Environment And Economic Development In The Regions Of The European Community:

Environment and Economic Development in the Regions of the European Community Frank E. Joyce, Gunter Schneider, 1987 Agriculture and EU Environmental Law Brian Jack, 2016-03-23 This book critically examines the development and current structure of European Union agricultural measures at a substantive level Examining the measures in an integrated manner showing how they interrelate linking different aspects of European Union agricultural law and policy this volume examines the legislation adopted at European Union level as well as the impact of particular national measures to implement that legislation Where appropriate comparisons are drawn between the manner in which European Union legislation has been implemented among various Member States Critically assessing European Union and national measures in the light of other policy pressures such as the influence of world trade agreements and the political pressures exerted by the agricultural sector within the national legal systems of individual Member States this volume is a valuable resource for academics researching and practitioners working in the areas of European Union environmental and agricultural law EU Environmental Governance Amandine Orsini, Eleni Kavvatha, 2025-09-05 This book presents an overview of the field of environmental law and policies within the European Union EU and externally from theoretical foundations to major issues and applied governance solutions Drawing on expertise from renowned academics and practitioners from different disciplines EU Environmental Governance Current and Future Challenges helps readers to understand the main legal political and economic issues of environmental protection since the adoption of the European Green Deal in 2019 This new edition presents both current insights and future challenges as they seem to be emerging in the new geopolitical era in the EU after major events such as the COVID 19 pandemic and the Russian invasion in Ukraine The authors examine a broad range of sensitive and topical environmental challenges including climate change air and environmental pollution waste management biodiversity protection environmental and human health marine biodiversity renewable energy nuclear energy and sustainable Arctic governance Overall this volume exposes the reader to a vast array of empirical case studies which will bolster their training and help tackle the environmental challenges faced by Europe today This book is a valuable resource for students researchers and policymakers across a broad range of fields including environmental law and policies environmental economics climate science and environmental sociology The Nordic Regions and the European Union Søren Dosenrode, 2018-01-18 The Nordic Regions and the European Union is an authoritative book on the influences of European integration on the regional level in the Nordic countries This book provides both factual insight into the Nordic regions and the Europeanization of the four Nordic countries offering theoretical contributions to the theory of regionalism in a European context built on systematic comparison Environmental Law and Policy in the European Union and the United States Randall Baker, 1997-11-20 Authorities in the fields of environmental and international law and policy political science environmental technology and public administration compare and contrast the ways in which the United States and the European Union handle similar environmental issues The contributors critically analyze the influence of culture and history on the way apparently similar developed democracies handle the same problems they examine the center state relationship as it applies to EU member countries in contrast to states within the United States they look at the challenge of transboundary international and global environmental problems and how these relate to the still emerging geopolitical reconfigurations involved in such structures as NAFTA and the EU and they examine how transnational resources are handled in the North American and EU contexts Randall Baker has assembled leading experts who examine significant issues for policymakers and environmentalists in North America and Western Europe The Regional Dimension of the European Union Charlie Jeffery, 2015-03-24 Decision making within the EU has moved to a third regional level of government emerging in the EU policy process alongside the first Union and second member state levels Multi level governance can increasingly be identified These papers describe and analyse this third level

Documents in European Community Environmental Law Philippe Sands, Richard Tarasofsky, 1995 Policy Integration for Complex Environmental Problems Helen Briassoulis, 2017-07-05 This book proposes a comprehensive conceptualization of policy integration and negotiates pertinent theoretical methodological and applied issues from the perspective of selected EU policies rural development regional development transport social economic environmental water resources and biodiversity policy

Environmental Disclosure Luigi Lepore, Sabrina Pisano, 2022-12-29 This book provides a description of the state of the art on environmental disclosure illustrating the key theoretical issues the regulatory frameworks and the main standards developed and reporting the results of an empirical analysis on the environmental disclosure released by listed firms Luigi Lepore and Sabrina Pisano begin by analysing the origin and evolution of environmental disclosure They go on to provide a description of the main theoretical frameworks used by scholars explaining the conceptual basis of each theory and describing how the specific theory has been used to explain the company's decision to release environmental disclosure The second part of the book highlights the role and evolution of the European regulatory frameworks emphasising the transition from voluntary to mandatory disclosure and the major standards and guidance developed The book ends by providing a picture of the evolution of sustainability reporting practices in European Union nations over the past two decades This book investigates the critical issues and new directions in environmental disclosure which are currently under examination by regulators and standard setters It will therefore be of great interest to academics and students working in the areas of business and sustainability

The European Environmental Conscience in EU Politics Thomas Hoerber, Gabriel Weber, 2021-12-06 Based on empirical studies of European energy and environmental policies this book suggests that in combination these two policy fields form a consensus in the EU which might also become the basis for a new European ideology namely European sustainability It asks why an environmental conscience has grown since the late 1960s in the industrialised world and shows that whilst there is undeniable environmental degradation during this time and that a European environmental conscience has mainly developed through successive steps of European integration in energy policy. In this connection between energy and the environment we find one driver for European integration and indeed European identity. If sustainability should become a European ideology it will substantially influence the way future Europeans will live. This book will be of key interest to scholars and students of European Studies, International Relations, Political Science, History, Economics, Sustainability Studies, Environmental and Energy Policies in Europe.

The Empirical and Institutional Dimensions of Smart Specialisation Philip McCann, Frank van Oort, John Goddard, 2016-11-25. Smart specialisation is the new policy approach to the development of regional innovation systems across Europe and it involves fostering innovative and entrepreneurial initiatives which are well tailored to the local context. The different technologies, skills, profiles, business activities, institutions and sectors which reflect a region's economic strengths and potential are to be fostered and encouraged to diversify in ways which also exploit the region's linkages with broader global value chains. Yet the ideas contained in the smart specialisation agenda have until now been primarily conceptual in nature. The Empirical and Institutional Dimensions of Smart Specialisation draws together some of the leading regional economists and scientists in Europe to analyse how smart specialisation is working in practice. This book investigates different dimensions of the agenda as it is developing across parts of Europe from both quantitative and qualitative perspectives. The quantitative analysis examines the nature of the diversification processes undertaken by regions and the interplay between the chosen local regional development priorities and the wider global value chain impacts of these choices. Meanwhile the qualitative analysis examines the institutional opportunities and challenges facing policy makers and the key elements most likely to provide the underpinnings of a workable set of policy settings. The book is aimed both at academic researchers interested in the interface between economic geography and regional innovation systems as well as at policy makers making public policy decisions related to regional development at the local, city, regional or national levels.

Carrying Capacity of China's Resources, Environment, Population, and Economy Dong Qiu, 2024-05-13. This book systematically examines the progression of carrying capacity research and its correlation with sustainable development, constructing a new framework of interactive theory and application methods within the context of sustainable development. Additionally, it links carrying capacity theory and methods with the unique challenges faced by China in achieving sustainable development. The book delves into the implementation of sustainable development strategies tailored to China's specific circumstances. In practical research, the book conducts comprehensive calculations and analyses of the carrying capacity of various regions in China from resource, environmental and economic perspectives. It employs various analytical approaches to elucidate and investigate three key issues in China's current development landscape: regional functional planning, urban-rural coordinated development and the transformation of economic growth models. Nature and Agriculture in the European Union Floor Brouwer, Jan van der Straaten, 2002-01-01 Nature and agriculture both shape the European countryside and one of the main challenges for the years to come will be to strengthen their interaction for the future development of rural areas In this valuable and highly topical book the authors demonstrate how economics and ecology can play a critical role in maintaining and sustaining this relationship The book identifies the dilemmas facing European agriculture and explores their economic and ecological consequences The authors believe a better understanding of these problems will be crucial in recognising the potential options for the future role of agriculture and nature policy and will guide the identification of suitable policy instruments They highlight current threats to the relationship between agriculture and nature such as abandonment and intensification and demonstrate how these problems can be resolved by a rational policy mix The book also provides extensive empirical evidence from four case studies and concludes by scrutinising the major changes in market conditions and the Common Agricultural Policy which could upset this important but fragile balance between agriculture and nature Public Policy's Role in Achieving Sustainable Development Goals Hamdan, Mahani, Anshari, Muhammad, Ahmad, Norainie, Ali, Emil, 2023-08-18 In 2015 UN member states agreed to 17 global Sustainable Development Goals SDGs to end poverty protect the planet and ensure prosperity for all The academic community policymakers industry leaders and civil society must work together and share experiences on the implementation of SDGs Open discussion on lessons learned from the inclusive education policies the difficulties and obstacles developing economies face in implementing the SDGs and the affordability of the clean energy policies initiated by the SDGs will guide and inform better decision making for future implementations across the world Public Policy s Role in Achieving Sustainable Development Goals is authored by various esteemed researchers policymakers and academics from a multidisciplinary perspective and emphasizes quality research based studies that contribute to theory lessons learned best practices critical understanding and policy implications or formulation on the Sustainable Development Goals SDGs in any country It supports the acceleration required to implement the SDGs by mobilizing the academic community policymakers industry and civil society to discuss experiences focusing on the SDGs and their implementation in the context of public policy administration and governance deemed most important for world regions Thus the book will have a global discussion while addressing the SDGs in a way that considers each region s specificities It is designed for researchers from the social sciences arts and humanities sociology politics and the broader interdisciplinary fields of business and economics and also for policymakers corporations NGOs government bodies research centers think tanks and university libraries worldwide Strategic Planning for Regional Development in the UK , European Union: The Basics Alex Warleigh-Lack,2008 The European Union's Africa Policies Daniela Sicurelli,2016-12-05 The European Union EU is a key partner for African regional organizations and a major promoter of economic and political integration in the region Several studies have interpreted the EU s role in Africa as either a self interested hegemonic actor or as a value oriented normative power In this volume Daniela Sicurelli challenges these views by taking a closer look at Europe s policies towards Sub Saharan Africa in the area of peacekeeping trade and development and environmental protection Using fresh empirical evidence including interviews with both European and African officials she argues that the EU is far from becoming a unitary player in Africa Lacking a clear strategy and coherent normative framework the EU should be considered a multi level actor where national and supranational institutions have different interests and push forward contrasting views of what role Europe should play in Africa The ability of single institutions to frame an issue as requiring either intergovernmental or supranational procedures appears crucial for shaping the content of European Africa policies An original contribution to the growing literature on the EU as an international actor this book is extremely useful to scholars researchers and policy makers demanding critical work in the field of EU Africa policy Law and Language in the European Union Richard L. Creech,2005 The European Economic Community founded in 1957 consisted of six Member States with a combined total of four official languages By 2004 this organization had evolved into a European Union of twenty five Member States with more than twenty official languages among them This increase has presented numerous challenges to the EU s internal linguistic regime where formal policy has been with some notable exceptions to treat all of these languages equally Some of these languages English in particular have been more equal than others Languages that lack nation wide official status in any Member State such as Catalan and Welsh have been overtly denied equal treatment Furthermore the multilingual nature of the EU has had significant implications for any Member State that wishes to regulate the use of language within its territory as such regulation can interfere with the rights accorded to citizens of other Member States to participate in free commercial movement throughout the Union Law and Language in the European Union now in paperback examines how in the linguistic realm the EU has responded to the tensions that lie behind this paradoxical motto
