Emerging Urbanity Global Urban Projects In The Asia Pacific Rim:

Emerging Urbanity Richard Marshall, 2013-09-05 Emerging Urbanity provides a critical reading of urban transformations throughout the world and in particular in Asia Includes case studies of detailed design analysis of the largest urban developments in the Pacific Rim

The Emerging Asian City Vinayak Bhanu, 2012-11-12 The Asian urban landscape contains nearly half of the planet's inhabitants and more than half of its slum population living in some of its oldest and densest cities It encompasses some of the world's oldest civilizations and colonizations and today contains some of the world's fastest growing cities and economies As such Asian cities create concomitant imagery polarizations of poverty and wealth blurred lines between formality and informality and stark juxtapositions of ancient historic places with shimmering new skylines This book embraces the complexity and ambiguity of the Asian urban landscape and surveys its bewildering array of multifarious urbanities and urbanisms Twenty four essays offer scholarly reflections and positions on the complex forces and issues shaping Asian cities today looking at why Asian cities are different from the West and whether they are treading a different path to their futures Their combined narrative spanning from Turkey to Japan and Mongolia to Indonesia is framed around three sections Traditions reflects on indigenous urbanisms and historic places Tensions reflects on the legacies of Asia's East West dialectic through both colonialism and modernism and Transformations examines Asia's new emerging utopias and urban aspirations The book claims that the histories and destinies of cities across various parts of Asia are far too enmeshed to unpack or oversimplify Avoiding the categorization of Asian cities exclusively by geographic location south east Middle East or the convenient tagging of the term Asian on selective regional parts of the continent it takes a broad intellectual view of the Asian urban landscape as a both and phenomenon as a series of diverse confluences geographic historic and political extending from the deserts of the Persian Gulf region to the Pearl River Delta Arguing for Asian cities to be taken seriously on their own terms this book represents Asia as a fount of extraordinary knowledge that can challenge our fundamental preconceptions of what cities are and ought to be

Urban Megaprojects Gerardo del Cerro

Santamaria, 2013-06-06 This book discusses the economic and political conditions that facilitate megaproject implementation and what are the impacts on urbanity and livability of such costly mode of urban development It includes contributions from sociologists planners geographers and architects making it a truly multidisciplinary project

New Economic Spaces in Asian Cities Peter W. Daniels, K.C. Ho, Thomas A. Hutton, 2012-04-27 The East and Southeast Asia region constitutes the world's most compelling theatre of accelerated globalization and industrial restructuring Following a spectacular realization of the industrialization paradigm and a period of services led growth the early twenty first century economic landscape among leading Asian states now comprises a burgeoning New Economy spectrum of the most advanced industrial trajectories including finance the knowledge economy and the new cultural economy In an agenda setting volume New Economic Spaces in Asian Cities draws on stimulating research conducted by a new generation of urban scholars to generate critical analysis and theoretical insights on the New Economy phenomenon within Asia New industry formation and the transformation of older economic practices constitute instruments of development as well as signifiers of larger processes of change expressed in the reproduction of space in the city Asia's major cities become the key staging areas for the New Economy driven by the growing wealth of an urban middle and professional class higher education institutions city based inter regional movements and urban mega projects New Economic Spaces in Asian Cities animates this New Economy discourse by means of vibrant storylines of instructive cities and sites including cases studies situated in cities such as Tokyo Seoul Shanghai Beijing Shenzhen and Singapore Theoretical and normative issues associated with the emergence of the new cultural economy are the subject of the book's context setting chapters and each case study presents an evocative narrative of development interdependencies and exemplary outcomes on the ground New Economic Spaces in Asian Cities offers a vivid contribution to our understanding of the ongoing transformation of Asia's urban system including the critical intersections of global and local regional dynamics in processes of new industry formation and the relayering of space in the Asian metropolis The synthesis of empirical profiles normative insights and theoretical reference points enhances the book's interest for scholars and students in fields of Asian studies urban and cultural studies and urban and economic geography as well as for policy specialists and urban community planners

Future Asian Space Erwin Viray, Davisi Boontharm, Limin Hee, 2012-01-01 Rapid technological economic social and cultural changes are transforming the idea of Asian space With the shift to a global economy and an urban population explosion Asian cities have become a mainstay of progress national pride identity and positioning on the global stage The extraordinary pace and intensity of the changes have created a situation unique in the history of urban development Despite the immense diversity of Asian countries Asia-ness is often treated as a distinctive quality that has emerged from unique recent circumstances affecting Asian urbanizations as a whole In Future Asian Space 15 authors explore broad concepts relating to the creation and re-creation of Asian space and contemporary Asian identity and their examination of different sites and research approaches highlights the difficulty of pinpointing what Asia-ness is or might become Appropriate design and planning of cities is a critical element in building a sustainable future and coping with environmental social and cultural problems Future Asian Space is designed to stimulate interests and engagement in discussions of the Asian city and its trajectories in architecture and urbanism but the authors' conclusions will intrigue anyone interested in the future of cities and urban life in Asia

Mixed-Use Megaprojects and the Competitive City Mike S. Harris, 2025-04-29 This book examines the motives and outcomes of competitively positioned mixed use megaprojects on government owned land These projects have emerged worldwide in recent decades driven by urban international competition the mobility and expansion of knowledge economies the shift of global investment from physical to human capital and the prevalence of market driven or entrepreneurial politics Six case studies across three countries are analysed through five themes Positioning Governing Shaping Connecting and Public Benefit While pursuing similar objectives of attracting mobile capital each project operates within a specific political financial and social context These projects reflect the prevailing development practices and underlying power structures of cities and states Throughout the implementation process they can also reveal the power struggles and competing agendas within a city In this manner they serve as a valuable lens for understanding the political economic and cultural dynamics of a city and how urban morphology manifests these processes

Architecture and Urban Form in Kuala Lumpur Yat Ming Loo, 2016-04-08 Kuala Lumpur the capital city of Malaysia is a former colony of the British Empire which today prides itself in being a multicultural society par excellence However the Islamisation of the urban landscape which is at the core of Malaysia's decolonisation projects has marginalised the Chinese urban spaces which were once at the heart of Kuala Lumpur Engaging with complex colonial and postcolonial aspects of the city from the British colonial era in the 1880s to the modernisation period in the 1990s this book demonstrates how Kuala Lumpur's urban landscape is overwritten by a racial agenda through the promotion of Malaysian Architecture including the world famous mega projects of the Petronas Twin Towers and the new administrative capital of Putrajaya Drawing on a wide range of Chinese community archives interviews and resources the book illustrates how Kuala Lumpur's Chinese spaces have been subjugated This includes original case studies showing how the Chinese re appropriated the Kuala Lumpur old city centre of Chinatown and Chinese cemeteries as a way of contesting state's hegemonic national identity and ideology This book is arguably the first academic book to examine the relationship of Malaysia's large Chinese minority with the politics of architecture and urbanism in Kuala Lumpur It is also one of the few academic books to situate the Chinese diaspora spaces at the centre of the construction of city and nation By including the spatial contestation of those from the margins and their resistance against the state ideology this book proposes a recuperative urban and architectural history seeking to revalidate the marginalised spaces of minority community and re script them into the narrative of the postcolonial nation state

Messy Urbanism Manish Chalana, Jeffrey Hou, 2016-06-01 Seemingly messy and chaotic the landscapes and urban life of cities in Asia possess an order and hierarchy that often challenges understanding and appreciation With contributions by a cross disciplinary group of authors Messy Urbanism Understanding the Other Cities of Asia examines a range of cases in Asia to explore the social and institutional politics of urban informality and the contexts in which this messiness emerges or is constructed The book brings a distinct perspective to the broader patterns of informal urban orders and processes as well as their interplay with formalized systems and mechanisms It also raises questions about the production of cities cityscapes and citizenship Messy Urbanism will appeal to professionals students and scholars in the fields of urban studies architecture landscape architecture planning and policy as well as Asian studies The rubric of messy urbanism is a productive antidote to the binaries that have limited a productive discussion about urbanism in Asia This book is a significant contribution in understanding the inherent nature of the built environments in aspiring democracies an emergent urbanism that seamlessly embraces the incremental temporal and ephemeral as given conditions in the formation of Asian cities Rahul Mehrotra Architect Professor of Urban Design and Planning Harvard University This book is of a high quality with multiple examples from Hong Kong and China The authors have covered the topic admirably and I expect the book to attract a wide readership Vinit Mukhija Associate Professor and Vice Chair of Urban Planning UCLA

New Urban Worlds AbdouMaliq Simone,Edgar Pieterse,2018-03-15 It is well known that the world is transitioning to an irrevocable urban future whose epicentre has moved into the cities of Asia and Africa What is less clear is how this will be managed and deployed as a multi polar world system is being born The full implications of this challenge cry out to be understood because city building and retrofitting cannot but be an undertaking entangled in profound societal and cultural shifts In this highly original account renowned urban sociologists AbdouMaliq Simone and Edgar Pieterse offer a call for action based fundamentally on the detail of people s lives Urban regions are replete with residents who are compelled to come up with innovative ways to maintain or extend livelihoods whose makeshift character is rarely institutionalized into a fixed set of practices locales or organizational forms This novel analytical approach reveals a more complex relationship between people the state and other agents than has previously been understood As the authors argue we need adequate concepts and practices to grasp the composition and intricacy of these shifting efforts to make visible new political possibilities for action and social justice in cities across Asia and Africa

Asian Futures, Asian Traditions Edwina Palmer,2021-10-01 To what extent are our futures likely to be determined by our traditions from the past Asian Futures Asian Traditions is a collection of conference papers by scholars of Asian Studies who explore the topics of continuity and change in Asian societies through essays in history politics gender studies language literature film performance and music Recurring among the themes of the book are the invention and reinvention of tradition nostalgia issues of national and ethnic identity colonial heritage nationalism reform and the effects of globalizing economies Both the power and the precariousness of several Asian economies are revealed in studies of the Asian Economic Crisis of the late 1990s and the conversion of some communist states to market socialism

Building Globalization Xuefei Ren,2011-04-15 From the years 2004 to 2008 Beijing and Shanghai witnessed the construction of an extraordinary number of new buildings many of which were designed by architectural firms overseas Combining ethnographic fieldwork historical research and network analysis Building Globalization closely scrutinizes the growing phenomenon of transnational architecture and its profound effect on the development of urban space Roaming from construction sites in Shanghai to architects offices in Paris Xuefei Ren interviews hundreds of architects developers politicians residents and activists to explore this issue She finds that in the rapidly transforming cities of modern China iconic designs from prestigious international architects help private developers to distinguish their projects government officials to advance their careers and the Chinese state to announce the arrival of modern China on the world stage China leads the way in the globalization of architecture a process whose ramifications can be felt from Beijing to Dubai to Basel Connecting the dots between real estate speculation megaproject construction residential displacement historical preservation housing rights and urban activism Building Globalization reveals the contradictions and consequences of this new global urban frontier Unfinished Places: The Politics of (Re)making Cairo's Old Quarters Gehan Selim, 2016-11-10 The Emerging Politics of Re making Cairo s Old Quarters examines postcolonial planning practices that aimed to modernise Cairo s urban spaces The author examines the expanding field of postcolonial urbanism by linking the state s political ideologies and systems of governance with methods of spatial representations that aimed to transform the urban realm in Cairo Adopting an interdisciplinary approach the study draws on planning history and politics to develop a distinctive account of postcolonial planning in Cairo following Egypt s 1952 revolution The book widely connects the ideological role of a different type of politicised urbanism practised during the days of Nasser Sadat and Mubarak and the overarching policies institutions and attitudes involved in the visions for re building a new nation in Egypt By examining the notion of remaking urban spaces the study interprets the ambitions and powers of state policies for improving the spatial qualities of Cairo s old districts since the early 20th century These acts are situated in their spatial political and historical contexts of Cairo s heterogeneous old quarters and urban spaces particularly the remaking of one of the city s older quarts named Bulaq Abul Ela established during the Ottoman rule in the thirteenth century It therefore writes in a chronological sequence a narrative through time and space connecting various layers of historical and contemporary political phases for remaking Bulaq The endeavor is to explain this process from a spatial perspective in terms of the implications and consequences not only on places but also on the people s everyday practices By deeply investigating the problems and consequences the strengths and weaknesses and the state s reliability to achieve the remaking objectives the book reveals evidence that shifting forms of governance had anchored planning practices into a narrow path of creativity and responsive planning Place Making in International Practice of Landscape Architecture Yun Zhang, 2021-06-25 This book explores international practice in landscape architecture focusing on the provision of services from Australia to China during China s contemporary urbanization and Australian landscape architects approaches to place Landscape architectural practice requires planners and designers to have a deep understanding of local culture site characteristics craftsmanship and even project procedures that are often intangible How to acquire the above local knowledge has become a major challenge for international teams Through the survey of the practice of Australian landscape practices in China and the case study of Li Lake planning and design project this book reveals the process and difficulties of landscape planning and design as a transnational practice as well as its special value as a way of cross cultural fertilization This book is intended for students practitioners and researchers in the fields of landscape architecture architecture and urban planning Portals of Globalization Megan Maruschke, 2019-06-04 While ports are traditionally considered national infrastructure sites that connect states to global markets special economic zones and past free ports are portrayed as threats to national sovereignty This book calls these narratives into question as it explores the history of planning Mumbai s ports and free zones during periods of global and regional transition from the British Raj to national independence to economic liberalization The book opens with a study of an unsuccessful plan hatched by merchants in 1833 to make Bombay a free port to deal with an emerging British India and the advent of free trade The book ends with how India's current special economic zones and emphasis on port expansion are part of broader goals to reposition India in transregional Asian trade to connect Mumbai with northern India and to enact local plans for a global city that threaten the very port that first connected Mumbai to the world To understand the functionality of these port and zone projects beyond typical policy prescriptions this book proposes portals of globalization as a spatial format that fosters processes of reterritorialization Heteroglossic Asia Francis Chia-Hui Lin, 2015-01-09 Heteroglossic Asia presents an analysis of geographic historical cultural economic spatial and political factors underlying Taiwan's maritime urbanity by means of case studies based on Taipei and Kaohsiung two cities which represent the multi accentual character of Taiwan's urban environment and its recent changes and development through architecture Focussing on the concept of a heteroglossic Asia Pacific exemplified by the analysis of Taiwan's urban transformation the study argues that Taiwan's urban environment shows a form of intended fuzziness which cannot be described as resting on either a simplified nationalist base or chaotic societal anxiety Rather this form lies between binary poles autocracy and democracy nation state and day to day life top down and bottom up orientations orthodoxy and hybridisation Planning Asian Cities Stephen Hamnett, Dean Forbes, 2012-03-29 In Planning Asian Cities Risks and Resilience Stephen Hamnett and Dean Forbes have brought together some of the region's most distinguished urbanists to explore the planning history and recent development of Pacific Asia's major cities They show how globalization and the competition to achieve global city status has had a profound effect on all these cities Tokyo is an archetypal world city Singapore Hong Kong and Seoul have acquired world city characteristics Taipei and Kuala Lumpur have been at the centre of expanding economies in which nationalism and global aspirations have been intertwined and expressed in the built environment Beijing Hong Kong and Shanghai have played key sometimes competing roles in China's rapid economic growth Bangkok's amenity economy is currently threatened by political instability while Jakarta and Manila are the core city regions of less developed countries with sluggish economies and significant unrealized potential But how resilient are these cities to the risks that they face How can they manage continuing pressures for development and growth while reducing their vulnerability to a range of potential crises How well prepared are they for climate change How can they build social capital so important to a city's recovery from shocks and disasters What forms of governance and planning are appropriate for the vast mega regions that are emerging And given the tradition of top down centralized state directed planning which drove the economic growth of many of these cities in the last century what prospects are there of them becoming more inclusive and sensitive to the diverse needs of their populations and to the importance of culture heritage and local places in creating liveable cities Global Shanghai Remade Richard Hu, Weijie Chen, 2019-10-08 Examining the rise of Pudong and its role in re creating Shanghai as a global city Global Shanghai Remade utilises this important case study to shed light on contemporary globalisation and China's integration with the world since the late 20th century Unpacking the rise of Pudong in the context of Deng Xiaoping's nation building agenda this book explores the development of the district from its earliest planning into a global city centre through multiple perspectives In doing so it explores the role of key decision makers and actors the strategic planning process the approaches to urban development and some of the iconic projects that define the rise of Pudong Shanghai and China itself A timely volume for the 30th anniversary of China's strategy of developing and opening Pudong it combines the analyses and findings from these perspectives into a framework for a broader understanding of city making with Chinese characteristics The first study of its kind providing a comprehensive and systematic examination of Pudong this book will be useful for students and scholars of urban planning and design as well as Chinese Studies and Development Studies more generally

The Urban Design Reader Michael Larice, Elizabeth Macdonald, 2013-05-07 The second edition of The Urban Design Reader draws together the very best of classic and contemporary writings to illuminate and expand the theory and practice of urban design Nearly 50 generous selections include seminal contributions from Howard Le Corbusier Lynch and Jacobs to more recent writings by Waldheim Koolhaas and Sorkin Following the widespread success of the first edition of The Urban Design Reader this updated edition continues to provide the most important historical material of the urban design field but also introduces new topics and selections that address the myriad challenges facing designers today The six part structure of the second edition guides the reader through the history theory and practice of urban design The reader is initially introduced to those classic writings that provide the historical precedents for city making into the twentieth century Part Two introduces the voices and ideas that were instrumental in establishing the foundations of the urban design field from the late 1950s up to the mid 1990s These authors present a critical reading of the design professions and offer an alternative urban design agenda focused on vital and lively places The authors in Part Three provide a range of urban design rationales and strategies for reinforcing local physical identity and the creation of memorable places These selections are largely describing the outcomes of mid century urban design and voicing concerns over the placeless quality of contemporary urbanism The fourth part of the Reader explores key issues in urban design and development Ideas about sprawl density community health public space and everyday life are the primary focus here Several new selections in this part of the book also highlight important international development trends in the Middle East and China Part Five presents environmental challenges faced by the built environment professions today including recent material on landscape urbanism sustainability and urban resiliency The final part examines professional practice and current debates in the field where urban designers work what they do their roles their fields of knowledge and their educational development The section concludes with several position pieces and debates on the future of urban design practice This book provides an essential resource for students and practitioners of urban design drawing together important but widely dispersed writings Part and section introductions are
