Hegarty, Darrell Tryon, 2013-04-01 French and Australian collaborative research in the humanities and the social sciences in the South Pacific has grown and intensified significantly over the past two decades beginning with the international symposium Changing Identities in the Pacific at the Dawn of the Twenty First Century held at the Australian Embassy in Paris in 1997 In April 2006 another French government sponsored international symposium AGORA Ateliers Gouvernance et Recherche Appliquée was held at IRD Institut de Recherche pour le Développement Noumea New Caledonia major themes being governance and economic development again bringing together Francophone and Anglophone scholars from France and the Pacific region This was followed in October 2009 by two conjoint Francophone Anglophone conferences held at the IRD Centre in Noumea Stability Security and Development in Oceania preceded by AGORA 2 an international conference on Anglophone research in the humanities and the social sciences in the Francophone Pacific sponsored by the French Government and the Government of New Caledonia The first of these conferences was sponsored by the French Fonds Pacifique and the State Society and Governance Program at The Australian National University An edited selection of presentations from this symposium constitutes the present volume Preface Sustaining a Resilient Asia Pacific Community

Kiran Sagoo, Wilmar Salim, 2009-03-26 Coming out of an established international graduate student conference organized by the East West Center this book presents selected papers written by graduate students from different fields of study After identifying historical or contemporary issues in each field these papers propose a framework for resolving these issues whether through global commitment regional cooperation national policy or local knowledge and practice The unifying thread of this book is sustaining resilience in the Asia Pacific We acknowledge this perseverance and try to sustain and disseminate it so that other communities may learn from these practices and experiences Generally a volume like this would address the challenge of this region from a security economics or political perspective This book hopes to add to the literature on resiliency by addressing these issues from a multidisciplinary and multilevel perspective The Oxford

Handbook of International Law in Asia and the Pacific Simon Chesterman, Hisashi Owada, Ben Saul, 2019-09-12 The growing economic and political significance of Asia has exposed a tension in the modern international order Despite expanding power and influence Asian states have played a minimal role in creating the norms and institutions of international law today they are the least likely to be parties to international agreements or to be represented in international organizations That is changing There is widespread scholarly and practitioner interest in international law at present in the Asia Pacific region as well as developments in the practice of states The change has been driven by threats as well as opportunities Transnational issues such as climate change and occasional flashpoints like the territorial disputes of the South China and the East China Seas pose challenges while economic integration and the proliferation of specialized branches of law and dispute settlement mechanisms have also encouraged greater domestic implementation of international norms across Asia These evolutions join the long standing interest in parts of Asia notably South Asia in post colonial theory and the history of international law The Oxford Handbook of International Law in Asia and the Pacific brings together pre eminent and emerging specialists to analyse the approach to and influence of key states of the region as well as whether truly Asian trends can be identified and what this might mean for international order

Customary Land Tenure and Registration in Australia and Papua New Guinea James F. Weiner, Katie Glaskin, 2007-06-01 The main theme of this volume is a discussion of the ways in which legal mechanisms such as the Land Groups Incorporation Act 1974 in PNG and the Native Title Act 1993 in Australia do not as they purport serve merely to identify and register already existing customary indigenous landowning groups in these countries Because the legislation is an integral part of the way in which indigenous people are defined and managed in relation to the State it serves to elicit particular responses in landowner organisation and self identification on the part of indigenous people These pieces of legislation actively contour the progressive evolution of landowner social territorial and political organisation at all levels in these nation states The contributors to this volume provide in depth anthropological case studies of social structural and cultural transformations engendered by the confrontation between states developers and indigenous communities over rights to customarily owned land
