoing multimedia press coverage of the Iraq War Hamilton explores journalism's constant and not always successful efforts at dishing the foreign news as James Gordon Bennett put it in the mid nineteenth century to describe his approach in the New York Herald He details the highly partisan coverage of the French Revolution the early emergence of special correspondents and the challenges of organizing their efforts the profound impact of the non yellow press in the run up to the Spanish American War the increasingly sophisticated machinery of propaganda and censorship that surfaced during World War I and the golden age of foreign correspondence during the interwar period when outlets for foreign news swelled and a large number of experienced independent journalists circled the globe From the Nazis intimidation of reporters to the ways in which American popular opinion shaped coverage of Communist revolution and the Vietnam War Hamilton covers every aspect of delivering foreign news to American doorsteps Along the way Hamilton singles out a fascinating cast of characters among them Victor Lawson the overlooked proprietor of the Chicago Daily News who pioneered the concept of a foreign news service geared to American interests Henry Morton Stanley one of the first reporters to generate news on his own with his 1871 expedition to East Africa to find Livingstone and Jack Belden a forgotten brooding figure who exemplified the best in combat reporting Hamilton details the experiences of correspondents editors owners publishers and network executives as well as the political leaders who made the news and the technicians who invented ways to transmit it Their stories bring the narrative to life in arresting detail and make this an indispensable book for anyone wanting to understand the evolution of foreign news gathering Amid the steep drop in the number of correspondents stationed abroad and the recent decline of the newspaper industry many fear that foreign reporting will soon no longer exist But as Hamilton shows in this magisterial work traditional correspondence survives alongside a new type of reporting Journalism s Roving Eye offers a keen understanding of the vicissitudes in foreign news an understanding imperative to better seeing what lies ahead Economic Globalisation as Religious War Michael McKinley, 2007-06-28 Using a critical theory approach to analyze the globalization of the world economy this provocative and topical new book presents economic globalization not as a recent development but rather as a familiar process that has occurred throughout history Michael McKinley argues that it is ultimately a self serving arbitrary and destructive imperial project that should be viewed as a religious war Foreign Operations, Export Financing, and Related Programs Appropriations for 1993: Testimony of members of Congress and other interested individuals and organizations United States. Congress. House. Committee on Appropriations. Subcommittee on Foreign Operations, Export Financing, and Related Programs, 1992
