Environment and Solid Wastes Chester Wayne Francis, Stanley I. Auerbach, 1983      Environment and Solid Wastes Chester W. Francis, Stanley I. Auerbach, Vivian A. Jacobs, U.S. National Laboratory, Oak Ridge, Tenn, Electric Power Research Institute, 1983      Measuring and Improving Infrastructure Performance National Research Council, Division on Engineering and Physical Sciences, Commission on Engineering and Technical Systems, Committee on Measuring and Improving Infrastructure Performance, 1995-01-01 The nation's physical infrastructure facilitates movement of people and goods provides safe water provides energy when and where needed removes wastes enables rapid communications and generally supports our economy and quality of life Developing a framework for guiding attempts at measuring the performance of infrastructure systems and grappling with the concept of defining good performance are the major themes of this book Focusing on urban regions within a context of national policy the volume provides the basis for further in depth analysis and application at the local regional state and national levels      ERDA Energy Research Abstracts , 1985      Selected Water Resources Abstracts , 1987-12      Energy Research Abstracts , 1989      Environmental Engineers' Handbook, Second Edition David H.F. Liu, Bela G. Liptak, 1997-08-29 Protecting the global environment is a single minded goal for all of us Environmental engineers take this goal to task meeting the needs of society with technical innovations Revised expanded and fully updated to meet the needs of today's engineer working in industry or the public sector the Environmental Engineers Handbook Second Edition is a single source of current information It covers in depth the interrelated factors and principles that affect our environment and how we have dealt with them in the past are dealing with them today and how we will deal with them in the future This stellar reference addresses the ongoing global transition in cleaning up the remains of abandoned technology the prevention of pollution created by existing technology and the design of future zero emission technology B la G Liptak speaks on Post Oil Energy Technology on the AT T Tech Channel      Contamination of Groundwaters Domy C. Adriano, 2020-11-25 International experts have contributed key chapters to this major work on groundwater contamination Section 1 Methodology and Modeling deals with both organic and inorganic contaminants including those from agricultural operations Section 2 Case Studies presents contamination scenarios with both inorganic and organic chemicals including agriculturally related constituents such as the nitrates This important new publication is a welcome addition to the literature and will enhance recent information on methodology modeling and real world situations It is of interest to scientists and planners in local and national government environmental chemists geochemists geologists and health and safety officers river authorities hydrologists and the mining and land reclamation industries      The Office of Environmental Management Technical Reports , 1997      Toxicological Profile for Benzidine , 1989      Waste Management and the Environment X J. Casares, H. Itoh, M. Lega, 2020-08-25 Waste Management is one of the key problems of modern society due to the ever expanding volume and complexity of discarded domestic and industrial waste Society is increasingly

aware of the need to establish better practices and safer solutions for waste disposal This requires further investigation into disposal methods and recycling as well as new technologies to monitor landfills industrial mining wastes and chemical and nuclear repositories This creates a need for more research on current disposal methods such as landfills incineration chemical and effluent treatment as well as recycling clean technologies waste monitoring public and corporate awareness and general education Unfortunately many of the policies adopted in the past were aimed at short term solutions without due regard to the long term implications on health and the environment leading in many cases to the need to take difficult and expensive remedial action The desired direction of Waste Management is towards sustainable strategies The approach which has emerged as the most promising has been called 4Rs where reduction reuse recycling and recovery are seen as the best actions This largely decreases the volume of waste that needs final disposal Recovery refers to the establishment of two new classifications those of Secondary Raw Materials SRM and of Refuse Derived Fuel RDF They both relate to useful products obtained from waste and make a shift from the mere recycle or reuse mostly seen as a way to reduce dumping to the valuable employment of such matter within the production cycle Another aspect of this revolution is happening subtly and gradually by people buying waste particularly eWaste and some types of plastic the so called technical waste This is happening due to the strong demand and high price of certain new materials and the possibility of sorting out waste in developing regions of the world As a result a market in Secondary Raw Materials SRM has developed Covering various areas under the topic of Waste management this volume contains a selection of papers presented at the 10th International Conference on Waste Management and the Environment
