Environmental Assessment Of Trade Agreements And Policy Temanord:

Environmental Assessment of Trade Agreements and Policy Ole Kristian Fauchald, Mads Greaker, 1998 This work provides strategies for integrating environmental concerns into the negotiating process when multilateral trade and investment agreements are being negotiated It also addresses unresolved questions about establishing a procedure for introducing these concerns into negotiations

Assessing the Environmental Effects of Trade Liberalisation Agreements

Methodologies OECD, 2000-02-11 This conference proceedings examines how to assess the environmental effects of trade liberalisation agreements

The International Law on Ballast Water Maria Helena Fonseca de Souza Rolim, 2008-06-19 The introduction of invasive marine species into new environments whether by ships ballast water attached to ships hulls or via other means has been identified as one of the four main threats to the world's oceans along with land based sources of marine pollution over exploitation of living marine resources and the physical alteration or destruction of marine habitat Increased trade and the consequent greater volumes of maritime traffic over the last few decades have served to fuel the problem The effects in many areas of the world have been serious and significant Quantitative data show that the rate of bio invasions is continuing to increase in some cases exponentially and new areas are being found to be invaded all the time As volumes of seaborne trade continue overall to increase the problem may not yet have reached its peak In response IMO first adopted Guidelines for Preventing the Introduction of Unwanted Organisms and Pathogens from Ships Ballast Water and Sediment Discharges in 1991 while the United Nations Conference on Environment and Development UNCED held in Rio de Janeiro in 1992 recognized the issue as a major international concern The IMO Guidelines have since been kept constantly under review and updated Subsequently in February 2004 the International Convention for the Control and Management of Ships Ballast Water and Sediments was adopted In providing a broad overview of the legal aspects related to marine pollution caused by ballast water and tank sediments this book offers a pragmatic analysis of the current international legal system and includes principles of international customary law and also references to a comprehensive environmental treaty law framework which relates the Ballast Water Convention to other treaties such as the United Nations Convention on the Law of the Sea UNCLOS MARPOL and the Convention on Biological Diversity With such a wide ranging approach this book will certainly provide a source of valuable information for all those with a requirement to pursue the subject in depth From the Foreword by Efthimios E Mitropoulos

No Globalization Without Representation Paul Adler, 2021-05-28 With razor sharp clarity and a well paced narrative Paul Adler has written a riveting history of political conflicts over multinational corporations and economic liberalization The book contains many memorable stories of political conflicts from the halls of the World Health Organization in Geneva to street protests in Seattle Deeply researched and eminently readable the book enriches our understanding of globalization and some of its fiercest critics In the late twentieth century as large corporations crossed borders and gained new powers a network of activists arose to beat them back In this fresh lively book Paul Adler tells how those global justice advocates developed tools and ideas to confront globalization at times with startling success Book jacket      Publications issued Norway. Statistisk sentralbyrå,1998      A Positive Agenda for Developing Countries United Nations Conference on Trade and Development,2000 This handbook presents a collection of technical papers prepared as background papers in the framework of regional and Ad Hoc meetings held by Member States in parallel with the preparatory process of the Third World Trade Organization WTO Ministerial Conference The compilation of papers include the positive agenda and the Seattle Conference elements of a positive agenda special and differential treatment in the context of globalisation the post Uruguay Round tariff environment for developing country exports the interest of developing countries in the next round of WTO agricultural negotiations trade related investment measures technical transfer in the WTO agreements and electronic commerce WTO and developing countries      The Effectiveness of Multilateral Environmental Agreements Nordic Council Of Ministers Staff,1997      Annual Report Norway. Barry,2019-09-18 Originally published in 2000 The Arctic provides a comprehensive overview of the region s rapidly changing physical and human dimensions and demonstrates the importance of communication between natural scientists social scientists and local stakeholders in response to the tremendous challenges and opportunities facing the Arctic It is an essential resource for all Arctic researchers particularly those developing multidisciplinary projects It provides an overview of key areas of Arctic research by renowned specialists in the field and each chapter forms a detailed varied and accessible account of current knowledge Each author introduces the subject to a specialist readership while retaining intellectual integrity and relevance for specialists Overall the richness of the material presented in this volume reflects the ecological and cultural diversity of this vast and environmentally critical part of the globe      □□□□□□□□□□□□□□□□ □□□□,2000-11 21

Arctic Mark Nuttall,Terry Callaghan,2000-12-21 By demonstrating the importance of communication among social scientists scientists in the natural sciences and stakeholders living in the Arctic this book provides a comprehensive overview of the region s rapidly changing physical and human dimensions In response to the tremendous challenges and opportunities facing the Arctic it is an essential resource for all Arctic researchers and those developing multidisciplinary projects Representing a state of the art overview of key areas of Arctic research by renowned specialists in the field each chapter forms a detailed varied and accessible account of current knowledge Each author introduces the subject to a non specialist readership while retaining intellectual integrity and relevance for specialists Overall the richness of the material presented in this volume reflects the ecological and cultural diversity of this vast and environmentally critical part of the globe      The Institutional Economics of Market-Based Climate Policy E. Woerdman,2004-08-10 The objective of this book is to analyze the institutional barriers to implementing market based climate policy as well as to provide some opportunities to overcome them

The approach is that of institutional economics with special emphasis on political transaction costs and path dependence. Instead of rejecting the neoclassical approach this book uses it where fruitful and shows when and why it is necessary to employ a new or neo institutionalist approach. The result is that equity is considered next to efficiency that the evolution and possible lock in of both formal and informal climate institutions are studied and that attention is paid to the politics and law of economic instruments for climate policy including some new empirical analyses. The research topics of this book include the set up costs of a permit trading system, the risk that credit trading becomes locked in the potential legal problem of grandfathering in terms of actional subsidies under WTO law or state aid under EC law and the changing attitudes of various European officials towards restricting the use of the Kyoto Mechanisms.

Inequality and Uneven Development in the Post-Crisis World Sebastiano Fadda, Pasquale Tridico, 2017-07-14 In the years following the financial crash two issues have become central to the debate in economics: inequality and the uneven nature of sustainable development. These two issues are at the core of this book which aims to explain three key questions: why inequality has increased so much in the last three decades; why most advanced economies are stagnating or are experiencing moderate economic growth; and why even where economic growth is occurring the quality of that growth is questioned. Inequality and Uneven Development in the Post Crisis World is divided into three parts. The first part concerns the theoretical aspects of inequality and ethical issues regarding economics and equality. The second part explores empirical evidence and policy suggestions drawing on the uneven levels of development and unprecedented levels of inequality experienced among advanced economies in the context of global financial capitalism. The third part focuses on sustainable development issues such as full employment, social costs of global trade liberalization, environmental sustainability and ecological issues. Along with inequality these issues are central for capitalism and for economic development. This volume is of interest to those who study political economy, sustainable development and social inequality.

Assessment and Review under a 2015 Climate Change Agreement Harro van Asselt, Håkon Sælen, Pieter Pauw, 2015-03-24 In 2013 Parties to the UNFCCC were invited to prepare and communicate their Intended Nationally Determined Contributions (INDCs) under a 2015 agreement. Assessment and review of INDCs can help to ensure that these contributions are in line with internationally agreed objectives and principles, help establish and enhance transparency, trust and accountability between Parties and raise ambition over time. This report analyses the existing review processes both under and outside the UNFCCC. It suggests that some form of ex ante assessment and review process of INDCs could help ensure that they are ambitious and fair. Such process can be complemented by assessments by observer organizations and informal discussions among Parties. In addition a periodic review of collective ambition is desirable from the perspective of environmental effectiveness and can build on existing review processes.

Workshop on Mercury - Needs for Further International Environmental Agreements, 2005 This report is the outcome of a workshop arranged to support the development of the EU strategy on mercury based on the Council decision in December 2002 and to support international conventions aimed at reducing emissions environmental contamination and human exposure to mercury
