legend The Routledge History of Emotions in Europe Susan Broomhall, Andrew Lynch, 2019-06-25 The Routledge History of Emotions in Europe 1100 1700 presents the state of the field of pre modern emotions during this period placing particular emphasis on theoretical and methodological aspects of current research This book serves as a reference to existing research practices in emotions history and advances studies in the field across a range of scholarly approaches It brings together the work of recognized experts and new voices and represents a wide range of international and interdisciplinary perspectives from different schools of research practice including art history literature and culture philosophy linguistics archaeology and music Throughout the book central and recurrent themes in emotional culture within medieval and early modern Europe are highlighted from different angles and each chapter pays specialist attention to illustrative examples showing theory and method in application Exploring topics such as love war sex and sexuality death time the body and the family in the context of emotional culture The Routledge History of Emotions in Europe 1100 1700 reflects the sharp rise in scholarship relating to the history of emotions in recent years and is an essential resource for students and researchers of the history of pre modern emotions Emotions in Sport ,2000 Emotions in Sport is the first comprehensive treatment of how individual and team emotions affect athletic performance Edited by renowned Olympic advisor researcher and teacher Yuri Hanin the book provides you with a comprehensive understanding of emotional patterns such as anxiety anger and joy as well as their impact on individual and team performance solid methods for determining the optimal emotional state of individual athletes innovative strategies for avoiding overtraining burnout and fatigue while helping enhance performance an overview of injury management and the positive emotional states that can actually accelerate the healing process and a long overdue look at exercise emotions and mental health Created and developed by Dr Hanin during 30 years as a sport psychologist the Individual Zones of Optimal Functioning IZOF model is the key conceptual framework in Emotions in Sport The model can help you describe predict and explain the dynamics of emotion performance for individual athletes and provides you with strategies for creating optimal emotional states and enhancing athletic performance Appendixes to the volume include a reproducible IZOF model form and step by step data collection instructions for your use Emotions in Sport incorporates the insights wisdom and experience of authorities worldwide to give you a new perspective on this important subject and its impact on athletes Understanding Emotions in Mathematical Thinking and Learning Ulises Xolocotzin, 2017-05-12 Emotions play a critical role in mathematical cognition and learning Understanding Emotions in Mathematical Thinking and Learning offers a multidisciplinary approach to the role of emotions in numerical cognition mathematics education learning sciences and affective sciences It addresses ways in which emotions relate to cognitive processes involved in learning and doing mathematics including processing of numerical and physical magnitudes e g time and space performance in arithmetic and algebra problem solving and reasoning attitudes learning technologies and mathematics achievement Additionally it covers social and affective issues such as identity and attitudes toward mathematics Covers methodologies in studying emotion in mathematical knowledge Reflects the diverse and innovative nature of the methodological approaches and theoretical frameworks proposed by current investigations of emotions and mathematical cognition Includes perspectives from cognitive experimental psychology neuroscience and from sociocultural semiotic and discursive approaches Explores the role of anxiety in mathematical learning Synthesizes unifies the work of multiple sub disciplines in one place Jesus' Emotions in the Fourth Gospel Stephen Voorwinde,2005-11-01 This book seeks to discuss John s references to Jesus emotions in the light of the current debate regarding Johannine Christology The Fourth Gospel refers to Jesus love joy and zeal At times it also portrays him as troubled deeply moved and in tears Do these expressions of emotion underscore Jesus humanity or his divinity The study is set against the background of the emotions of God as found in earlier Jewish literature as well as against that of the emotions of Jesus in the Synoptics and the remainder of the New Testament Voorwinde argues that the covenant provides the most consistent perspective for viewing both the emotions of Yahweh in the Old Testament and the emotions of Jesus in the Gospels The Johannine Jesus is found to fulfil the hitherto incompatible roles of covenant Lord and covenant sacrifice Rather than being expressive only of his humanity Jesus emotions are also found to underscore his divinity This is due to the unique genius of this Gospel with its paradoxical presentation of Jesus whose divinity is manifested most eloquently in his weakness suffering and death Only his tears at the grave of Lazarus can be explained as a human emotion pure and simple All the other emotions because of their strong connections to the cross highlight both Jesus humanity and divinity albeit for various reasons and in highly nuanced ways JSNTS 284 A Cultural History of the Emotions in Antiquity Douglas Cairns,2020-08-20 This volume provides an overview of some of the salient aspects of emotions and their role in life and thought of the Greco Roman world from the beginnings of Greek literature and history to the height of the Roman Empire This is a wide remit dealing with a wide range of sources in two ancient languages and in the full range of contexts that are covered by the format of this series The volume s chapters survey the emotional worlds of the ancient Greeks and Romans from multiple perspectives philosophical scientific medical literary musical theatrical religious domestic political art historical and historical All chapters consider both Greek and Roman evidence ranging from the Homeric poems to the Roman Imperial period and making extensive use of both elite and non elite texts and documents including those preserved on stone papyrus and similar media and in other forms of material culture The volume is thus fully reflective of the latest research in the emerging discipline of ancient emotion history Emotions in the Law School Emma Jones,2019-08-23 Law schools are failing both their staff and students by requiring them to prize reason and rationality and to suppress or ignore emotions Despite innovations in terms of both content and teaching techniques there is little evidence that emotions are effectively acknowledged or utilised within legal education Instead law schools are clinging to an out dated and erroneous perception of emotions as at best irrational and at worst dangerous In contrast to this educational and scientific developments have demonstrated that emotions are a fundamental inescapable part of learning teaching and skills development Harnessing these emotions will therefore have a transformative effect on legal education and enable it to adapt to the needs and demands of the twenty first century This book provides a theoretical overview of the role played by emotions in all aspects of the life of the law school It explores the relationship emotions have with key traditional and contemporary approaches to legal education the ways in which emotions can be conceptualised their interaction with the politics and policies of legal education and their role within teaching and learning The book also considers the importance of emotional wellbeing for both law students and legal academics Overall this book argues for a more holistic form of legal education in which emotions play a valuable and valued role This requires a new vision for law schools in which emotions are acknowledged and embedded at all levels institutional and personal

The Bloomsbury Research Handbook of Emotions in Classical Indian Philosophy Maria Heim, Chakravarthi Ram-Prasad, Roy Tzohar, 2021-04-08 Drawing on a rich variety of premodern Indian texts across multiple traditions genres and languages this collection explores how emotional experience is framed evoked and theorized in order to offer compelling insights into human subjectivity Rather than approaching emotion through the prism of Western theory a team of leading scholars of Indian traditions showcases the literary texture philosophical reflections and theoretical paradigms that classical Indian sources provide in their own right The focus is on how the texts themselves approach those dimensions of the human condition we may intuitively think of as being about emotion without pre judging what that might be The result is a collection that reveals the range and diversity of phenomena that benefit from being gathered under the formal term emotion but which in fact open up what such theorisation representation and expression might contribute to a cross cultural understanding of this term In doing so these chapters contribute to a cosmopolitan comparative and pluralistic conception of human experience Adopting a broad phenomenological methodology this handbook reframes debates on emotion within classical Indian thought and is an invaluable resource for researchers and students seeking to understand the field beyond the Western tradition

Emotions in Rituals and Performances Axel Michaels, Christoph Wulf, 2020-11-29 Challenging the idea that rituals are static and emotions irrational the volume explores the manifold qualities of emotions in ritual practices Focusing explicitly on the relationship between emotions and rituals it poses two central questions First how and to what extent do emotions shape rituals Second in what way are emotions ritualized in and beyond rituals Strong emotions are generally considered to be more spontaneous and uncontrolled whereas ritual behaviour is regarded as planned formalized and stereotyped and hence less emotional However as the volume demonstrates rituals often reveal strong emotions among participants are motivated by feelings or are intended to generate them The essays discuss the motivation for rituals the healing function of emotions the creation of new emotions through new media the aspect of mimesis in the generation of feelings individual collective and non human emotions the importance of trance and possession staged emotions and emotions on stage emotions in the context of martyrdom emotions in Indian and Western dance traditions emotions of love sorrow fear aggression and devotion Furthermore aesthetic and sensory dimensions as well as emic concepts of emotions in rituals are underscored as relevant in understanding social practice
