Carmen Martín Gaité Ester Bautista Botello, 2019-01-09 This book reconstructs the poetics of Carmen Martín Gaité by viewing the concept of journey as a fundamental principle upon which she bases and elaborates her narrative writing of the 1990s Five novels published in this period receive critical attention all of which coincide with the last trips taken by the writer to New York Caperucita en Manhattan 1990 Nubosidad variable 1992 La reina de las nieves 1994 Lo raro es vivir 1996 and Irse de casa 1998 To the extent that the journey is the essence of the narrative under consideration the concept is analysed as an aesthetic practice and an attempt to identify a series of actions which allow us to link the writer's novels with two areas that have previously received only scant critical scrutiny geography and the visual dimension This book presents a comparative and interdisciplinary analysis of space in Martín Gaité's narrative as well as in her collages drawings and paintings

Castillo, 2022-12-08 How do we address the idea of the literary now at the end of the second decade in the 21st century Many traditional categories obscure or overlook significant contemporary forms of cultural production This volume looks at literature and culture in general in this hinge period Latin American Literature in Transition 1980-2018 examines the ways literary culture complicates national or area studies understandings of cultural production Topics point to fresh intersectional understandings of cultural practice while keeping in mind the ongoing stakes in a struggle over material and intangible cultural and political borders that are being reinforced in formidable ways Vision, Technology, and Subjectivity in Mexican Cyberpunk Literature Stephen C. Tobin, 2023-07-06 Vision Technology and Subjectivity in Mexican Cyberpunk Literature interrogates an array of cyberpunk and post cyberpunk science fiction novels and short stories from Mexico whose themes engage directly with visual technologies and the subjectivities they help produce all published during and influenced by the country's neoliberal era This book argues that television computers and smartphones and the literary narratives that treat them all correspond to separate yet overlapping scopic regimes within the country today Amidst the shifts occurring in the country's field of vision during this period the authors of these cyberpunk and post cyberpunk narratives imagine how these devices contribute to producing specular subjects or subjects who are constituted in large measure by their use and interaction with visual technologies In doing so they repeatedly recur to the posthuman figure of the cyborg in order to articulate these changes Stephen C Tobin therefore contends that the literary cyborg becomes a discursive site for working through the problematics of sight in Mexico during the globalized era In all these specular fictions represent an exceptional tendency within literary expression especially within the cyberpunk genre that grapples with themes and issues regarding the nature of vision being increasingly mediated by technology Marginal Voices Amy I. Aronson-Friedman, Gregory B. Kaplan, 2012-02-03 The conversos of late medieval and Golden Age Spain were Christians whose Jewish ancestors had been forced to change faiths within a society that developed a preoccupation with pure Christian lineage The aim of this book is to shed new light on the cultural impact of this social climate in which public suspicion of the religious sincerity of conversos became widespread and scrutiny by the Inquisition came to impede social advancement and threaten life and property The bulk of the essays center on literary works including lesser known and canonical pieces which are analyzed by scholars who reveal the heterogeneous nature of textual voices that are informed by an awareness of the marginal status of conversos Contributors are Gregory B Kaplan Ana Benito Patricia Timmons David Wacks Bruce Rosenstock Laura Delbrugge Michelle Hamilton Deborah Skolnik Rosenberg Kevin Larsen and Luis Bejarano
