Transport Processes in Nature Hardback with CD-ROM William A. Reiners, Kenneth L. Driese, 2004-07-08 A conceptual framework for the study and understanding of the propagation of ecological influences in nature Southern African Landscapes and Environmental Change Peter J. Holmes, John Boardman, 2018-07-04 This volume provides a textbook and reference work on the physical and biotic landscapes of Southern Africa It examines the links between these environments and the ways in which they have been and will likely be subject to change It covers the geomorphology soils vegetation and land use across a range of landscapes including mountains coasts savannah drylands and wetlands and identifies the impacts of current and potential climate change and other factors on these environments The geographical focus is on the region defined by Namibia South Africa Botswana Mozambique Zimbabwe Lesotho and Swaziland Illustrated throughout in full colour the book will serve as a reference volume for researchers and environmental professionals internationally as well as a textbook for senior undergraduate and graduate level students of geography ecology and environmental studies in Southern Africa Interpreting Environments Robert Mugerauer, 2014-10-14 In this pioneering book Robert Mugerauer seeks to make deconstruction and hermeneutics accessible to people in the environmental disciplines including architecture planning urban studies environmental studies and cultural geography Mugerauer demonstrates each methodology through a case study The first study uses the traditional approach to recover the meaning of Jung's and Wittgenstein's houses by analyzing their historical intentional contexts The second case study utilizes deconstruction to explore Egyptian French neoclassical and postmodern attempts to use pyramids to constitute a sense of lasting presence And the third case study employs hermeneutics to reveal how the American understanding of the natural landscape has evolved from religious to secular to ecological since the nineteenth century The Geology of Scotland, 5th edition (hardback) Martin Smith, Rob Strachan, 2024-07-25 Although a small country Scotland's geology is complex internationally renowned and offers an accessible outdoor research laboratory and training ground for earth science The onshore and offshore geology together encompass examples of all Earth's geological periods and preserve many classic examples of sedimentary basins and orogenic belts Palaeontological findings have provided key evidence for the evolution of life With a wide spectrum of contributors full colour figures and photographs and for each chapter a Topic Box highlighting key research developments and challenges this 5th edition of The Geology of Scotland represents a major update and expansion from the 4th edition A revised Introduction summarizes the geological evolution of Scotland the nature of the crust and the societal relevance of geology to climate change and sustainability The final three chapters provide a modern view on energy water and minerals environmental concerns and geoconservation The intervening chapters cover the geological periods including much new geochronological data and exciting new palaeontological discoveries Design & Environment, 1976 Environmental Health Perspectives, 1993 Silicon Valley and the Environmental Inequalities of High-Tech Urbanism Jason A.

Heppler,2024-04-23 In the half century after World War II California's Santa Clara Valley transformed from a rolling landscape of fields and orchards into the nation's most consequential high tech industrial corridor How Santa Clara Valley became Silicon Valley and came to embody both the triumphs and the failures of a new vision of the American West is the question Jason A Heppler explores in this book A revealing look at the significance of nature in social cultural and economic conceptions of place the book is also a case study on the origins of American environmentalism and debates about urban and suburban sustainability Between 1950 and 1990 business and community leaders pursued a new vision of the landscape stretching from Palo Alto to San Jose a vision that melded the bucolic naturalism of orchards pleasant weather and green spaces with the metropolitan promise of modern industry government funded research and technology Heppler describes the success of a new clean future facing economy coupled with a pleasant green environment in drawing people to Silicon Valley And in this overwhelming success he also locates the rapidly emerging faults created by competing ideas about forming these idyllic communities specifically widespread environmental degradation and increasing social stratification Cities organized around high tech industries suburban growth and urban expansion were as Heppler shows crucibles for empowering elites worsening human health and spreading pollution What do nature and place mean and who gets to define these terms Key to Heppler's work is the idea that these questions reflect and determine what and who matters in any conversation about the environment Silicon Valley and the Environmental Inequalities of High Tech Urbanism vividly traces that idea through the linked histories of Silicon Valley and environmentalism in the West

Study Skills for Geography, Earth and Environmental Science Students Pauline E Kneale,2013-08-15 There are moments in everyone's degree when you are expected to do something unfamiliar and daunting present a seminar go on a fieldtrip create a wiki page lead a lab team and how to do it or what to expect is unclear Studying at university requires a different approach from studying at school and this book explains

this transition Packed with practical hints study tips short cuts real life examples and careers advice this book will prove invaluable throughout your geography earth science or environmental science degree Designed for all geography earth science and environmental science students this book provides guidance on time management and effective research constructing essays and creating arguments giving presentations confidently undertaking fieldwork and laboratory work avoiding plagiarism and citing references correctly using e technologies such as blogs and your university s VLE online assessment and peer feedback This guide also explains the role of the academic and how it differs from that of a school teacher and prepares you for the world of work by showing how the skills you learn at university today can be used in your career choice of tomorrow

Conceptual Landscapes Simon M. Bussiere, 2023-05-15 Conceptual Landscapes explores the dilemma faced in the early moments of design thinking through a gradient of work in landscape and environmental design media by both emerging and well established designers and educators of landscape architecture It questions where and more importantly how the process of design starts The book deconstructs the steps of conceptualizing design in order to reignite pedagogical discussions about timing and design fundamentals and to reveal how the spark of an idea happens from a range of unique perspectives Through a careful arrangement of visual essays that integrate analog digital and mixed media works and processes the book highlights differences between diverse techniques and triggers debate between design representation technology and creative culture in the field Taken together the book s visual investigation of the conceptual design process serves as a learning tool for aspiring designers and seasoned professionals alike By situating student work alongside that of experienced teachers and landscape architects the book also demystifies outdated notions of individual genius and sheds new light on the nearly universally messy process of discovery bridged across years and diverse creative vocabularies in the conceptual design process Lavishly illustrated with over 210 full color images this book is a must read for students and instructors in landscape architecture

Creating Resilient Landscapes in an Era of Climate Change Amin Rastandeh, Meghann Jarchow, 2022-12-30 This book delivers a realistic and feasible framework for creating resilient landscapes in an era of anthropogenic climate change From across six continents this book presents fifteen case studies of differing sociocultural economic and biophysical backgrounds that showcase opportunities and limitations for creating resilient landscapes throughout the world The potential to create socio ecological resilience is examined across a wide range of landscapes including agricultural island forest coastal and urban landscapes across sixteen countries Argentina Australia Brazil Denmark Finland Greece Guatemala Japan Mexico Norway Samoa South Africa the United States Turkey Uruguay and Vanuatu Chapters discuss current and future issues around creating a sustainable food system conserving biodiversity and climate change adaptation and resilience with green infrastructure nature based architecture green tech and ecosystem services as just a few of the approaches discussed The book emphasizes solution oriented approaches for an ecological hope that can support landscape resiliency in this chaotic era and the chapters consider the importance of envisioning an unpredictable future with numerous uncertainties In this context the key focus is on how we all can tackle the intertwined impacts of climate change biodiversity loss and large scale land cover conversion in urban and non urban landscapes with particular attention to the concept of landscape resiliency The volume provides that much needed link between theory and practice to deliver forward thinking practical solutions This book will be of great interest to students researchers practitioners and policymakers who are interested in the complex relationship between landscapes climate change biodiversity loss and land based conversion at local national and global scales

Agricultural Sustainability and Environmental Change at Ancient Gordion John M. Marston, 2017-08-21 This book publishes the results of 220 botanical samples from the 1993 2002 Gordion excavations directed by Mary Voigt Together with Naomi Miller s 2010 volume Gordion Special Studies 5 this book completes the publication of botanical samples from Voigt s excavations The book aims to reconstruct agricultural decision making using archaeological and paleoenvironmental data from Gordion to describe environmental and agricultural changes at the site John M Marston argues that different political and economic systems implemented over time at Gordion resulted in patterns of agricultural decision making that were well adapted to the social setting of farmers in each period but that these practices had divergent environmental impacts with some regimes sponsoring sustainable agricultural practices and others leading to significant environmental change The implications of this book are twofold Gordion will now be one of the best published agricultural datasets from the entire Near East and thus serve as a valuable comparable dataset for regional synthesis of agricultural and environmental change and the methods the author developed to reconstruct agricultural change at Gordion serves as tools to engage questions about the relationship between social and environmental change at sites worldwide Other books address similar themes but none in the Near East address these themes in diachronic perspective such as we have at Gordion University Museum Monograph 145
