Romano, 1976 The Detroit Educational Bulletin , 1923 First Episodes Stephen R. Waterhouse, 2022-11-21 Originally published in 1991 First Episodes Pupil Careers in the Early Years of School is based on a four year longitudinal study of pupils from two different catchment areas from the first days of their entry to primary school Using qualitative methodologies of depth interviewing and naturalistic observation it attempts to examine the social construction of pupil careers in the dynamics of classroom life Particular attention has been given to the longitudinal and continuing process in the formation of pupils over the first four years of schooling especially in looking at the moment by moment processes of formulation as episode follows episode in the rapid flow of classroom life It is suggested that teachers operate fundamental distinctions between normal and abnormal pupils and in the ongoing processes of classroom life a distinction between the episodic and the trans episodic in their constructions of reality Central to the analysis has been the notions of relativity in the placement of boundaries in interpersonal relations It is suggested that the casting of pupils within the framework of role i e Other role is a central process at both episodic and trans episodic levels The book recommends a move away from the more usual notion of rule transgression and its related societal reactions so prominent in the literature on deviance It is suggested that it is the role rather than the rule which is critical to the perception of deviation and the formulation of pupils in early schooling In looking for temporal processes of emergence it is suggested that there is continuing tension between the episodic and the trans episodic in teachers formulation of children It seems the construction of present reality as having continuity or discontinuity with previous realities is critical Serving Educational Equity Sonya Murray-Darden, Gwendolyn Y.
