Abstract

Comparative research of the entrepreneurial University VS innovator and students who have studied a curriculum that promotes entrepreneurship and those who did not. Hypothesis 1, the student who receives entrepreneurial training has more developed innovative and entrepreneurial skills. Hypothesis 2, there is no difference between one student and another. In order to identify the profile of the entrepreneurial and innovative University, the Ranking 2018 was used as well as an Instrument Barometer INCODE (innovation competences development) to determine the  $E_2$  of the students, which is a learning program of the European Union. The results showed the importance of fostering the innovative ability of the student, curricular and extracurricular, since this is a cross-cutting skill that all professionals require to undertake any project or strategy with an emphasis on entrepreneurship and innovation demanded by the environment and the entrepreneurial University in all contexts.
