Excerpt This vague feeling of mine began to shape itself into conviction about the time my brothers and I were sent to school The education of the English boy then as now was considered a much more serious matter than the education of the English boy s sister My parents especially my father discussed the question of my brothers education as a matter of real importance My education and that of my sister were scarcely discussed at all Of course we went to a carefully selected girls school but beyond the facts that the head mistress was a gentlewoman and that all the pupils were girls of my own class nobody seemed concerned A girl s education at that time seemed to have for its prime object the art of making home attractive presumably to migratory male relatives It used to puzzle me to understand why I was under such a particular obligation to make home attractive to my brothers We were on excellent terms of friendship but it was never suggested to them as a duty that they make home attractive to me Why not Nobody seemed to know The answer to these puzzling questions came to me unexpectedly one night when I lay in my little bed waiting for sleep to overtake me It was a custom of my father and mother to make the round of our bedrooms every night before going themselves to bed When they entered my room that night I was still awake but for some reason I chose to feign slumber My father bent over me shielding the candle flame with his big hand I cannot know exactly what thought was in his mind as he gazed down at me but I heard him say somewhat sadly What a pity she wasn t born a lad My first hot impulse was to sit up in bed and protest that I didn t want to be a boy but I lay still and heard my parents footsteps pass on toward the next child s bed I thought about my father s remark for many days afterward but I think I never decided that I regretted my sex However it was made quite clear that men considered themselves superior to women and that women apparently acquiesced in that belief
