Environmental Culture The Ecological Crisis Of Reason:

Environmental Culture Val Plumwood,2002 A much needed account of what has gone wrong in our thinking about the environment Val Plumwood argues that we need to see nature as an end itself rather than an instrument to get what we want

Nature Ethics Marti Kheel,2008 In Nature Ethics An Ecofeminist Perspective Marti Kheel explores the underlying worldview of nature ethics offering an alternative ecofeminist approach Seeking to heal the divisions between the seemingly disparate movements and philosophies of feminism animal advocacy environmental ethics and holistic health Kheel proposes an ecofeminist philosophy that underscores the importance of empathy and care for individual beings as well as larger

wholes The Good Life and the Greater Good in a Global Context Laura Savu Walker,2015-11-19 The Good Life and the Greater Good in a Global Context offers a timely contribution to the debates about the good life that surround us every day in the media politics the humanities and social sciences The authors examine the relationship between the good life and the greater good as represented across different genres media cultures and disciplines This enables them to develop a framework of values that transcends the overly rational and individualistic model of the good life advanced by neoliberalism and the happiness industry Thus over and against normative conceptualizations of the good life that reduce meaning to money creativity to consumption and compassion to self help the contributors propose an ethically charged philosophy of living that views the care for the self for the other and for the planet as the catalysts of true human flourishing In addition to recovering the original usage of the good life from classical thought especially the Aristotelian understanding of eudaimonia as living well and doing well the essays gathered here highlight its entanglement with distinctly modern ideas of happiness wellbeing flourishing progress revolution democracy the American Dream utopia and sustainability As such the essays capture the breadth and depth of the conversation about the good life that is of central importance to how we relate to the past engage the present and envision the future Ecofeminism and Systems Thinking Anne Stephens,2013-07-18 This book brings together two vitally important strands of 20th century thinking to establish a set of simple and elegant principles for planning project design and evaluation It explains the backgrounds of cultural ecofeminism and critical systems thinking and what we find when they are systematically compared Both theories share a range of concepts have a strong social justice ethic and challenge the legacy of modernity The book takes theory into practice The value of the emergent principles of feminist systems thinking are described and demonstrated through four chapters of case studies in community development settings The principles can be used to influence project design and outcomes across a range of disciplines including project management policy health education and community development This book has much to offer practitioners who seek to create more socially just and equitable project and research outcomes The Ethics of Earth Art Amanda

Boetzkes,2013-11-30 Since its inception in the 1960s the earth art movement has sought to make visible the elusive presence of nature Though most often associated with monumental land based sculptures earth art encompasses a wide range of media from sculpture body art performances and installations to photographic interventions public protest art and community projects In The Ethics of Earth Art Amanda Boetzkes analyzes the development of the earth art movement arguing that such diverse artists as Robert Smithson Ana Mendieta James Turrell Jackie Brookner Olafur Eliasson Basia Irland and Ichi Ikeda are connected through their elucidation of the earth as a domain of ethical concern Boetzkes contends that in basing their works relationship to the natural world on receptivity rather than representation earth artists take an ethical stance that counters both the instrumental view that seeks to master nature and the Romantic view that posits a return to a mythical state of unencumbered continuity with nature By incorporating receptive surfaces into their work film footage of glaring sunlight an aperture in a chamber that opens to the sky or a porous armature on which vegetation grows earth artists articulate the dilemma of representation that nature presents Revealing the fundamental difference between the human world and the earth Boetzkes shows that earth art mediates the sensations of nature while allowing nature itself to remain irreducible to human signification

Reshaping the University Rauna Kuokkanen, 2011-11-01 In the past few decades the narrow intellectual foundations of the university have come under serious scrutiny Previously marginalized groups have called for improved access to the institution and full inclusion in the curriculum Reshaping the University is a timely thorough and original interrogation of academic practices It moves beyond current analyses of cultural conflicts and discrimination in academic institutions to provide an indigenous postcolonial critique of the modern university Rauna Kuokkanen argues that attempts by universities to be inclusive are unsuccessful because they do not embrace indigenous worldviews Programs established to act as bridges between mainstream and indigenous cultures ignore their ontological and epistemic differences and while offering support and assistance place the responsibility of adapting wholly on the student Indigenous students and staff are expected to leave behind their cultural perspectives and epistemes in order to adopt Western values Reshaping the University advocates a radical shift in the approach to cultural conflicts within the academy and proposes a new logic grounded in principles central to indigenous philosophies

The Agrarian Vision Paul B. Thompson, 2010-07-07 As industry and technology proliferate in modern society sustainability has jumped to the forefront of contemporary political and environmental discussions The balance between progress and the earth's ability to provide for its inhabitants grows increasingly precarious as we attempt to achieve sustainable development In The Agrarian Vision Sustainability and Environmental Ethics Paul B. Thompson articulates a new agrarian philosophy emphasizing the vital role of agrarianism in modern agricultural practices Thompson a highly regarded voice in environmental philosophy unites concepts of agrarian philosophy political theory and environmental ethics to illustrate the importance of creating and maintaining environmentally conscious communities Thompson describes the evolution of agrarian values in America following the path blazed by Thomas Jefferson John Steinbeck and Wendell Berry Providing a pragmatic approach to ecological responsibility and commitment The Agrarian Vision is a significant compelling argument for the practice of a reconfigured and expanded agrarianism in our efforts to support modern industrialized culture while also preserving the natural world Multiple Knowledges. Learning from/with Other Beings Joanna Godlewicz-Adamiec, Paweł Piszczatowski, Justyna Włodarczyk, Piotr Kociumbas, 2022-04-11 This issue of Transpositiones showcases a range of interdisciplinary and critical approaches to classic and alternative conceptions of cognition and sources of knowledge The articles reflect on the many types of sensory and extrasensory knowledge available to non human beings and wonder whether and in what ways can we as humans perceive conceptualize and respect these knowledges The authors highlight how the existence of multiple knowledges questions species boundaries and onto and epistemological perspectives in the process of learning not only about other beings but also from and along with them This selection of texts attempts to contribute to overcoming the anthropocentric perception of subjectivity and to the abandoning of an optics based on the dualisms of nature and culture spirit and matter subject and object animate and inanimate nature physis and techne etc which are so firmly entrenched in the Western intellectual tradition The Storyworld Accord Erin James, 2015 Storyworlds mental models of context and environment within which characters function is a concept used to describe what happens in narrative Narratologists agree that the concept of storyworlds best captures the ecology of narrative interpretation by allowing a fuller appreciation of the organization of both space and time by recognizing reading as a process that encourages readers to compare the world of a text to other possible worlds and by highlighting the power of narrative to immerse readers in new and unfamiliar environments Focusing on the work of writers from Trinidad and Nigeria such as Sam Selvon and Ben Okri The Storyworld Accord investigates and compares the storyworlds of nonrealist and postmodern postcolonial texts to show how such narratives grapple with the often collapsed concerns of subjectivity representation and environment bringing together these narratological and ecocritical concerns via a mode that Erin James calls econarratology Arguing that postcolonial ecocriticism like ecocritical studies has tended to neglect imaginative representations of the environment in postcolonial literatures James suggests that readings of storyworlds in postcolonial texts helps narrative theorists and ecocritics better consider the ways in which culture ideologies and social and environmental issues are articulated in narrative forms and structures while also helping postcolonial scholars more fully consider the environment alongside issues of political subjectivity and sovereignty The SAGE Handbook of Action Research Hilary Bradbury, 2015-06-19 The third edition of The SAGE Handbook of Action Research presents an updated version of the bestselling text including new chapters covering emerging areas in healthcare social work education and international development as well as an expanded skills section which includes new consultant relevant materials Building on the strength of the previous landmark editions Hilary Bradbury has carefully developed this edition to ensure it follows in their footsteps by mapping the current state of the discipline as well as looking to the future of the field and exploring the issues at the cutting edge of the action research paradigm today This volume is an essential resource for scholars and professionals engaged in social and political inquiry healthcare international development new media organizational research and education Design, Ecology, Politics Joanna Boehnert, 2018-02-08 Design Ecology Politics links social and ecological theory to design theory and practice critiquing the ways in which the design industry perpetuates unsustainable development Boehnert argues that when design does engage with issues of sustainability this engagement remains shallow due to the narrow basis of analysis in design education and theory The situation is made more severe by design cultures which claim to be apolitical Where design education fails to recognise the historical roots of unsustainable practice it reproduces old errors New ecologically informed design methods and tools hold promise only when incorporated into a larger project of political change Design Ecology Politics describes how ecological literacy challenges many central assumptions in design theory and practice By bringing design ecology and socio political theory together Boehnert describes how power is constructed reproduced and obfuscated by design in ways which often cause environmental harms She uses case studies to illustrate how communication design functions to either conceal or reveal the ecological and social impacts of current modes of production The transformative potential of design is dependent on deep reaching analysis of the problems design attempts to address Ecologically literate and critically engaged design is a practice primed to facilitate the creation of viable sustainable and just futures With this approach designers can make sustainability not only possible but attractive

Australian Fiction as Archival Salvage Frances A. Johnson, 2015-11-16 Australian Fiction as Archival Salvage examines key developments in the field of the Australian postcolonial historical novel from 1989 to the present In parallel with this analysis A Frances Johnson undertakes a unique study of in kind creativity reflecting on how her own nascent historical fiction has been critically and imaginatively shaped and inspired by seminal experiments in the genre by writers as diverse as Kate Grenville Mudrooroo Kim Scott Peter Carey Richard Flanagan and Rohan Wilson Mapping the postcolonial novel against the impact of postcolonial cultural theory and Australian writers intermittent embrace of literary postmodernism this survey is also read against the post millennial history and culture wars which saw politicizations of national debates around history and fierce contestation over the ways stories of Australian pasts have been written

New Directions in Ecofeminist Literary Criticism Andrea Campbell, 2009-03-26 As ecofeminism continues to gain attention from multiple academic discourses the field of literary criticism has been especially affected by this philosophy social movement Scholars using ecofeminist literary criticism are making new and important arguments concerning literature across the spectrum and issues of environment race class gender sexuality and other forms of oppression The essays in New Directions in Ecofeminist Literary Criticism highlight the intersections of these oppressions through the works of different authors including Barbara Kingsolver Ruth Ozeki Linda Hogan and Flora Nwapa and demonstrate the expansion of ecofeminist literary criticism to a more global scale as well as important connections with the field of environmental justice This collection offers fresh insight and expands the important discussion surrounding the field of ecofeminism and literature

Contesting Extinctions Ilaria Tabusso Marcyan, Suzanne M. McCullagh, Luis I. Prádanos, Catherine Wagner, 2021-11-08

Contesting Extinctions Decolonial and Regenerative Futures critically interrogates the discursive framing of extinctions and how they relate to the systems that bring about biocultural loss The chapters in this multidisciplinary volume examine approaches to ecological and social extinction and resurgence from a variety of fields including environmental studies literary studies political science and philosophy Grounding their scholarship in decolonial Indigenous and counter hegemonic frameworks the contributors advocate for shifting the discursive focus from ruin to regeneration Decolonizing Nature

William Adams, Martin Mulligan, 2012-04-27 British imperialism was almost unparalleled in its historical and geographical reach leaving a legacy of entrenched social transformation in nations and cultures in every part of the globe Colonial annexation and government were based on an all encompassing system that integrated and controlled political economic social and ethnic relations and required a similar annexation and control of natural resources and nature itself Colonial ideologies were expressed not only in the progressive exploitation of nature but also in the emerging discourses of conservation At the start of the 21st century the conservation of nature is of undiminished importance in post colonial societies yet the legacy of colonial thinking endures What should conservation look like today and what indeed whose ideas should it be based upon Decolonizing Nature explores the influence of the colonial legacy on contemporary conservation and on ideas about the relationships between people politics and nature in countries and cultures that were once part of the British Empire It locates the historical development of the theory and practice of conservation at both the periphery and the centre firmly within the context of this legacy and considers its significance today It highlights the present and future challenges to conservationists of contemporary global neo colonialism The contributors to this volume include both academics and conservation practitioners They provide wide ranging and insightful perspectives on the need for and practical ways to achieve new forms of informed ethical engagement between people and nature Participatory

Research in More-than-Human Worlds Michelle Bastian, Owain Jones, Niamh Moore, Emma Roe, 2016-12-01 Socio environmental crises are currently transforming the conditions for life on this planet from climate change to resource depletion biodiversity loss and long term pollutants The vast scale of these changes affecting land sea and air have prompted calls for the ecologicalisation of knowledge This book adopts a much needed more than human framework to grasp these complexities and challenges It contains multidisciplinary insights and diverse methodological approaches to question how to revise reshape and invent methods in order to work with non humans in participatory ways The book offers a framework for thinking critically about the promises and potentialities of participation from within a more than human paradigm and opens up trajectories for its future development It will be of interest to those working in the environmental humanities animal studies science and technology studies ecology and anthropology The Handbook of International Trends in Environmental Communication Bruno Takahashi, Julia Metag, Jagadish Thaker, Suzannah Evans Comfort, 2021-12-27 This handbook provides a comprehensive review of communication around rising global environmental challenges and public action to manage them now and into the future Bringing together theoretical methodological and practical chapters this book presents a unique opportunity for environmental communication scholars to critically reflect on the past examine present trends and start envisioning exciting new methodologies theories and areas of research Chapters feature authors from a wide range of countries to critically review the genesis and evolution of environmental communication research and thus analyze current issues in the field from a truly international perspective incorporating diverse epistemological perspectives exciting new methodologies and interdisciplinary theoretical frameworks The handbook seeks to challenge existing dominant perspectives of environmental communication from and about populations in the Global South and disenfranchised populations in the Global North The Handbook of International Trends in Environmental Communication is ideal for scholars and advanced students of communication sustainability strategic communication media environmental studies and politics

The Antipodean Philosopher Graham Oppy,N. N. Trakakis,Lynda Burns,Steven Gardner,Fiona Leigh,2011-02-22

Philosophy in both Australia and New Zealand has been experiencing for some time now something of a golden age exercising an influence in the global arena that is disproportionate to the population of the two countries To capture the distinctive and internationally recognised contributions Australasian philosophers have made to their discipline a series of public talks by leading Australasian philosophers was convened at various literary events and festivals across Australia and New Zealand from 2006 to 2009 These engaging and often entertaining talks attracted large audiences and covered diverse themes ranging from local histories of philosophy in particular the fortunes of philosophy in Melbourne Sydney Brisbane Adelaide and New Zealand to discussions of specific topics including love free will religion ecology feminism and civilisation especially as these have featured in the Australasian philosophy and to examinations of the intellectual state of universities in Australasia at the beginning of the twenty first century These talks are now collected here for the first time to provide not only students and scholars but also the wider community with a deeper appreciation of the philosophical heritage of Australia and New Zealand The Antipodean Philosopher Graham Robert Oppy,Graham Oppy,Nick Trakakis,2011-01-01 This volume presents an accessible and engaging collection of essays by prominent Australasian philosophers covering a wide array of topics and drawn from a series of public lectures on Philosophy in Australia and Zealand convened over a period of four years The essays explore the rich philosophical past of Australasia while also illustrating why philosophy in Australasia ranks highly in influence and esteem Ecofeminism in Dialogue Douglas A. Vakoch,Sam Mickey,2017-12-21 There are countless ways of thinking feeling and acting like an ecofeminist Ecofeminism includes a plurality of perspectives thriving in dialogue between diverse theories and practices involving ecological and feminist matters of concern Deepening the dialogue the contributors in this anthology explore critical and complementary interactions between ecofeminism and other areas of inquiry including ecocriticism postcolonialism geography environmental law religion geoengineering systems thinking family therapy and more This volume aims to further the cultural and literary theories of ecofeminism by situating them in conversation with other interpretations and analyses of intersections between environment gender and culture This anthology is a unique combination of contemporary interdisciplinary and global perspectives in dialogue with ecofeminism supporting academic and activist efforts to resist oppression and domination and cultivate care and justice
