Quality of Life in Old Age Heidrun Mollenkopf,Alan Walker,2007-06-13 This book started its life during a symposium we organised on Quality of Life in Old Age at the Fifth Conference of the International Society for Quality of Life Studies ISQOLS in Frankfurt in July 2003 We are extremely grateful to Alex Michalos for sponsoring that session encouraging us to use the symposium presentations as the basis for a book and for his support during the commissioning and editing process We are also very grateful to the authors of this volume for the prompt delivery of their manuscripts and responses to our editorial comments Finally our special thanks to Marg Walker for her expert and efficient preparation of the manuscript for publication Heidrun Mollenkopf Alan Walker Heidelberg Sheffield ix

SECTION I
UNDERSTANDING QUALITY OF LIFE IN OLD AGE ALAN WALKER AND HEIDRUN MOLLENKOPF

1 INTERNATIONAL AND MULTIDISCIPLINARY PERSPECTIVES ON QUALITY OF LIFE IN OLD AGE

Conceptual issues Quality of life QoL is a multidimensional holistic construct assessed from many different perspectives and by many disciplines Moreover the concept of QoL can be applied to practically all important domains of life Thus QoL research has to include social environmental structural and health related aspects and be approached from an interdisciplinary perspective This holds even more when QoL in old age is the focus because ageing itself is a multidimensional process

Quality-of-Life Research in Chinese, Western and Global Contexts Daniel T.L. Shek,Ying Keung Chan,Paul S.N. Lee,2005-09-26 The majority of studies on the quality of life have been conducted in Western contexts and are based on Western participants Comparatively speaking there are only a few studies that have been conducted in different Chinese contexts Also there are fewer QOL studies based on children and adolescents or studies that examine the relationship between QOL and economic disadvantage In addition more research is needed to address the methodological issues related to the assessment of quality of life This volume is a constructive response to the challenges described above It is the first book to cover research in Chinese Western and global contexts in a single volume It is a ground breaking volume in which Chinese studies on the quality of life are collected The book includes papers addressing family QOL quality of life in adolescents experiencing economic disadvantage and methodological issues in the assessment of QOL It is written by researchers working in a variety of disciplines demonstrates how multiple approaches have been used to conceptualize measure and model the complex issue of quality of life QOL and individual well being emphasizing place and space as critical factors in a meaningful QOL experience among diverse populations including special attention given to older adults      The Quality of Life: Systems Approaches G.E. Lasker, 2014-05-20 Applied Systems and Cybernetics covers the proceedings of the International Congress on Applied Systems Research and Cybernetics The book presents several studies that cover the application of systems research and cybernetics in improving the quality of life Majority of the materials in the text tackle various aspects of quality of life in relation to systems and cybernetics such as living space future prospects work education politics law ethics and values culture and ethnicity and social systems The selection also presents articles that cover the elemental properties of quality of life such as the concept views indicators and dimension The book will be of great interest to any scientists regardless of disciplines since it covers the main purpose of science the improvement of quality of life      Handbook of Environmental Psychology and Quality of Life Research Ghazlane Fleury-Bahi, Enric Pol, Oscar Navarro, 2016-08-12 This Handbook presents a broad overview of the current research carried out in environmental psychology which puts into perspective quality of life and relationships with living spaces and shows how this original analytical framework can be used to understand different environmental and societal issues Adopting an original approach this Handbook focuses on the links with other specialties in psychology especially social and health psychology together with other disciplines such as geography architecture sociology anthropology urbanism and engineering Faced with the problems of society which involve the quality of life of individuals and communities it is fundamental to consider the relationships an individual has with his different living spaces This issue of the links between quality of life and environment is becoming increasingly significant with at a local level problems resulting from different types of annoyances such as pollution and noise while at a global level there is the central question of climate change with its harmful consequences for humans and the planet How can the impact on well being of environmental nuisances and threats for example natural risks pollution and noise be reduced How can the quality of life within daily living spaces home cities work environments be improved Why is it important to understand the psychological issues of our relationship with the global environment climatic warming ecological behaviours This Handbook is intended not only for students of various disciplines geography architecture psychology town planning etc but also for social decision makers and players who will find in it both theoretical and methodological perspectives so that psychological and environmental dimensions can be better taken into account in their working practices      The Psychology of Quality of Life M. Joseph Sirgy, 2012-06-20 The second edition will be an update and further elaboration of the literature related to subjective well being happiness and life satisfaction It will have a new substantial section that focuses on reviewing much of the literature of subjective well being within specific life domains social life material life leisure life work life community life spiritual life family life health life sex life travel life etc In the 1st edition the research in these various life domains was discussed only briefly The second edition will maintain the same organizational structure of the first edition that is Part 1 will focus on introduction definitions and distinctions examples of measures of subjective well being happiness and life satisfaction and motives underlying subjective well being Part 2 will focus on psychological strategies that are allow people to optimize subjective well being by engaging in psychological processes related to the relationship between and among life domains e g social life family life love life spiritual life community life financial life etc This part will contain four chapters related to these various inter domain processes bottom up spillover top down spillover horizontal spillover and compensation Part 3 of the book will focus on intra domain psychological strategies designed to optimize subjective well being These include re evaluation based on personal history re evaluation based on self concept re evaluation based on social comparison goal selection goal implementation and attainment and re appraisal Part 4 of the book will focus on balance processes how people attempt to create balance in their lives using psychological processes within specific life domains intra domain strategies and processes that relate one domain to another inter domain strategies

Quality of Life in Academia: New Perspectives for Assessing and Promoting Wellbeing in University Population Barbara Loera, Andreina Bruno, Sara Viotti, Imke Hindrichs, Lara Bertola, 2025-01-21 Over the last 20 years changes in higher education have stimulated research on academic working life Indeed the application of a market oriented system and new public management policies in higher education have increased the emphasis on internationalization accountability and management of academic work These changes have increased the complexity of the academic work profile which is characterized by teaching research and institutional demands including public engagement to strengthen the interaction between university industry and society The COVID 19 pandemic introduced far reaching challenges that have further increased the psychosocial work demands Universities continue to face continuous and rapid changes that have led to increased levels of work related stress for both teaching and research academic staff TRAS and technical and administrative staff TAS This scenario has also had a negative impact on the academic life and well being of university students

Sustainability in the Built Environment in the 21st Century: Lessons Learned from India and the Region Usha Iyer-Raniga, 2021-04-16 This book follows on previous works addressing sustainable development research in the Asia Pacific region It mainly focuses on India a country currently facing immense challenges in the form of climate change rapid urbanisation and population pressures in its journey to help achieve the Sustainable Development Goals Expecting to surpass China in terms of population in the near future India needs to develop its own solutions in order to uphold its commitments under the Paris Agreement This book makes a contribution in that direction by presenting case studies on various aspects of the built environment from education to managing cities procurement and considerations for a circular economy The papers gathered here offer a vital resource for government policymakers educators and current and future professionals equipping them with the knowledge and expertise they need in order to overcome today s complex challenges in the built environment

Choosing Our Environment United States.

Congress. Senate. Committee on Public Works. Panel on Environmental Science and Technology, 1976      Himalayan Quality of Life Benjamin L. Saitluanga, 2017-04-18 The book is a study of intra urban inequality in quality of life QOL in Aizawl city The main objectives of the study include analysis of processes and patterns of social differentiation along the three dimensional space of Aizawl city as well as analysis of spatial inequality in QOL at the lowest administrative structure of the city An investigation into spatial pattern of residential differentiation was done at both horizontal and vertical spaces Spatial variation in well being of residents of Aizawl city and the quality of their immediate environment was also studied by taking both objective and subjective indicators The study employed a number of descriptive inferential and multivariate statistical techniques including correlation factor analysis principal component analysis cluster analysis and spatial autocorrelation methods like Moran's I and Local Indicators of Spatial Association LISA Mapping techniques and graphical methods like Choropleth map histogram and line graph were also used With the help of factor analysis the social space of Aizawl city was found to be differentiated along socio economic status family status household size status workers status and ethnic status The most important factor determining residential differentiation was socio economic status Choropleth map of factor scores reveals that the inner city localities were dominated by high socio economic class while poorer people dominated the peripheries Non local ethnic minorities were few but concentrated in some adjoining peripheral localities as well as in inner city localities which have been inhabited by their ancestors since the colonial period Vertical pattern of residential differentiation was also analyzed by taking income variable as a proxy of socio economic status Multi storey buildings in Aizawl city were co inhabited by both richer people and poorer people The richer people were found at the top floors while the poorer people occupied the basement floors Normally the owners of the buildings were found at the top floors while the basement floors were dominated by the renters Spatial variation in QOL was measured with the help of principal component analysis as a weighting technique by taking variables pertaining to both objective and subjective QOL dimensions The values of composite QOL index showed that the central localities have scored better than their peripheral counterparts Correlation analysis of the relationship between objective indicators and subjective indicators provided a low positive value indicating the absence of relationship between the two dimensions of quality of life Spatial autocorrelation analysis was also performed to see the pattern of clustering of spatially weighted QOL variables across Local Councils With the help of Global Moran's I spatial clusters and spatial outliers were observed for objective dimension of QOL within the study area The value of Moran's I was found to be insignificant for subjective QOL dimension indicating the absence of significant pattern of clustering The study also identified 7 social areas of Aizawl city on the basis of factor scores and composite scores of QOL variables calculated for all Local Councils The identification of clusters was taken out with the help of hierarchical clustering method of cluster analysis These clusters were labeled appropriate names and their characteristics were described in detail The thesis concluded with recommendation of designating these social areas as social development planning zones for obtaining inclusive development      Handbook of Addiction, Recovery and Quality of Life Maria Florence, Wouter Vanderplasschen, Mansoo Yu, Jessica De Maeyer, Shazly Savahl, 2025-01-25 This handbook brings together research and innovation across two important and related fields quality of life QoL and addiction recovery Though both fields of research are equally vibrant this volume brings together the advancing scholarly exploration of the intersection between QoL and addiction recovery It provides comprehensive coverage of the theoretical perspectives on QoL in the field of addiction and recovery instruments and methodologies to assess QoL different types of addiction in specific populations and QoL and practices and interventions for supporting recovery and promoting QoL It importantly includes international and intercultural perspectives on QoL and addiction recovery By including sound theoretical conceptual historical empirical and cross cultural contributions on QoL and addictions the volume offers many opportunities for advancing support treatment and recovery of persons with addiction problems based on their subjective perspectives and experiences This handbook is a go to resource for a wide interdisciplinary readership interested in quality of life research subjective well being public health and addiction research      Soundscape and the Built Environment Jian Kang, Brigitte Schulte-Fortkamp, 2018-10-09

Soundscape Basics and Practical Implications Soundscape research represents a paradigm shift as it involves human and social sciences and physical measurements to account for the diversity of soundscapes across countries and cultures Moreover it treats environmental sounds as a resource rather than a waste Soundscape and the Built Environment is the first book to systematically discuss soundscape in the built environment It begins with a presentation of theory and basic background answering questions such as what is soundscape how is it important and how does it affect people in terms of their health and perception on the acoustic environment The book then sets out tools for implementing a soundscape approach with measurement techniques mapping and good soundscape practices It also delivers a series of examples of the application of the soundscape approach in planning design and assessment Discusses soundscape and environmental noise Explores cultural variations and the way they influence soundscape Introduces binaural measurement technology and psychoacoustics Examines the physical psychological and physiological restorative mechanism of high quality acoustic environments Presents soundscape mapping based on human perception of sound sources Includes real world examples and case studies highlighting the key issues in soundscape intervention Soundscape and the Built Environment is written by a group of leading international figures and derives from a four year EU COST project on Soundscapes of European Cities and Landscapes It presents a consensus on the current state of the art and is not merely a collection of different views It is written for acoustic consultants urban planners designers and policy makers as well as for graduate students and researchers      Choosing Our Environment, Can We Anticipate the Future? United States. involving engagement with curricula and often entails coping with the onslaught of assessments and examinations This process creates a level of intensity that impacts on the student experience in higher education It is therefore important to consider not only the motivational aspects of learning but also quality of life issues as they have profound effects on students Quality of life affects the way students interact with their formal education and has wide reaching effects on future careers and their ability to coordinate everyday events Integrating these two concepts student motivation and quality of life brings together the explicit elements that underpin learning in the higher education context creating links between the affective and social aspects of the student life This synthesis is integral to improving student retention and quality of life and has important ramifications for educationalists administrators pastoral care and academic support service personnel and students themselves Some highlights of the book include Applied Positive Psychology in Higher Education Internationalisation and Quality of Life A Taiwanese Perspective The Computer Assisted Learning for the Mind CALM Website Teaching Skills to Increase Resilience The Oxford University Peer Support Programme Addressing the Wellbeing of Students Higher Education and Student Stress Reclaiming Light Liberty and Learning Improving academic quality of life through attribution and motivation focused counselling

Safety Management in a Competitive Business Environment Juraj Sinay, 2014-03-24 Although often taken for granted safety doesn't just happen It requires a deep understanding of the principles of safety culture that then must be applied in all of your actions Safety Management in a Competitive Business Environment discusses the meaning of the culture of safety in all areas of industrial manufacturing focusing on risk management preventative measures It explores the new and emerging risks and underlines the significance of effective education methods as prerequisites for acquiring appropriate risk management skills The book provides an integrated and systematic point of view on the field of occupational health and safety management safety of machines and machinery and certain complex technologies It touches on civil safety as a part of safety culture in the sense of national culture an area that is now becoming very topical The author details the risk assessment methods available and the many factors that come into play such as deterioration due to ageing construction issues and workplace noise to name just a few He also covers the importance of education for risk management professionals of all levels and the integration of safety related to industrial technology and civil security into comprehensive safety and security The culture of safety provides space for adopting principles leading to risk minimization or in some areas risk elimination It creates a legal basis for obligatory application of risk management methods adjusted to particular work environment technology and machinery This book demonstrates how risk management systems form component parts of comprehensive managerial systems especially in integration with quality management systems It gives you the tools necessary for systematic management of traditional and emerging risks in the man machine environment system especially in industrial technologies

Studies in Environment Maury Seldin, 1973 International Development Governance Ahmed Shafiquel Huque, Habib Zafarullah, 2017-09-25 The establishment of good governance is a major challenge for the developing world along with the need to sustain the progress resulting from developmental efforts. Although there are numerous studies on the development and governance of emerging nations few volumes make a serious effort to bring together these two critical concepts. International Development Governance combines the two concepts development and governance by examining the issues and problems faced by nations in their attempts to establish sustainable governance. This textbook also initiates discussions on the concept of development governance in an international context. The book fills the gap in existing literature by drawing upon the experience and expertise of scholars from a broad spectrum of knowledge. Their views explain the issues and problems with reference to a number of tools that could establish development governance and sustain it. The text offers in depth examinations of developmental sectors resulting in a textbook that will inspire future public officials policy makers and consultants to contribute to the betterment of life for citizens of developing countries.

The Impact of New Technologies on the Quality of Life of People with Disabilities Theo Bougie, 2002-01-01. This report analyses the impact of new technologies on the quality of life of people with disabilities including consumer technology and of course assistive technology. It takes into account the different types of disability covering not only physical and sensorial impairments but also intellectual disabilities mental illnesses and restrictions in social participation due to personal or environmental factors. The study gives examples of good practice and indicates the strengths weaknesses opportunities and threats of new technologies for enhancing the quality of life of disabled people. Proposals are made for such enhancement through legislation service delivery design standardisation and market development.
