Environmental Warfare A Technical Legal And Policy Appraisal:

Environmental Warfare Arthur H. Westing, 1984 This book provides a critical analysis of the Convention on the Prohibition of Military or any other Hostile Use of Environmental Modification Techniques Environmental Warfare Edward Keble Chatterton, 1940 Principles of International Environmental Law Philippe Sands, 2003-10-09 This second edition of Philippe Sand s leading textbook on international environmental law provides a clear and authoritative introduction to the subject revised to December 2002 It considers relevant new topics including the Kyoto Protocol genetically modified organisms oil pollution chemicals etc and will remain the most comprehensive account of the principles and rules relating to environmental protection and the conservation of natural resources In addition to the key material from the 1992 Rio Declaration and subsequent developments Sands also covers topics including the legal and institutional framework the field s historic development and standards for general application This will continue to be an invaluable resource for both students and practitioners alike Bulletin of the Atomic Scientists , 1985-09 Arthur H. Westing Arthur H. Westing, 2012-08-20 Since the 1960s the environment has become an issue of increasing public concern in North America and elsewhere Triggered by the Second Indochina War Vietnam Conflict of 1961 1975 and further encouraged by the International Conference on the Human Environment held in Stockholm in 1972 the environmental impact of war emerged and grew as a topic of research in the natural and the social sciences And in the late 1980s this led additionally to a focus and debate on environmental security Arthur Westing a forest ecologist was a major pioneer contributing and framing both of those debates conceptually theoretically and empirically starting with Harvest of Death Chemical Warfare in Vietnam and Cambodia 1972 co authored with wildlife biologist E W Pfeiffer and others As a Senior Researcher at the Stockholm and Oslo International Peace Research Institutes SIPRI and PRIO and as a Professor of Ecology at Windham and Hampshire Colleges Westing authored and edited books on Ecological Consequences of the Second Indochina War 1976 Weapons of Mass Destruction and the Environment 1977 Warfare in a Fragile World Military Impact on the Human Environment 1980 Herbicides in War the Long term Ecological and Human Consequences 1984 Environmental Warfare a Technical Legal and Policy Appraisal 1984 Explosive Remnants of War Mitigating the Environmental Effects 1985 Global Resources and International Conflict Environmental Factors in Strategic Policy and Action 1986 Cultural Norms War and the Environment 1988 Comprehensive Security for the Baltic an Environmental Approach 1989 and Environmental Hazards of War Releasing Dangerous Forces in an Industrialized World 1990 as well as authoring numerous UN reports book chapters and journal articles This volume combines six of his pioneering contributions on the environmental consequences of warfare in Viet Nam and in Kuwait on the environmental impact of nuclear war and on legal constraints and military guidelines for protecting the environment in wartime Conflict and the Environment N.P. Gleditsch, 2013-04-17 Nils Petter Gleditsch International Peace Research Institute Oslo PRIO Department of Sociology and Political Science Norwegian University of Science and Technology Trondheim This book could hardly have happened but for the end of the Cold War The decline of the East West conflict has opened up the arena for increased attention to other lines of conflict in Europe and at the global level Environmental disruption not a new phenomenon by any means is a chief beneficiary of the shift in priorities in the public debate The Scientific and Environmental Affairs Division of NATO has moved with the times and has defined environmental security as one of its priority areas for cooperation with Central and Eastern Europe and countries of the former Soviet Union This book is the main output of an Advanced Research Workshop ARW held in Bolkesjø, Norway 12-16 June 1996 I would like to acknowledge the personal support of L. Veiga da Cunha Director of the Priority Area on Environmental Security Research on these issues is now very much a collaborative effort across former lines of division in Europe NATO encourages indeed requires that this be reflected in the composition of the participants as well as the organizing committee This meeting was organized by a group of five people from five different countries Lothar Brock Germany Nils Petter Gleditsch Norway Thomas Homer Dixon Canada Renat Perelet Co-Director Russia and Evan Vlachos USA

East Asia Imperilled Alan Dupont, 2001-10-15 Security issues have traditionally been defined in military terms yet the post Cold War security landscape contains numerous non military challenges to security In this 2001 analysis Alan Dupont argues that an emerging new class of non military threats has the potential to destabilize East Asia and reverse decades of hard won economic and social development He shows that these transnational shifts must be grasped and dealt with by governments and non government organizations both regionally and internationally if conflict is to be avoided Transnational threats stem from overpopulation deforestation and pollution global warming unregulated population movements transnational crime virulent new strains of infectious diseases and other issues not previously associated with international security Collectively they represent a new agenda and pose novel challenges for foreign and defence policy This highly informative compelling and authoritative book is essential reading for East Asia specialists and makes a significant contribution to international security debates

The Law of Targeting William H. Boothby, 2012-08-16 Targeting is the primary method for securing strategic objectives in an armed conflict Failure to comply with the law of targeting jeopardizes the achievement of those aims It is therefore essential that all those involved in or studying issues surrounding targeting have an accurate and complete understanding of this area of law This book offers the definitive and comprehensive statement of all aspects of the law of targeting It is a one stop shop that answers all relevant questions in depth It has been written in an open accessible yet comprehensive style and addresses both matters of established law and issues of topical controversy The text explains the meanings of such terms as civilian combatant and military objective Chapters are devoted to the core targeting principles of distinction discrimination and proportionality as well as to the relationship between targeting and the protection of the environment and of objects and persons entitled to special protection New technologies are also covered with chapters looking at attacks using unmanned platforms and a discussion of the issues arising from cyber warfare The book also examines recent controversies and perceived ambiguities in the rules governing targeting including the use of human shields the level of care required in a bombing campaign and the difficulties involved in determining whether someone is directly participating in hostilities This book will be invaluable to all working in this contentious area of law The Air Force Law Review, 1990 Cultural

Norms, War and the Environment Arthur H. Westing, 1988 The present volume is an outgrowth of a select symposium convened by the Stockholm International Peace Research Institute SIPRI in co operation with the United Nations

Environmental Change and Security Alexander

Carius, Kurt M. Lietzmann, 2013-11-21 Does a connection exist between environmental degradation resource scarcity and violent conflicts Global environmental changes such as climate change and sea level rise shortage of fresh water and rapid soil degradation increasingly highlight the dimensions of environmental change in foreign and security policy To reverse these negative environmental consequences over the long term comprehensive and preventive policy approaches are urgently required This state of the art book contains numerous articles by renowned German speaking experts from different scientific disciplines as well as international and European political advisors and diplomats Together they discuss the complex causes of environmentally induced conflicts and the political and societal mechanisms for conflict prevention

Relevance of Environment Narottam Gaan, 2005 This book attempts at cosmic whole approach challenging the established international relation theories based upon a Newtonian and Cartesian world view from an ecological perspective The realist liberal critical and post modern theories have been critically examined in their materialist premises with much of the inputs from the ecological insight eastern philosophy and the new paradigm thinking in the field of science Routledge Handbook of Environmental Security Richard A. Matthew, Evgenia Nizkorodov, Crystal Murphy, 2021-12-21 The Routledge Handbook on Environmental Security provides a comprehensive accessible and sophisticated overview of the field of environmental security The volume outlines the defining theories major policy and programming interventions and applied research surrounding the relationship between the natural environment and human and national security Through the use of large scale research and ground level case analyses from across the globe it details how environmental factors affect human security and contribute to the onset and continuation of violent conflict It also examines the effects of violent conflict on the social and natural environment and the importance of environmental factors in conflict resolution and peacebuilding Organized around the conflict cycle the handbook is split into four thematic sections Section I Environmental factors contributing to conflict Section II The environment during conflict Section III The role of the environment in post conflict peacebuilding and Section IV Cross cutting themes and critical perspectives This handbook will be essential reading for students of environmental studies human security global governance development studies and international relations in general Environmental Rights Steve Vanderheiden, 2017-07-05 The essays selected for this volume present critical viewpoints from the debate about the need to establish rights on behalf of greater environmental protection Three main areas for developing environmental rights are surveyed including extensionist theories that link existing rights for example to subsistence or territory to threats of harm from exacerbated resource scarcity pollution or rapid environmental change proposals for rights to specified environmental goods or services such as rights to a safe environment and the capacity to assimilate greenhouse gas emissions and rights that protect the interests of parties not currently recognized as having rights including nonhuman subjects natural objects and future generations This volume captures the potential for and primary challenges to the development of rights as instruments for safeguarding the planet's life support capacities and features proposals and analyses which argue the need to create an avenue of recourse against ecological degradation whether on behalf of human or nonhuman right holders

Controlling State Crime Jeffrey Ross, 2017-09-04 Academic research on state crime has focused on the illegal actions of individuals and organizations i.e. syndicates and corporations Interchangeably labeled governmental crime delinquency illegality or lawlessness official deviance and misconduct crimes of obedience and human rights violations state crime has largely been considered in relation to insurgent violence or threats to national security Generally it has been seen as a phenomenon endemic to authoritarian countries in transitional and lesser developed contexts We need look no further than today's headlines to see the evidence of state crime Rwanda where government troops massacred countless Hutus and Tutsis governmental atrocities in Kosovo at the hands of the Yugoslavian Army and East Timor where both individuals and property have been decimated largely perpetrated by the Indonesian military The study of how to control state crime has been difficult There are definitional conceptual theoretical and methodological problems as well as difficulties in designing of practical methods to abolish combat control or resist this type of behavior Jeffrey Ian Ross reviews these shortcomings then develops a preliminary model of ways to control state crime His intention is stimulating scholarly research and debate but also encouraging progressive minded policymakers and practitioners who work for governmental and nongovernmental organizations The hope is that they will reflect upon the methods they advocate or use to minimize state transgressions This new edition will be of compelling interest to students of political science and criminology as well as general readers interested in human rights state crime and world affairs

Conservation and Environmentalism Robert Paehlke, 1995 Focusing on problems and solutions this authoritative reference work covers all aspects of the environment from the Everglades to the Himalayas from legislation in Australia to pollution problems in Eastern Europe from tropical rain forests to the Porcupine Caribou herd of the Alaskan and Canadian Arctic Some of the best known environmental professionals from 14 countries around the world have written original articles for this multidisciplinary Encyclopedia including Norman Myers Eugene C Hargrove Reed F Noss Max Oelschlaeger J Baird Callicott George Sessions M S Swaminathan Gilbert F White Michael E Kraft Michael P Cohen Paul Ekins and many others

The Conduct of Hostilities in International Humanitarian Law, Volume I Wolff Heintschel von Heinegg, 2023-06-14 This volume is the first of two addressing the legal regime governing the use of force during armed conflicts Traditionally labeled Hague Law today the norms it examines are commonly referred to as conduct of hostilities rules At the heart of this body of law is the principle of distinction which requires that civilians and civilian objects be distinguished from combatants and military objectives during military operations It is the purest expression of the foundational balance between humanitarian considerations and military necessity that has underpinned international humanitarian law since its inception The essays selected consider the theoretical and practical difficulties of maintaining the balance in the face of evolving means and methods of warfare and competing perspectives as to how it is best achieved Also addressed is the law governing warfare at sea and in the air Essays focusing on the former examine early norms and analyze their continuing relevance to today s maritime operations whilst those exploring the latter inject much needed clarity into the subject an essential task in light of the centrality of aerial warfare in modern combat operations

Facing Global Environmental Change

Hans Günter Brauch, Navnita Chadha Behera, Patricia Kameri-Mbote, John Grin, Úrsula Oswald Spring, Béchir Chourou, Czesław Mesjasz, Heinz Krummenacher, 2009-06-04 The year 2007 could perhaps accurately be described as the year when climate change finally received the attention that this challenge deserves globally Much of the information and knowledge that was created in this field during the year was the result of the findings of the Fourth session Report AR4 of the Intergovernmental Panel on Climate Change IPCC which were disseminated on a large scale and reported extensively by the media This was the result not only of a heightened interest on the part of the public on various aspects of climate change but also because the IPCC itself proactively attempted to spread the findings of its AR4 to the public at large The interest generated on the scientific realities of climate change was further enhanced by the award of the Nobel Peace Prize to the IPCC and former Vice President of the US Al Gore By taking this decision in favour of a leader who has done a great deal to create awareness on climate change and a body that assesses all scientific aspects of climate change and disseminates the result of its findings the Norwegian Nobel Committee has clearly drawn the link between climate change and peace in the world

Integrated Water Resources Management and Security in the Middle East

Clive Lipchin, Eric Pallant, Danielle Saranga, Allyson Amster, 2007-05-06 Integrated Water Resources Management and Security in the Middle East brings together diverse voices relating to the critical issue of water management in one of the world s most politically volatile areas the Middle East The book brings together Palestinian Israeli Jordanian and international expert opinions on creating a holistic and comprehensive view of water management challenges and strategies in an area of conflict and resource scarcity The book takes security studies to the next level beyond military preparedness to address the security implications of the most fundamental of resources that of water Indeed the book delves deeply into the underlying ideological underpinnings of various water regimes and possible opportunities for new decision making models and regional cooperation This book serves an important place in the scholarly literature on this topic for its breadth of participants and perspectives and its concrete steps forward It moves the academic discourse beyond pointing fingers and toward constructive solutions and dialogue

Dimensions of Peace and Security Gustaaf Geeraerts, Natalie Pauwels, Éric Remacle, 2006 The terrorist attacks of September 11th 2001 on the United States provoked a significant shift in thinking about peace and security and much has since been written about new security threats and challenges This collection of essays revisits some of the more traditional concepts of peace and security that remain valid and pertinent today despite having ceded much of the limelight to the major security preoccupations of the current era international terrorism weapons of mass destruction rogue states and related phenomena The book covers numerous salient topics from arms production monitoring and control to disarmament and conversion through to peacekeeping and conflict prevention The contributions differ in scope form and analysis ranging from historical and philosophical to contemporary and political perspectives and approaches to peace and security
