A Procedural Framework for Transboundary Water Management in the Mekong River Basin Qi Gao, 2014-03-13 In A Procedural Framework for Transboundary Water Management in the Mekong River Basin Shared Mekong for a Common Future Qi Gao explores procedural implications of integrated water resources management and its application in the Mekong River Basin As a problem based study enlightening conclusions are made based on the increasingly polycentric nature of transboundary cooperation in the Mekong region The procedural requirements in the Mekong context both the ideal and practical scenarios are considered combined with selected case studies Qi Gao convincingly asserts the necessity to enhance decision making processes and suggests procedural legal mechanisms to institutionalize sustainability concepts in transboundary cooperation Competition and Structure Albert Breton,2000-06-05 The essays in this volume written by well known economists and other social scientists from North America Europe and in one case Australia share to an unusual degree a common concern with the competitive mechanisms that underlie collective decisions and with the way they are embedded in institutional settings This gives the book a unitary inspiration whose value is clear from the new understanding and insights its chapters provide on important theoretical and practical issues such as the social dimension and impact of trust the management of information in bureaucratic settings the role of political parties in constitutional evolution inter level rivalry and reassignments of powers in federal and unitary systems of government the impact of ethnicity and nationalism on federal institutions or arrangements and the response of governments and overarching institutions of globalization

Reducing Toxics Robert Gottlieb,2013-04-22 In Reducing Toxics leading experts address industry technology health and policy issues and explore the potential for pollution prevention at the industry and facility levels They consider both the regulatory and institutional settings of toxics reduction initiatives prescribe strategies for developing a prevention framework and apply these principles in analyzing industry case studies Among the topics considered are the evolution of and limits to current environmental policy incorporating prevention into production planning and decisionmaking do voluntary programs lead to industry greening or greenwashing case studies of the chemical aerosols radiator repair and electric vehicle industries opportunities for and barriers to pollution prevention Reducing Toxics offers an analytic framework for defining and understanding different approaches in the toxics area and describes the basis for a new policy and industrial decisionmaking construct The Country in the City Richard A. Walker,2009-11-23 Winner of the Western History Association s 2009 Hal K Rothman Award Finalist in the Western Writers of America Spur Award for the Western Nonfiction Contemporary category 2008 The San Francisco Bay Area is one of the world s most beautiful cities Despite a population of 7 million people it is more greensward than asphalt jungle more open space than hardscape A vast quilt of countryside is tucked into the folds of the metropolis stitched from fields farms and woodlands mines creeks and wetlands In The Country in the City Richard Walker tells the story of how the jigsaw geography of this greenbelt has been set into place The Bay Area s civic landscape has been fought over acre by acre an arduous process requiring popular mobilization political will and hard work Its most cherished environments Mount Tamalpais Napa Valley San Francisco Bay Point Reyes Mount Diablo the Pacific coast have engendered some of the fiercest environmental battles in the country and have made the region a leader in green ideas and organizations This book tells how the Bay Area got its green grove from the stirrings of conservation in the time of John Muir to origins of the recreational parks and coastal preserves in the early twentieth century from the fight to stop bay fill and control suburban growth after the Second World War to securing conservation easements and stopping toxic pollution in our times Here modern environmentalism first became a mass political movement in the 1960s with the sudden blooming of the Sierra Club and Save the Bay and it remains a global center of environmentalism to this day Green values have been a pillar of Bay Area life and politics for more than a century It is an environmentalism grounded in local places and personal concerns close to the heart of the city Yet this vision of what a city should be has always been informed by liberal even utopian ideas of nature planning government and democracy In the end green is one of the primary colors in the flag of the Left Coast where green enthusiasms like open space are built into the fabric of urban life Written in a lively and accessible style The Country in the City will be of interest to general readers and environmental activists At the same time it speaks to fundamental debates in environmental history urban planning and geography

The Redesigned Earth John T.

Tanacredi,2019-12-12 This book provides insight into the basic aspects of ecology that impact or are affected by engineering practices Ecological principals are described and discussed through the lens of the influences that built structures have on the Earth s biological geological and chemical systems The text goes on to elucidate the engineering influences that have or will influence the face of the Earth These influences redesign the Earth either by destroying natural systems and replacing them with highly subsidized systems or by attempting to restore highly disturbed or contaminated systems with the basic natural systems that were originally present
