Entry Into The Realm Of Reality The Text:

Entry Into the Realm of Reality, 1989 Entering the Dharmadhātu Jan Fontein, 2012-03-20 New identifications of the 460 bas reliefs of Borobudur illustrating the Gandavya based upon a comparison with the contents of three early Chinese translations of Sanskrit manuscripts of the text of Central Asian or Indian provenance Entry Into the Realm of Reality, 1989 A Sense of the Whole Mark Gonnerman, 2015-06-09 In 1997 Mark Gonnerman organized a yearlong research workshop on Gary Snyder's Mountains and Rivers Without End at the Stanford Humanities Center. Members of what came to be known among faculty students and diverse community members as the Mountains Rivers Workshop met regularly to read and discuss Snyder's epic poem. Here the poem served as a commons that turned the multiversity into a university once again if only for a moment. The Workshop invited writers, teachers and scholars from Northern California and Japan to speak on various aspects of Snyder's great accomplishment. This book captures the excitement of these gatherings and invites readers to enter the poem through essays and talks by David Abram, Wendell Berry, Carl Bielefeldt, Tim Dean, Jim Dodge, Robert Hass, Stephanie Kaza, Julia Martin, Michael McClure, Nanao Sakaki and Katsunori Yamazato. It includes an interview with Gary Snyder, appendices and other resources for further study. Snyder once introduced a reading of this work with reference to whitewater rapids, saying most of his writing is like a Class III run where you will do just fine on your own but that Mountains and Rivers is more like Class V if you're going to make it to take out you need a guide. As a collection of commentaries and background readings, this companion volume enhances each reader's ability to find their way into and through an adventurous and engaging work of art.

Buddhist Practice and Visual Culture Julie Gifford, 2011-03-16 Providing an overall interpretation of the Buddhist monument Borobudur in Indonesia, this book looks at Mahayana Buddhist religious ideas and practices that could have informed Borobudur, including both the narrative reliefs and the Buddha images. The author explores a version of the classical Mahayana that foregrounds the importance of the visual in relation to Buddhist philosophy, meditation, devotion and ritual. The book goes on to show that the architects of Borobudur designed a visual world in which the Buddha appeared in a variety of forms and could be interpreted in three ways by realizing the true nature of his teaching through visionary experience and by encountering his numinous presence in images. Furthermore, the book analyses a particularly comprehensive and programmatic expression of Mahayana Buddhist visual culture so as to enrich the theoretical discussion of the monument. It argues that the relief panels of Borobudur do not passively illustrate but rather creatively picture selected passages from texts. Presenting new material, the book contributes immensely to a new and better understanding of the significance of the Borobudur for the field of Buddhist and Religious Studies.

Baptism and Resurrection Alexander J. M. Wedderburn, 2011-01-01 The assumption that Romans 6 and 1 Corinthians 15 reflects a borrowing of ideas from Graeco Roman mystery initiations is not the likeliest explanation of these texts nor does justice either to recent studies of the mysteries nor to the difficulty in reinterpreting resurrection to refer to a spiritual state which the baptized enjoyed in the present Spiritual phenomena may have shown early Christians in the Graeco Roman world that they had life but not resurrection Dying with Christ has other roots than the mysteries and the latter should not be interpreted in the light of Paul but dying and coming to life again is a theme common to a great many rites of passage

The Dialogic Imagination M. M. Bakhtin, 2010-03-01 These essays reveal Mikhail Bakhtin 1895 1975 known in the West largely through his studies of Rabelais and Dostoevsky as a philosopher of language a cultural historian and a major theoretician of the novel The Dialogic Imagination presents in superb English translation four selections from Voprosy literatury i estetiki Problems of literature and esthetics published in Moscow in 1975 The volume also contains a lengthy introduction to Bakhtin and his thought and a glossary of terminology Bakhtin uses the category novel in a highly idiosyncratic way claiming for it vastly larger territory than has been traditionally accepted For him the novel is not so much a genre as it is a force of newness which he discusses in From the Prehistory of Novelistic Discourse Two essays Epic and Novel and Forms of Time and of the Chronotope in the Novel deal with literary history in Bakhtin's own unorthodox way In the final essay he discusses literature and language in general which he sees as stratified constantly changing systems of subgenres dialects and fragmented languages in battle with one another

Figures of Reality Roger Cardinal, 2025-05-01 Figures of Reality 1981 may be described as a polemic against those who feel poetry to be remote from normal life an abstruse and empty game The author argues from a contrary perspective shared by many poets in the Romantic and Surrealist tradition in which poetry is viewed as being vitally related to our awareness of reality This penetrating discourse on the roots of poetry in the imagination suggests that the fascination of an illusory image lies precisely in our consciousness of its deflection from reality Poets can take hold of and manipulate these moments they are adept in the construction of unreality The deliberate cultivation of such states of awareness has been a preoccupation of many poets and literary theorists among them Coleridge De Quincey and Rimbaud Roger Cardinal's commentaries on the writing of these men as well as other texts drawn from nineteenth and twentieth century European poetry argues that poems have meaning for us to the extent that we recognise the relationship of the figure of speech on the page to the figure of reality as shaped by our perception of the world around us In this way the book uniquely develops an original and subtle theory of the role of imagination in poetry
