Affect and Emotion in Tourism Dorina-Maria Buda, Jennie Germann Molz, 2023-03-31 Bringing affect and emotion to the forefront of tourism studies this book presents a new generation of scholars who consolidate emerging affective approaches and establish a route for scholarship that examines the roles of emotion and affect in tourism. Attuning to affect and emotion, this book steers the affective turn to encompass touring bodies and tourism places. Engaging the concept of affect as a constitutive element of social life often leaves academics grasping for terminology to describe something that is by its very nature beyond words. For this reason, as evident in the four interconnected sections of this volume, studying affect poses a significant and fruitful challenge to the status quo of social scientific method and analysis. From African American emotional labour while travelling to visiting Banksy's Dismaland park to affective heritagescapes, self-love and travelling mittens, and across socio-spatial theories of emotions, decolonial feminist theory and atmospheric politics, this book demonstrates the epistemic and empirical richness of affective tourism. Along with the contributors to this volume, the editors make a case for thinking about emotions and affects through collective and individual practices as interrelated, shaping tourism encounters in and with places. That is to break it down as doing and as shared between bodies and places through the doing. The chapters in this book were originally published as a special issue of Tourism Geographies.

Using examples of maternity care and infertility settings from the UK and beyond, and with an emphasis on personal reflection throughout, the book explores the subjects of emotional well-being, client-practitioner relationships, infertility, loss, breast-feeding, motherhood, emotions in midwifery and reproduction, underlining the importance of emotions and how they are managed, experienced and negotiated in clinical settings, addressing issues that are frequently overlooked in the drive for efficiency and effectiveness in the health service. It is stimulating reading for all midwifery and nursing students and practitioners looking to understand their patients and their own emotional needs.
