Semantics and Psychology of Spirituality Heinz Streib, Ralph W. Hood, Jr., 2015-10-16 This book examines what people mean when they say they are spiritual It looks at the semantics of spirituality the visibility of reasons for spiritual preference in biographies in psychological dispositions in cultural differences between Germany and the US and in gender differences It also examines the kind of biographical consequences that are associated with spirituality The book reports the results of an online questionnaire filled out by 773 respondents in Germany and 1113 in the US personal interviews with a selected group of more than 100 persons and an experiment Based on the data collected it reports results that are relevant for a number of scientific and practical disciplines It makes a contribution to the semantics of everyday religious language and to the cross cultural study of religion and to many related fields as well because spirituality is evaluated in relation to personality mysticism well being religious styles generativity attachment biography and atheism The book draws attention to the new and ever changing ways in which people give names to their ultimate concern and symbolize their experiences of transcendence

Butterfly Letter Regina Föger, 2012-07-17 Butterfly Letter A Story for children and parents derived from an inspiration It was an ordinary afternoon in the middle of a week when the telephone suddenly rang My friend Yvonne was on the other line Her voice sounded extremely sad and desperate Regina she stammered Tamara has just passed away in my arms Momentarily I was lost for words I was in a state of utter shock We had not seen each other for many months apart from a few phone calls during this time I had had no idea that Tamara had been taken ill In a very slow and quiet tone of voice Yvonne told me that Tamara who had suffered from Down Syndrome had never recovered after a bout of influenza She had been fighting a lingering cough Due to a series of infections her immune system had weakened immensely Finally this had led to a severe case of pneumonia from which she had not survived In that moment my mind was lost for thoughts What do I say to her How can I comfort her and how can I give her any kind of hope in such a sad situation I didn't even want to try she needed someone who listened I prayed for inspiration for finding the right words to say to a mother God loves you he knows you are suffering He will look after Tamara for you You don't have to worry about her Tamara had been a very special child She had wonderful parents who had great experience with handling a handicapped child Their one and only wish was to give Tamara a happy childhood in spite of hardships and self sacrifice at times They also knew that only a disabled child is able to return such love and affection out of gratitude On that afternoon I asked my friend if she would come to be with her She wanted me at her side and so I immediately drove off to see her On arrival there was an atmosphere difficult to explain in words It was very quiet everywhere no one dared say a word There was a feeling of serenity and devotion throughout the house In that moment I could see a great spell of light I could sense Tamara's spirit in each and every member of the family I knew she was in spirit and soul with everyone there On my way home my thoughts had never been so clear before I felt I knew where Tamara was then She was on her way home I was desperate to tell my dear friend everything I had seen I had seen Tamara arriving at a beautiful place happy and free just like a butterfly At home I kept thinking about Tamara and Yvonne's broken heart Not wanting to forget anything I had experienced I quickly wrote down my thoughts and inspiration I sat myself in front of my computer and started to write a letter with the title Butterfly Letter It was to be a letter from Tamara to her mother Yvonne Tamara's words were to comfort her mother's grief and to let her know that she were well and happy She were to experience a wonderful change or transformation Like one of a caterpillar which changes into a butterfly This special butterfly were to feel free in a new beautiful world without barriers I sent this letter to Yvonne I hoped it would comfort her and touch her heart Yvonne had read this letter out to everyone present at the church funeral Years later in the course of my training as social education worker I wrote and illustrated this manuscript How can we find the right words for describing and explaining something to a child that we have never seen felt and experienced yet has no physical substance and is not tangible but you know in your heart it is true Life after life exceeds the limit of our imagination Regina F ger
