Economic Growth In Iceland 1910-1980:

Historical Dictionary of Iceland Sverrir Jakobsson, Gudmundur Halfdanarson, 2016-02-15 Iceland demonstrates most of the characteristics of a modern liberal democracy. It has maintained political stability through a democratic process which enjoys universal legitimacy. Rapid economic modernization has also secured its inhabitants one of the highest living standards in the world and a comprehensive and highly developed health system has ensured them longevity and one of the lowest rates of infant mortality in the world. Icelanders face however formidable challenges in maintaining their status as an independent nation. First the Icelandic economy is fairly fragile as overexploitation threatens the fish stocks that remain among Iceland's principal economic resources. Second the country is rich in unused energy resources because many of its rivers are still not harnessed and geothermal power is abundant. But using these resources will necessarily damage the pristine nature of the country forcing the politicians and the Icelandic public to choose between environmental protection and industrial expansion. Finally it remains to be seen if a country with just over 329 740 inhabitants will be able to manage its foreign relations in a complex and constantly changing world. This third edition of Historical Dictionary of Iceland contains a chronology, an introduction and an extensive bibliography. The dictionary section has over 200 cross referenced entries on important personalities, politics, economy, foreign relations, religion and culture. This book is an excellent access point for students, researchers and anyone wanting to know more about Iceland.

Historical Dictionary of Iceland Gudmundur Halfdanarson, 2008-10-23 The second edition of the Historical Dictionary of Iceland traces Iceland's history and provides a compass for the direction the country is heading. This is done through its chronology, introductory essays, appendixes, map, bibliography and hundreds of cross referenced dictionary entries on important persons, places, events and institutions and significant political, economic, social and cultural aspects.

The A to Z of Iceland Gudmundur Halfdanarson, 2010-05-10 While Iceland is the second largest inhabited island in Europe with only 313 000 inhabitants in 2007, the Icelanders form one of the smallest independent nations in the world. Around two thirds of the population lives in the capital Reykjavík and its suburbs while the rest is spread around the inhabitable area of the country. Until fairly recently the Icelandic nation was unusually homogeneous both in cultural and religious terms. In 1981 around 98 percent of the nation was born in Iceland and 96 percent belonged to the Lutheran state church or other Lutheran religious sects. In 2007 these numbers were down to 89 and 86 percent respectively reflecting the rapidly growing multicultural nature of Icelandic society. The A to Z of Iceland traces Iceland's history and provides a compass for the direction the country is heading. This is done through its chronology, introductory essays, appendixes, map, bibliography and hundreds of cross referenced dictionary entries on important persons, places, events and institutions and significant political, economic, social and cultural aspects.

Exploring Economic Growth Sakari Heikkinen, J. L. van Zanden, 2004 The quest for economic growth has been one of the great global issues since the Second World War. Indeed economic growth has also been one of the great themes of the discipline of economic history. The processes and causes of modern economic growth using the title of Simon Kuznets' famous book have puzzled economic historians for at least the last half a century and they still do as this collection of essays shows. Over the past 50 years, historical national accounting has become a major tool of economic historians for analyzing the process of economic growth overall. The construction and application of historical national accounts has been one of the most dynamic branches of economic history. This volume contains a series of articles by members of the international network that has in the past quarter of a century continued and elaborated upon the research program that emerged as a result of the ground breaking research by Clark Kuznets, Solow and Swan. In the 1980s the network became rather well organized for example as a result of the stimulating influence of Angus Maddison and his colleagues at Groningen University which resulted in series of workshops and conferences as well as sessions at several international economic history congresses: Milan 1994, Madrid 1998, Buenos Aires 2002. The aim of this volume is to evaluate the current state of the field, present new findings and analytical tools and to reevaluate the research agenda of the network.

The Economic Control of a Renewable Resource Under Sole Ownership C. Michael Wernerheim, 1989. The objective of this thesis is twofold. First it examines optimal investment problems arising in renewable resource sectors such as forestry where important externalities are attached to the growing stock and where investment in the resource, the biomass and application of capital and labour, the harvesting capacity must be considered simultaneously. Second, a general framework for empirical analysis is developed to analyze logging production under profit maximization and when externalities are attached to the standing forest. Taxation regimes and quantitative control policies to correct for market failure in forestry are examined. The analytical solution is characterized by dynamic bioeconomic golden rule equations. A generalized dynamic Faustmann-Ohlin rule is derived for the case when more than one type of harvesting method is used. This is a new theoretical feature of the approach explicated here: obtained optimal harvest rates, stock levels, site values and other information of relevance to forest policy. Efficiency implications of current forestry legislation and taxation are assessed. The utility of the estimated model for practical forest management is also demonstrated. Although applied to forestry, the approach is readily amendable to renewable management in general. Efficient forest management does not appear to be in conflict with the intent of Swedish forestry legislation.

Growth Accounting Tryggvi Thor Herbertsson, 1994. Wirtschaftskrise in Island: Von hohen Wachstumsraten zum drohenden Staatsbankrott Alexander Erdenberger, 2010-06. Island wurde zum Musterbeispiel für neoliberale Wirtschaftsreformen, denn diese transformierten die von der Fischerei abhängige relativ arme Inselrepublik zu einer prosperierenden Wirtschaftsgesellschaft Die Insel nutzte dazu seine inländischen Fisch und Energieressourcen zur Ankurbelung des Exportes und befriedigte die Inlandsbedürfnisse über diverse Importe Durch die Öffnung der Märkte und weiterer Liberalisierungs und Deregulierungsmaßnahmen nahmen steigerte sich das Bruttoinlandsprodukt exorbitant und Island wurde zu einem der reichsten Länder Europas mit einem der höchsten Pro Kopf Bruttoinlandsprodukten der Welt Im Zuge der Weltwirtschaftsturbulenzen wurde Island aber auch als einer der ersten Staaten hart in Mitleidenschaft gezogen Zur Aufrechterhaltung des Finanzmarktes wurden die größten Banken des Landes verstaatlicht wodurch Island fast selbst Bankrott ging Die Analyse dieser extremen wirtschaftlichen Entwicklung ist das Ziel dieses Buches Dazu werden zuerst die Besonderheiten des Inselstaates anhand der geologischen und politischen Basisdaten aufgezeigt Darauf basierend wird die Umsetzung der neoliberalen Reformen die den Grundstein für die weitere Entwicklung Islands legten untersucht Das daraus entstandene Wirtschaftswachstum zwischen 1994 und 2007 wird mit bereits bestehenden Daten der Statistischen Landesämter und anderen Einrichtungen ausgewertet Darauf folgend wird die aktuelle wirtschaftliche Situation und der Weg in den drohenden Staatsbankrott beleuchtet Abgerundet wird das Buch durch die Zusammenfassung der gewonnenen Erkenntnisse im Hinblick darauf inwiefern Island wieder als Vorbild für andere Staaten dienen kann

Statistical Sources for Social Research on Western Europe 1945-1995 Franz Rothenbacher, 1998-01-31 The intention of this book is to give a picture of the complex material that has been published in the field of social and economic statistics in Western Europe Although there are many guides bibliographies and reference books on special topics of this broad theme a general overview has been missing With this book I hope to fill this gap The frame of reference is a scientific one enabling and facilitating comparative social research on Western Europe In some respect this book enlarges and updates the bibliography written by Peter Flora Quantitative Historical Sociology published in Current Sociology in 1975 In principle this guide is an annotated bibliography of the most important printed material in the field of official statistics The legitimacy of such an approach lies in the fact that even today printed statistics are the most important form of dissemination of statistical results although microcomputers CD ROMs and the Internet have changed this situation In any case a special section on statistical databases is included for every country describing the main databases of the statistical offices Furthermore the Internet address of each international or national statistical institute is provided in the introductory paragraph This enables the reader to get fast access to online databases and supplementary online information on statistics via the Internet

The Structuralist Theory of Inflation and Structural Inflation in Chile, 1950-1972 Jorge David Dresdner C., 1990 This study investigates the agricultural bottleneck hypothesis of the structuralist inflation approach It presents a consistent model of inflation based on the main assumptions of the structuralist approach The structure of the model is based on the distinction between structural inflationary pressure and propagation mechanism the period 1950-1972 The stability of the inflation process is investigated and inflation multiplier estimates are derived for all the exogenous variables in the model Only a small fraction of the persistent and high inflation during the period can be explained as a result of the structural inflationary pressure An important factor that explains the high and persistent inflation is the existence of a powerful propagation mechanism of inflation This means that any exogenous disturbance that affects an important price in the economy can have significant inflationary effects It seems that the explanation of persistent inflation should be focused on this propagation mechanism
