Entrepreneurship Technological Innovation And Economic Growth Studies In The Schumpeterian Tradition:

Entrepreneurship, Technological Innovation, and Economic Growth Frederic M. Scherer, Mark Perlman, 1992 Papers presented at the third biennial meeting of the International J A Schumpeter Society Entrepreneurship, the New Economy and Public Policy Uwe Cantner, Elias Dinopoulos, Robert F. Lanzillotti, 2005-12-12 Silicon Valley is the most salient example of high tech industrial clusters Public policymakers throughout the world would like to learn the secrets of Silicon Valley in order to build their own high tech economies The existing literature on industrial clusters which traces back to Marshall 1920 focuses on the way in which firms benefit from locating in a cluster it suggests that once a cluster comes into existence it tends to reinforce itself by attracting more firms However a more important question is how to reach this critical mass in the first place In contrast to the literature evidence suggests that entrepreneurs rarely move when they establish high tech start ups Cooper and Folta 2000 This contradicts the notion that location choice analyses lead entrepreneurs to a high tech cluster A high tech industrial cluster such as Silicon Valley is characterized by concentrated entrepreneurship Following Schumpeter we emphasize the fact that the appearance of one or a few entrepreneurs facilitates the appearance of others Schumpeter 1934 We propose an agent based computational model to show how high tech industrial clusters could emerge in a landscape in which no firms existed originally The model is essentially a spatial version of the Nelson Winter model Boundedly rational agents are scattered over an explicitly defined landscape Each agent is endowed with some technology which determines his firm's productivity if he has one During each period of time an agent with no firm would make a decision as to whether he wants to start one This decision is mostly affected by the behavior of his social contacts who are all his neighbors European Entrepreneurship in the Globalizing Economy Alain Fayolle, Kiril Todorov, 2011 What role can entrepreneurship play in a European economy that is more and more open to the rest of the world In this European Union construction what is the place of the nation states and economies that have only recently converted to a free market economy It is these questions among others that the book explores and discusses in particular The future steps in required developing European entrepreneurship in a dynamic and international context are also analyzed and synthesized The expert contributors reveal both the macro and micro factors that influence European entrepreneurial development with an emphasis on high tech firms The particular topics addressed include SME research and innovation policy issues starting and growing a new venture innovation marketing and entrepreneurial networks entrepreneurship and regional cross border development building competitive advantage of SMEs and social and cultural aspects of entrepreneurship Behavioral Norms, Technological Progress, and Economic Dynamics Ernst Helmstädter, Mark Perlman, 1996 Schumpeter was interested in dynamic economics rather than the economics of stagnation in the economics of the creation of wealth rather than the economics of the redistribution of wealth in the economics of technological innovation rather than the economics of industrial management The major thrust of the volume then concerns studies of industrial change with emphasis both on analysis of the impact of innovation and on the interrelatedness of industries viewed through the process of innovation      Evolutionary and Neo-Schumpeterian Approaches to Economics Lars Magnusson, 2007-11-23 not gentle to the capitalists Schumpeter 1991 Thus by instead portraying the conflict between entrepreneurial activity and the sociology of the modern state he came quite close to the analysis carried out by Thorstein Veblen some decades earlier who emphasized the conflict between progressive technology and the institutions of a contemporary predatory dynastic State of early modern times superficially altered by a suffusion of democratic and parliamentary institutions Veblen 1964 p 398 Modern neo Schumpeterian approaches have continued to build on this groundwork provided by their master During recent years there has been a great upsurge of discussion on technology innovations technological regimes etc from the dynamic perspective provided by Schumpeter Dosi 1984 Rosegger 1985 Dosi et al 1988 Thus the search process for temporal extra profits has been stressed and has been used for modelling attempts The wider institutional framework for technological change and innovation activity has also been strongly developed more recently Hence emphasis has grown in the study of technological and industrial regimes path dependency and the network approach developed recently that social relationships structure the opportunities and constraints that face firms and agents that for example carry out innovations Snehota 1990      The Business of Systems Integration Andrea Prencipe, Andrew Davies, Michael Hobday, 2005-04-14 Over the past decade or so systems integration has become a key factor in the operations strategy and competitive advantage of major corporations in a wide variety of sectors e.g. computing automotive telecommunications military systems and aerospace Systems integration is a strategic task that pervades business management not only at the technical level but also at the management and strategic levels This book shows how and why this new kind of systems integration has evolved into an emerging model of industrial organization whereby firms and groups of firms join together different types of knowledge skill and activity as well as hardware software and human resources to produce new products for the marketplace This book is the first to systematically explore systems integration from a business and innovation perspective Contributors delve deeply into the nature dimensions and dynamics of the new systems integration deploying research and analytical techniques from a wide variety of disciplines including the theory of the firm the history of technology industrial organization regional studies strategic management and innovation studies This wealth of research capability provides deep insights into the new model of systems integration and supports this with an abundance of empirical evidence The book is organized in three main parts The first part focuses on the history of systems integration Contributors trace the early history of systems integration using different industrial examples The second part presents theoretical and analytical aspects of systems integration Contributions concentrate on the regulatory and cognitive features of systems integration the relationships between systems integration and regional competitive advantage and the way in which systems integration supports the competitive advantage of firms The third part takes industry and firm level approaches Contributions focus on different sectors and highlight the specificity of systems integration in various industrial domains stressing its importance for systems integration in the case of complex capital goods such as aircraft and telecommunications equipment as well as consumer goods such as personal computers and automobiles

Prophet of Innovation Thomas K. McCraw, 2010-03-30 Schumpeter made his mark as the prophet of incessant change Drawing on all of Schumpeter's writings including many intimate diaries and letters never before used this biography paints the full portrait of a magnetic figure who aspired to become the world's greatest economist lover and horseman and admitted to failure only with the horses

Antitrust Law Journal, 1986

Visible Costs and Invisible Benefits Gunnar Eliasson, 2017-11-16 This book examines the historic role of professional and demanding military customers in industrial development Particular emphasis is paid to public procurement of military equipment as a catalyst for innovation and the civilian commercialization of military technologies from gunpowder and cannons to submarines missiles and aircraft is documented by many case illustrations that show how macro level productivity advance has been generated A complementary volume to Advancing Public Procurement as Industrial Policy 2010 which focused on the spillover effects of the Swedish combat aircraft Gripen in this book Gunnar Eliasson widens the perspective to cover product development across the Swedish defense industry with an emphasis on regional economic development and macro economics inter alia through the involvement of Saab aircraft and Kockums submarines in partnership ventures in Australia Norway and Brazil The volume is organized into four parts Part one examines the historical transformation of the Swedish economy over the past three centuries from agriculture and raw materials to an advanced industrial economy Part two presents detailed case studies to illustrate the spillover effects of procurement projects and military industrial partnerships Part three explains the spillover phenomenon theoretically within a dynamic micro to macro economic perspective Particular emphasis is placed on the empirical credibility of model based economy wide and dynamic cost benefit calculations The book concludes with a section on fostering industrial development through public procurement The result is a book that will appeal to economists in the industrial economics and management fields to technical marketing and purchasing executives in business and to policy makers in public procurement concerned with innovation and long run industrial development

Consuming People Nikhilesh Dholakia, A. Fuat Firat, 2003-12-16 This revealing book provides an incisive treatment of consumption on a global scale from a cultural philosophical and business perspective It is an original and radical analysis structured in a multi disciplinary and progressive way

Technological Systems and Industrial Dynamics B. Carlsson, 2013-12-01 This volume constitutes a summary of several years multi disciplinary research by a group of Swedish researchers The project Sweden's Technological Systems and Future Development Potential was initiated by the Swedish National Board for Industrial and Technical Development NUTEK and has been carried out at the Department of Industrial Management and Economics at Chalmers University of Technology in Gothenburg the Research Policy Institute at the University of Lund the Industrial Institute for Economic and Social Research IUI in Stockholm and the Department of Industrial Economics and Management at the Royal Institute of Technology

Stockholm under the direction of Bo Carlsson Case Western Reserve University Cleveland Ohio The project group decided early on to focus first on the technological system for factory automation a relatively mature system of great importance to Swedish industry and in which Sweden has reached a leading position internationally and then to shift the attention to other systems in various stages of development and with varying Swedish strength The work on factory automation resulted in numerous papers and publications summarized in a volume published in 1995 Technological Systems and Economic Performance The Case of Factory Automation ed Bo Carlsson Dordrecht Competition, Efficiency, and Welfare Dennis C. Mueller, Alfred Haid, Jürgen Weigand, 2012-12-06 Competition Efficiency and Welfare contains a collection of papers in honor of Manfred Neumann This collection was prepared as a tribute to a teacher and scholar whose accomplishments have enriched various fields of economics The magnitude of his interests is reflected in the breadth of topics covered in this volume industrial economics competition policy and related topics However if one unifying principle runs through Manfred Neumann's work it is the belief in the power of competition Born on May 16 1933 Manfred Neumann studied economics at the University of Cologne He graduated in 1960 In 1969 Manfred Neumann was appointed Professor of Economics at Nürnberg University He was Dean of the Faculty of Economics and Social Sciences of the University of Erlangen Nürnberg President of the European Association for Research in Industrial Economics EARIE and Chairman of Industrial Organization Study Group of the Verein für Sozialpolitik Most of his professional career has been spent at Nürnberg where he has helped to make the Economic Institute one of the leading research centers in Industrial Organization He has also been involved in various advisory activities The volume contains 18 essays The first twelve are grouped into four categories Innovation and R D Part I Cartels Part II Mergers and Merger Policy Part III and Methodological Issues in Industrial Organization Part IV These papers fall within the bounds of industrial economics which has been Manfred Neumann's primary research interest throughout his career Part V includes two papers on theories of international trade which has been a recurring topic of interest for Manfred Neumann through the years The last three papers look at broader policy and macroeconomic issues Contributors to this volume include Karl Aiginger David B Audretsch Paul A Geroski Stephen Martin and Dennis Mueller

The Associative Economy Franco Archibugi, 2000-03-08 Are Welfare States in crisis Forty years after Gunnar Myrdal's seminal Beyond the Welfare State it is still little grasped in the reform debate that the whole structure and economies of our societies are being transformed This book reasserts the importance of a new employment and productive model that of the associative economy which integrates social solidarity with economic planning EU Competition Law and the Information and Communication Technology Network Industries Andrej Fatur, 2012-03-08 Competition policies have long been based on a scholarly tradition focused on static models and static analysis of industrial organisation However recent developments in industrial organisation literature have led to significant advances moving beyond traditional static models and a preoccupation with price competition to consider the organisation of industries in a dynamic context This is especially important in the field of information and communication technology ICT network industries where competition centres on network effects innovation and intellectual property rights and where the key driver of consumer benefit is technological progress Consequently when an antitrust intervention is contemplated a number of considerations that arise out of the specific nature of the ICT sector have to be taken into account to ensure improved consumer welfare This book considers the adequacy of existing EU competition policy in the area of the ICT industries in the light of the findings of modern economic theory Particular attention is given to the implications of these dynamic markets for the competitive assessment and treatment of the most common competitive harms in this area such as non price predatory practices tying and bundling co operative standard setting platform joint ventures and co operative R D
