Valley of Heart's Delight Anne Marie Todd, 2022-10-25 This agricultural history explores the transformation of the Santa Clara Valley over the past one hundred years from America's largest fruit producing region into the technology capital of the world In the latter half of the twentieth century the region's focus shifted from fruits such as apricots and prunes to computers Both personal and public rhetoric reveals how a sense of place emerges and changes in an evolving agricultural community like the Santa Clara Valley Through extensive archival research and interviews Anne Marie Todd explores the concepts of place and placelessness

arguing that place is more than a physical location and that exploring a community's sense of place can help us to map how individuals experience their natural surroundings and their sense of responsibility towards the local environment Todd extends the concept of sense of place to describe Silicon Valley as a non place where weakened or disrupted attachment to place threatens the environment and community The story of the Santa Clara Valley is an American story of the development of agricultural lands and the transformation of rural regions

Greening the Academy Samuel Fassbinder, Anthony Nocella, Richard Kahn, 2012-12-30 This is the academic Age of the Neoliberal Arts Campuses as places characterized by democratic debate and controversy wide ranges of opinion typical of vibrant public spheres and service to the larger society are everywhere being creatively destroyed in order to accord with market and military models befitting the academic industrial complex While it has become increasingly clear that facilitating the sustainability movement is the great 21st century educational challenge at hand this book asserts that it is both a dangerous and criminal development today that sustainability in higher education has come to be defined by the complex friendly green campus initiatives of science technology engineering and management programs By contrast Greening the Academy Ecopedagogy Through the Liberal Arts takes the standpoints of those working for environmental and ecological justice in order to critique the unsustainable disciplinary limitations within the humanities and social sciences as well as provide tactical reconstructive openings toward an empowered liberal arts for sustainability Greening the Academy thus hopes to speak back with a collective demand that sustainability education be defined as a critical and moral vocation comprised of the diverse types of humanistic study that will benefit the well being of our emerging planetary community and its numerous common locales

Between Scientists & Citizens Jean Goodwin, 2012 This volume brings together selected papers from an interdisciplinary conference focused on effective and appropriate communication of science in the often heated controversies characteristic of contemporary democracies The forty essays represent cutting edge work from rhetorical and communication theorists studying the practices and norms of public discourse and science communication philosophers interested in the informal logic of everyday reasoning and in the theory of deliberative democracy and science studies scholars examining the intersections between the social worlds of scientists and citizens Topics include the theory and practice of public participation exercises involving experts and lay publics communication techniques for conveying uncertainty complexity and scale pseudocontroversy and manufactured doubt about science and the maintenance of trust between scientists and citizens

Beyond Straw Men Phaedra C. Pezzullo, 2023-08-22 Addressing plastics can feel overwhelming Guilt shame anger hurt fear dismissiveness and despair abound Beyond Straw Men moves beyond hot take or straw man fallacies by illustrating how affective counterpublics mobilized around plastics reveal broader stories about environmental justice and social change Inspired by on and offline organizing in the Global South and the Global South of the North Phaedra C Pezzullo engages public controversies and policies through analysis of hashtag activism campaign materials and podcast interviews with headline making advocates in Bangladesh Kenya the United States and Vietnam She argues that plastics have become an articulator of crisis and an entry point into the contested environmental politics of carbon heavy masculinity carceral policies planetary fatalism eco ableism greenwashing marine life endangerment pollution colonialism and waste imperialism Attuned to plastic attachments Beyond Straw Men illustrates how everyday people resist unsustainable patterns of the plastics industrial complex through imperfect but impactful networked cultures of care

Contemplating Maternity in an Era of Choice Sara Hayden, Lynn O'Brien Hallstein, 2010-06-14 Women who came of age in the late twentieth century were raised in the era of choice they grew up believing that reproductive decision making is a political right a responsibility of women living the successes of second wave feminism and under their control Contemplating Maternity in an Era of Choice Explorations into Discourses of Reproduction explores contemporary maternity both within and in light of these late twentieth century understandings Employing a variety of feminist communication approaches the volume's contributors discuss how discourses of choice shape and are shaped by women's identities and experiences as non mothers and how those same discourses affect and reflect private practices and public policies related to reproduction and motherhood Through this process the contributors illustrate a variety of ways of conducting feminist thinking research and practices within the communication discipline Major sub disciplines within communication studies are represented here including feminist organizational interpersonal rhetorical critical cultural and social movement studies Whereas many of the previous scholarly investigations into maternity highlight only one aspect or phase of motherhood Contemplating Maternity in an Era of Choice is unique because it investigates discourses of choice across the arc of maternity and as enacted through various non maternal subject positions

A Place for Dialogue Sharon McKenzie Stevens, 2007-05 In A Place for Dialogue Sharon McKenzie Stevens views the contradictions and collaborations involved in the management of public land in southern Arizona and by extension the entire arid West through the lens of political rhetoric Revealing the socioecological relationships among cattlemen and environmentalists as well as developers and recreationists she analyzes the ways that language shapes landscape by shaping decisions about land use Stevens focuses on the collaborative Sonoran Desert Conservation Plan initiated by Pima County Arizona the ubiquitous use of scientific argument to defend contradictory practices and the construction and negotiation of rancher environmentalist identities to illuminate both literally and metaphorically the dynamics of land use politics Drawing specifically upon extensive interviews with a diverse array of agents on all sides of the debate ranchers environmentalists scientists land managers government officials on historical narratives and on her own conflicting experiences as someone who grew up with those who work the western lands she demonstrates that it is possible to use differences to solve rather than to aggravate the entrenched problems that bridge land and language By integrating her richly textured case study of a fragile region with rhetorical approaches to narrative science based argument and collective identities Stevens makes a significant contribution to the fields of rhetoric land management and cultural studies
