El Mesquite:

El Mesquite Elena Zamora O'Shea, 2000 The open country of Texas between the Nueces River and the Rio Grande was sparsely settled through the nineteenth century and most of the settlers who did live there had Hispanic names that until recently were rarely admitted into the pages of Texas history In 1935 however a descendant of one of the old Spanish land grant families in the region a woman no less found an ingenious way to publish the history of her region at a time when neither Tejanos nor women had much voice She told the story from the perspective of an ancient mesquite tree under whose branches much South Texas history had passed Her tale became an invaluable source of folk history but has long been out of print Now with important new introductions by Leticia M Garza Falc n and Andr s Tijerina the history witnessed by El Mesquite can again inform readers of the way of life that first shaped Texas Through the voice of the gnarled old tree Elena Zamora O Shea tells South Texas political and ethnographic history filled with details of daily life such as songs local plants and folk medicines foods and recipes peone patron relations and the Tejano ranch vocabulary The work is an important example of the historical folkloristic literary genre used by Mexican American writers of the period Using the literary device of the tree s narration O Shea raises issues of culture discrimination and prejudice she could not have addressed in her own voice in that day and explicitly states the Mexican American ideology of 1930s Texas The result is a literary and historic work of lasting value which clearly articulates the Tejano claim to legitimacy in Texas history Bulletin Texas Education Agency, 1976

Tejanaland Teresa Palomo Acosta, 2022-01-18 This collection by Teresa Palomo Acosta poet historian author and activist spans three decades of her writing from 1988 through 2018 The collection is divided into four parts poems essays a children s story and plays Each work addresses cultural historical political and gender realities that she experienced from her childhood to the present The plays set in the Central Texas Blackland Prairies where Acosta was raised provide a unique Latina vision of memory identity and experience and are a vital contribution to Chicana feminist thought The essays focus on Acosta s literary heroes Jovita Gonz lez de Mireles Sara Estela Ram rez and Elena Zamora O Shea important writers who contributed significantly to Tejana literature and to Texas letters

The children's story Colchas Colchitas is based on Acosta's most notable poem My Mother Pieced Quilts which pays homage to her mother and the many women of her generation who employed needles and thread creating both practical and symbolic artifacts This collection is a creative and indeed essential expansion of boundaries for what we think of as history offering a unique and compelling look into the lived experiences and interior contemplations of a Texas artist well worth knowing Readers will increase their understanding of Tejana experience in the late twentieth and early twenty first centuries Tejanaland promises to become an important addition to the cultural record informing historical perspectives on the experiences of Tejana women and contributing significantly to the existing body of work from Tejana writers Gazetteer of Mexico, 1992 Oil and Gas Field Code Master List 2003, Mexico; Official Standard Names Approved by the United States Board on Geographic Names United States. Office of Geography, 1956 Encyclopedia of American Indian Issues Today Russell M. Lawson, 2013-04-02 This essential reference examines the history culture and modern tribal concerns of American Indians in North America Despite the fact that 565 federally recognized tribes exist on the continent of North America non Native Americans typically know very little about the modern world of American Indians In a few instances the uneasy coexistence of the two cultures has served to create controversy such as fake Indians fraudulently leveraging ethnicity based benefits U S officials disposing of nuclear waste near reservations and sports clubs basing mascots on cultural stereotypes This unique survey scrutinizes the historical background as well as the contemporary issues of American Indian societies as both part of and completely separate from the world around them Encyclopedia of American Indian Issues Today features subjects commonly discussed including reservations poverty sovereignty the problem of solid waste on reservations and the lives of urban Indians among other contemporary issues Organized into ten sections the book also provides helpful sidebars and informative essays to address topics on casinos and gaming sexual identity education and poverty Decommissioning of U.S. Uranium Production Facilities United States. Office of Coal, Nuclear, Electric, and Alternate Fuels, 1995 From 1980 to 1993 the domestic production of uranium declined from almost 44 million pounds U3O8 to about 3 million pounds This retrenchment of the U S uranium industry resulted in the permanent closing of many uranium producing facilities Current low uranium prices excess world supply and low expectations for future uranium demand indicate that it is unlikely existing plants will be reopened Because of this situation these facilities eventually will have to be decommissioned The Uranium Mill Tailings and Radiation Control Act of 1978 UMTRCA vests the U S Environmental Protection Agency EPA with overall responsibility for establishing environmental standards for decommissioning of uranium production facilities UMTRCA also gave the U S Nuclear Regulatory Commission NRC the responsibility for licensing and regulating uranium production and related activities including decommissioning Because there are many issues associated with decommissioning environmental political and financial this report will concentrate on the answers to three questions 1 What is required 2 How is the process implemented 3 What are the costs Regulatory control is exercised principally through the NRC licensing process Before receiving a license to construct and operate an uranium producing facility the applicant is required to present a decommissioning plan to the NRC Once the plan is approved the licensee must post a surety to guarantee that funds will be available to execute the plan and reclaim the site This report by the Energy Information Administration EIA represents the most comprehensive study on this topic by analyzing data on 33 out of 43 uranium production facilities located in Colorado Nebraska New Mexico South Dakota Texas Utah and Washington
