The Archaeology of Mediterranean Landscapes: Environmental reconstruction in Mediterranean landscape archaeology, 1999

The Archaeology of Mediterranean Landscapes Kevin Walsh, 2014 This volume presents a comprehensive review of palaeoenvironmental evidence and its incorporation with landscape archaeology from across the Mediterranean A fundamental aim of this book is to bridge the intellectual and methodological gaps between those with a background in archaeology and ancient history and those who work in the palaeoenvironmental sciences The aim of this volume is twofold first to provide archaeologists and landscape historians with a comprehensive overview of recent palaeoenvironmental research across the Mediterranean and second to consider ways in which this type of research can be integrated with what might be considered mainstream or cultural archaeology This volume takes a thematic approach assessing the ways in which environmental evidence is employed in different landscape types from coastal zones via rivers and wetlands to islands and mountainous areas This volume also presents analyses of how people have interacted with soils and vegetation and revisits the key questions of human culpability in the creation of so called degraded landscapes in the Mediterranean It covers chronological periods from the Early Neolithic to the end of the Roman period

Blackland Prairies of the Gulf Coastal Plain Evan Peacock, Timothy Schauwecker, 2003-03-05 Taking a holistic approach this compilation gathers ecological historical and archaeological research written on the distinctive region of the US Southeast called the Gulf coast blackland prairie Ranging from the last glacial period to the present day the case studies provide a broad picture of how the area has changed through time and been modified by humans first with nomadic bands of Indians trailing the grazing animals and then by Euro American settlers who farmed the rich agricultural area Contemporary impacts include industrialization aquaculture population growth land reclamation and wildlife management

Alluvial Archaeology in Europe Andrew J. Howard, M.G. Macklin, D.G. Passmore, 2003-01-01 This book documents and assesses over ten years of research in the field bringing together expertise and knowledge from the disciplines of archaeology and geomorphology and highlighting important recent advances discoveries and new directions Reflecting the wide scope of current research in this area the book contains over twenty papers focusing on various aspects of alluvial archaeology from the methodology of dating prospecting excavating etc to previously under analysed geographical areas such as intertidal wetlands

Environmental Problems of the Greeks and Romans Johnson Donald Hughes, 2014-02-15 How did ancient societies change the environment and how do their actions continue to affect us today In this dramatically revised and expanded second edition of the work entitled Pan s Travail J Donald Hughes examines the environmental history of the classical period and argues that the decline of ancient civilizations resulted in part from their exploitation of the natural world Focusing on Greece and Rome as well as areas subject to their influences Hughes offers a detailed look at the impact of humans and their technologies on the ecology of the Mediterranean basin Evidence of deforestation in ancient Greece the remains of Roman aqueducts and mines and paintings on centuries old pottery that depict agricultural activities document ancient actions that resulted in detrimental consequences to the environment Hughes compares the ancient world s environmental problems to other persistent social problems and discusses attitudes toward nature expressed in Greek and Latin literature In addition to extensive revisions based on the latest research this new edition includes photographs from Hughes s worldwide excursions a new chapter on warfare and the environment and an updated bibliography

Landscapes as Cultural Heritage in the European Research María Ruiz del Árbol Moro, María Ruíz del Árbol, Almudena Orejas Saco del Valle, 2005 El objetivo

principal de la acción COST A27 es la identificación y evaluación de elementos y estructuras preindustriales en los paisajes europeos amenazados por el abandono de actividades mineras y agrarias tradicionales El coloquio sobre los paisajes como patrimonio cultural en la investigación europea constituye un primer punto de encuentro tanto para los investigadores implicados en la acción como para otros expertos externos Los textos recogidos en esta publicación muestran el creciente interés por el tema por la recuperación de los paisajes como una parte esencial del patrimonio cultural y por las nuevas vías para su puesta en valor promoción y gestión en el marco global de la planificación territorial

Ancient Economies, Modern Methodologies Peter Fibiger Bang, Mamoru Ikeguchi, Harmut G. Ziche, 2006 Ancient Economies Modern Methodologies is a collection of essays which focuses on the art of questioning it is about ideas and analytical experiment Ancient economic history has developed enormously since the publication of M I Finley's The Ancient Economy in 1973 Much new material has been brought to bear on the debate on the character of economic life in the Greek and Roman world But at the same time discussions have been going round in circles This is because not enough attention has been given to the questions ancient historians ask and the concepts with which they approach the economy In this collection an attempt is made to renew the terms of the debate by presenting a wide variety of new analytical approaches to ancient economic history ranging from literary theory cross cultural comparison statistical analysis of archaeological data to neo institutional economics and model building

Environment and Society in Byzantium, 650-1150 Alexander Olson, 2020-11-16 This book illuminates Byzantines relationship with woodland between the seventh and twelfth centuries Using the oak and the olive as objects of study this work explores shifting economic strategies environmental change and the transformation of material culture throughout the middle Byzantine period Drawing from texts environmental data and archaeological surveys this book demonstrates that woodland's makeup was altered after Byzantium's seventh century metamorphosis and that people interacted in new ways with this reworked ecology Oak obtained prominence after late antiquity illustrating the shift from that earlier era's intensive agriculture to a more sylvan middle Byzantine economy Meanwhile the olive faded into the background re-emerging in the eleventh and twelfth centuries thanks to the initiative of people adapting yet again to newly changed political and economic circumstances This book therefore shows that Byzantines relationship with their ecology was far from static and that Byzantines decisions had environmental impacts

Methods in Ancient Wine Archaeology Emlyn Dodd, Dimitri Van Limbergen, 2024-02-08 Bringing together a wide array of modern scientific techniques and interdisciplinary approaches this book provides an accessible guide to the methods that form the current bedrock of research into Roman and more broadly ancient wine Chapters are arranged into thematic sections covering biomolecular archaeology and chemical analysis archaeobotany and palynology vineyard and landscape archaeology and computational and experimental archaeology These include discussions of some of the most recent techniques such as ancient DNA and organic residue analyses geophysical prospection multispectral imaging and spatial and climatic modelling While most of the content is of direct relevance to the Roman Mediterranean the assortment of detailed case studies methodological outlines and broader state of the field reflections is of equal use to researchers working across disparate disciplines geographies and chronologies The study of ancient Roman wine has been dominated until recently by traditional archaeological analyses focused upon production facilities and ceramic evidence related to transport While such architecture and artefact focussed approaches provide a fundamental foundation for our understanding of this topic they fail to provide the requisite nuance to answer other questions regarding grape cultivation and wine production consumption use and trade As the first compendium of its kind this book supports the embedding of modern scientific and experimental techniques into archaeological fieldwork research and laboratory analysis pushing the boundaries of what questions can be explored and serving as a launching point for future avenues of interdisciplinary research In the Footsteps of the Etruscans Graeme Barker, Tom

Rasmussen, 2023-10-12 In the Footsteps of the Etruscans describes the archaeology of the countryside within a ten km radius of the small town of Tuscania near Rome throwing light on the unrecorded lives of the generations of farmers and shepherds who have lived there What was the character of prehistoric settlement prior to Etruscan urbanization How did urbanization shape the lives of the ordinary Etruscans working the land hardly ever addressed in Etruscan archaeology What was the impact on these people of being absorbed into the expanding Roman empire and its globalised economic structures How did the empire's collapse and the subsequent emergence of the nucleated medieval village affect Tuscania's rural population The project's 7500 year archaeological history from the first farmers to those grappling with globalisation today contributes eloquently to our understanding of how Mediterranean peoples have constantly shaped their landscape and been shaped by it

Palaeohistoria 39,40 (1997-1998) University of Groningen, Netherlands The Biological-Archaeological Institute, 2000-01-01 This annual covers excavation reports and analytical studies on archaeology palaeobotany and archaeozoology Topics covered include the Allerød vegetation of southeastern Friesland Bronze Age metal and amber in the Netherlands the origins of plums and much more A Companion to the Archaeology of the Roman Republic Jane

DeRose Evans, 2013-03-29 A Companion to the Archaeology of the Roman Republic offers a diversity of perspectives to explore how differing approaches and methodologies can contribute to a greater understanding of the formation of the Roman Republic Brings together the experiences and ideas of archaeologists from around the world with multiple backgrounds and areas of interest Offers a vibrant exploration of the ways in which archaeological methods can be used to explore different elements of the Roman Republican period Demonstrates that the Republic was not formed in a vacuum but was influenced by non Latin speaking cultures from throughout the Mediterranean region Enables archaeological thinking in this area to be made accessible both to a more general audience and as a valuable addition to existing discourse Investigates the archaeology of the Roman Republican period with reference to material culture landscape technology identity and empire

Island Historical Ecology Peter E. Siegel, 2018-01-29 In the first book length treatise on historical ecology of the West Indies Island Historical Ecology addresses Caribbean island ecologies from the perspective of social and cultural interventions over approximately eight millennia of human occupations Environmental coring carried out in carefully selected wetlands allowed for the reconstruction of pre colonial and colonial landscapes on islands between Venezuela and Puerto Rico Comparisons with well documented patterns in the Mediterranean and Pacific islands place this case study into a larger context of island historical ecology
