Education in Africa, the Caribbean, and the Middle East Cynthia S Sunal, Kagendo Mutua, Oluseyi Matthew

Odebiyi, 2019-05-01 Public education has expanded to serve large populations across the regions of Africa the Caribbean and the Middle East Many nations in these regions are moving into a phase of public education in which a variety of factors are being identified as influencing the quality of public education and its ability to serve all children and adolescents It has become evident that ethnic background gender religious affiliation and ability disability are important factors in who is served and how well the individual is served The chapters in this volume Book 8 of Research on Education in Africa the Caribbean and the Middle East document and describe the status success and limitations of public education s efforts at transformation They provide points from which further research and practice might occur Primary Education in Crisis

Brahm Fleisch, 2008 In the past decade the national preoccupation has been on the crisis in secondary schools Lurking behind the intractable problem of low pass rates the dysfunctional schools and the small number of higher grade mathematics and science graduates is the calamity in primary education Drawing on the work of researchers in a range of fields including psychology sociology anthropology linguistics economics the health sciences and mathematics education this book documents the depth and scope of the primary education crisis and provides a comprehensive and rigorous explanation of its causes Primary education in crisis pulls together the wealth of research on health poverty resources language and teaching as factors in academic achievement in reading writing and mathematics At the centre of the book is an analysis of the published studies that systematically document what teachers teach and fail to teach and why it is that teaching is at the heart of the crisis in primary education The author suggests that there are no quick fixes but only hard choices and that for reform to succeed it must be evidence based Theories of Social and Economic Justice André Johannes Van der

Walt, 2005-08-01 The bulk of the contributions in this publication originated in a research project initiated by the Stellenbosch Institute for Advanced Study STIAS in 2002 The book is based on the idea that the attainment of greater social and economic justice specifically in the South African context is strongly influenced by the implications and the coherence of various theories of social and economic justice Perspectives on ICT4D and Socio-Economic Growth Opportunities in Developing Countries Ndayizigamiye, Patrick, Barlow-Jones, Glenda, Brink, Roelien, Bvuma, Stella, Minty, Rehana, Mhlongo, Siyabonga, 2020-10-09 Technology has been hailed as one of the catalysts toward economic and human development In the current economic era of the Fourth Industrial Revolution information acquisition transformation and dissemination processes are posed to be the key enablers of development However in the context of developing countries there is a need for more evidence on the impact that ICT has on addressing developmental issues Such evidence is needed to make a case for investments in ICT led interventions to improve people s lives in developing countries Perspectives on ICT4D and Socio Economic Growth Opportunities in Developing Countries is a collection of innovative research on current trends that portray the ICT and development nexus ICT4D from economic and human development perspectives within developing countries While highlighting topics including mobile money poverty alleviation and consumer behavior this book is ideally designed for economists government officials policymakers ICT specialists business professionals researchers academicians students and entrepreneurs Rurality, Social Justice and Education in Sub-Saharan Africa Volume II Amasa P. Ndofirepi, Alfred Masinire, 2020-12-12 This book explores rurality and education in sub Saharan Africa through a lens of social justice The second volume of a two volume project this book explores possibilities and constraints of rural social justice in diverse educational contexts with particular emphasis on higher education Drawing on contexts from across sub Saharan Africa this volume examines such topics as student teacher preparation post colonialism and access and participation In doing so these volumes reflect the need to shift conceptions of rurality from colonial and conservative stereotypes to an appreciation of rurality as locations in space and time Focusing on inclusivity and intersectionality these books raise important questions into rurality and social justice and champion openness for education in rural communities who may be excluded

Environmental and Geographical Education for Sustainability Zijian Li, Michael Williams, 2006 Geography environment sustainability culture and education standing alone or in any combination provide the ingredients for a variety of stews They are all difficult to define and they generate endless debates for theoreticians and practitioners about their meaning and significance The editors have divided the chapters that follow into two parts in an effort to unit these diverse disciplines Part 1 is concerned with cultural foundations and curriculum issues related to geographical and environmental education for sustainability Part 2 comprises a series of chapters presenting education for sustainability in the contexts of national cultures English Teaching Forum ,2009 Forum ,2010 Multimodal Pedagogies in Diverse Classrooms Pippa Stein, 2007-11-07 Multimodal Pedagogies in Diverse Classrooms examines how the classroom can become a democratic space founded on the integration of different histories modes of representation feelings languages and discourses and is essential reading for anyone interested in the connection between multimodality pedagogy democracy and social justice in diverse classrooms Pippa Stein combines theory with material taken from post apartheid classrooms in South Africa where students from different language and cultural backgrounds negotiate the ongoing tensions between tradition and modernity Western and African intellectual thought as well as the apartheid past of their parents and their own aspirations for the future This insightful book argues that classrooms can become transformative sites in which students can develop curricula and pedagogies which speak to the diversity of global societies and looks at How multimodality can be used to promote social justice and democracy in diverse classrooms The forms of representation through which students make meaning in classrooms How those forms contribute to the building of democratic cultures The cultural resources available to students and how they are used for learning Difference as a productive energy for learning Dealing with issues such as democracy politics of difference diversity multicultural and multilingual classrooms this book is as pertinent to readers across the globe as it is to those in South Africa and will be invaluable and fascinating reading for anyone working or interested in this field

Environmental Ethics Bob Jickling, Heila Lotz-Sisitka, Lausanne Olvitt, Rob O'Donoghue, Ingrid Schudel, Dylan McGarry, Blair Niblett, 2021-12-07 This well constructed and highly original sourcebook integrates educational materials for teaching environmental ethics with theoretical reflections The book is set to contribute immensely to its aim of taking ethics out of philosophy departments and putting it into the streets into villages and on the Earth to make ethics an everyday activity not something left to experts and specialists Context based activities are presented in almost every chapter While it acknowledges foundational theories in environmental ethics and the work that they continue to do it wholeheartedly embraces a growing body of literature that emphasises contextual process oriented and place based approaches to ethical reflection deliberation and action It walks on the ground and isn't afraid to get a little dirty or to seek joy in earthly relationships And it ultimately breaks with much Western academic tradition by framing ethics in a storied world thus making room to move beyond Euro American perspectives in environmental issues This work will be of interest to school teachers and other non formal and informal educators teacher educators college instructors university professors and other professionals who wish to bring environmental ethics to the forefront of their pedagogical practices

Twenty Years of Education Transformation in Gauteng 1994 to 2014 Maringe, Felix, Prew, Martin, 2015-05-05 Twenty Years of Education Transformation in Gauteng 1994 to 2014 An Independent Review presents a collection of 15 important essays on different aspects of education in Gauteng since the advent of democracy in 1994 These essays talk to what a provincial education department does and how and why it does these things whether it be about policy resourcing or implementing projects Each essay is written by one or more specialist in the relevant focus area The book is written to be accessible to the general reader as well as being informative and an essential resource for the specialist reader It sheds light on aspects of how a provincial department operates and why and with what consequences certain decisions have been made in education over the last 20 turbulent years both nationally and provincially There has been no attempt to fit the book's chapters into a particular ideological or educational paradigm and as a result the reader will find differing views on various aspects of the Gauteng Department of Education's present and past We leave the reader to decide to what extent the GDE has fulfilled its educational mandate over the last 20 years

International Handbook of Research in Arts Education Liora Bresler, 2007-09-04 Providing a distillation of knowledge in the various disciplines of arts education dance drama music literature and poetry and visual arts the Handbook synthesizes existing research literature helps define the past and contributes to shaping the substantive and methodological future of the respective and integrated disciplines of arts education. While research can at times seem distant from practice, the Handbook aims to maintain connection with the lived practice of art and of education, capturing the vibrancy and best thinking in the field of theory and practice. The Handbook is organized into 13 sections, each centering on a major area or issue in arts education research. These areas include History of arts education, curriculum, evaluation, cultural centers, appreciation, composition, informal learning, child culture, creativity, the body, spirituality, and technology. The individual chapters address cross-cultural research related to the central theme of the section from the perspectives of the particular arts discipline. Interludes provide reflective thoughts on the theme.

The Routledge Handbook on Livelihoods in the Global South Fiona Nunan, Clare Barnes, Sukanya Krishnamurthy, 2022-05-05

The Routledge Handbook on Livelihoods in the Global South presents a unique, timely, comprehensive overview of livelihoods in low and middle income countries. Since their widespread adoption in the 1990s, livelihoods perspectives, frameworks, and methods have influenced diverse areas of research, policy, and practice. The concept of livelihoods reflects the complexity of strategies and practices used by individuals, households, and communities to meet their needs and live their lives. The Handbook brings together insights and critical analysis from diverse approaches and experiences, learning from research and practice over the last 30 years. The Handbook comprises an introductory section on key concepts and frameworks, followed by five parts on researching livelihoods, negotiating livelihoods, generating livelihoods, enabling livelihoods, and contextualising livelihoods. The introduction provides readers with an appreciation of concepts researched and applied in the five parts, including chapters on vulnerability and resilience, social capital and networks, and institutions. Each part reflects the diversity of approaches taken to understanding livelihoods, whilst recognising commonalities, including the centrality of power in shaping enabling and constraining livelihoods. The book also reflects diversity of context, including conflict, climate change, and religion, as well as in generating livelihoods through agriculture, small-scale mining, and pastoralism. The aim of each chapter is to provide a critically informed introduction and overview of key concepts, issues, and debates of relevance to the topic, with each chapter concluding with suggestions for further reading. It will be an essential resource to students, researchers, and practitioners of international development and related fields. Researchers and practitioners will also benefit from the book's diverse disciplinary contributions and by the wide and contemporary coverage.

The novel begins with Richard Papen, a bright but troubled young man, arriving at Hampden College. Richard is immediately drawn to the group of students who call themselves the Classics Club. The club is led by Henry Winter, a brilliant and charismatic young man. Henry is obsessed with Greek mythology and philosophy, and he quickly draws Richard into his world. The other members of the Classics Club are equally as fascinating. Bunny Corcoran is a wealthy and spoiled young man who is always looking for a good time. Charles Tavis is a quiet and reserved young man who is deeply in love with Henry. Camilla Macaulay is a beautiful and intelligent young woman who is drawn to the power and danger of the Classics Club. The students are all deeply in love with Morrow, and they are willing to do anything to please him. Morrow is a complex and mysterious figure, and he seems to be manipulating the students for his own purposes. As the students become more involved with Morrow, they begin to commit increasingly dangerous acts. The Secret History is a masterful and suspenseful novel that will keep you speculating until the very end. The novel is a warning tale about the dangers of obsession and the power of evil.
