Emerging Ngo:

Emerging NGO-business Relations in Central Asia Simon Heap, 2000 This paper presents findings from the Central Asian republics of Kazakhstan Kyrgyzstan and Uzbekistan as part of Intrac's global inquiry into the evolving nature of relationships between NGOs and the private sector These reviews examine country specific factors that determine the level of NGO business relations and explore the potential for the two sectors to work together for future development The NGO

Challenge for International Relations Theory William E. DeMars, Dennis Dijkzeul, 2015-02-11 It has become commonplace to observe the growing pervasiveness and impact of Non Governmental Organizations NGOs And yet the three central approaches in International Relations IR theory Liberalism Realism and Constructivism overlook or ignore the importance of NGOs both theoretically and politically Offering a timely reappraisal of NGOs and a parallel reappraisal of theory in IR the academic discipline entrusted with revealing and explaining world politics this book uses practice theory global governance and new institutionalism to theorize NGO accountability and analyze the history of NGOs This study uses evidence from empirical data from Europe Africa Latin America the Middle East and Asia and from studies that range across the issue areas of peacebuilding ethnic reconciliation and labor rights to show IR theory has often prejudged and misread the agency of NGOs Drawing together a group of leading international relations theorists this book explores the frontiers of new research on the role of such forces in world politics and is required reading for students NGO activists and policy makers

Emerging Civil Society in China, 1978-2008 Ming Wang, 2011-01-07 Emerging Civil Society in China 1978 2008 is translated from the original Chinese to provide a look into how scholars in China have been assessing the development of civil organizations and analyzing them based on system reforms the public sphere and collective action This volume and the others in the SSRIC series provide western scholars with an accessible English language look at the state of current scholarship in China and as such does not simply provide information for the direct study of socio political issues but also for meta level analysis of how the domestic scholarship in China is developing and assessing the interplay of the country's political and economic reforms with the society and daily life of its people The New Accountability Michael

Mason, 2012-05-23 The growth of pollution that crosses national borders represents a significant threat to human health and ecological sustainability Various international agreements exist between countries to reduce risks to their populations however there is often a mismatch between national territories of state responsibility and transboundary hazards All too often state priorities do not correspond to the priorities of the people affected by pollution who often have little recourse against major polluters particularly transnational corporations operating across national boundaries Drawing on case studies The New Accountability provides a fresh understanding of democratic accountability for transboundary and global harm and argues that environmental responsibility should be established in open public discussions about harm and risk Most critically it makes the case that regardless of nationality affected parties should be able to demand that polluters and harm producers be held accountable for their actions and if necessary provide reparations

New Rights Advocacy Paul J. Nelson, Ellen Dorsey, 2008 The authors introduce a concept they call new rights advocacy which has at its core three main trends They draw on case studies of international NGOs and employ perspectives from the fields of human rights international relations and development theory to better understand the changes occurring within NGOs

New Threats and New Actors in International Security E. Krahmann, 2005-01-14 Non state threats and actors have become key topics in contemporary international security as since the end of the Cold War the notion that state is the primary unit of interest in international security has increasingly been challenged Statistics show that today many more people are killed by ethnic conflicts HIV AIDS or the proliferation of small arms than by international war Moreover non state actors such as non governmental organizations private military companies and international regimes are progressively complementing or even replacing states in the provision of security Suggesting that such developments can be understood as part of a shift from government to governance in international security this book examines both how private actors have become one of the main sources of insecurity in the contemporary world and how non state actors play a growing role in combating these threats

NGOs and Post-conflict Recovery Helen Hakena, Peter Ninnis, Bert A. Jenkins, 2006-01-01 The book will make a unique contribution to understanding the role of

NGOs in promoting peace gender and development in the South West Pacific by recording the story of the Leitana Nehan Women s Development Agency Australian authors      Environmental NGOs in World Politics Matthias Finger,Thomas Princen,2013-01-11 At a time when states are reactive at best to the global ecological crisis and when economic globalization seems to be significantly contributing to the acceleration of that crisis environmental non governmental organisations NGOs are proliferating This book explains the key role of NGOs in an emerging world environmental politics showing how NGOs act both as independent bargainers and as agents of social learning to link biophysical conditions to the political realm at both the local and global levels Throught the use of case studies the authors reveal the richness and diversity of NGO activity and the dificulty of the choices facing decision makers in their attempts to protect the environment seek new forms of governance and foster social environmental learning The book generates questions that are central not only to an understanding of NGO relations but to the study of international environmental politics Environmental NOGs in World Politics will be of great interest to upper level student sand scholars of both environmental politics and international relations It will also appeal to environmental policy professionals      Nonprofit Organizations Helmut K. Anheier,2006-08-21 This text is the first to dedicate itself to the nonprofit sector It provides a comprehensive overview of nonprofit and voluntary organizations nongovernmental organizations philanthropic foundations and civil society institutions Taking an international perspective it details the background and concepts behind these organizations and examines the theory management and policy which informs them Questions answered include What are nonprofit and voluntary organizations What is the history of the nonprofit sector What is the scale and structure of the nonprofit sector How can we explain the existence and behaviour of nonprofit organizations How do nonprofits obtain funding and how do they manage resources With strong pedagogical features and the author s own extensive experience this book is a valuable reference for all those involved in non profit making organizations as well as those in the wider public administration and management arena      The International Struggle for New Human Rights Clifford Bob,2009 Why are certain global problems recognized as human rights issues while others are not This book highlights campaigns to persuade the human rights movement to move beyond traditional concerns and embrace pressing new ones Its analytic framework and case studies reveal critical strategies and conflicts involved in the struggle for new rights      Non-Governmental Organizations and Health in Developing Countries A. Green,A. Matthias,1996-12-03 Non governmental organizations NGOs are increasingly recognised as playing a significant role in the health sector in developing countries This book examines the background to the growth both in the sector and interest in it the strengths and weaknesses of NGOs and the arguments for and against their use for different aspects of the health sector It focuses particularly on the relationship between the State and non governmental organizations and the issues critical to the development of policies towards the sector      The New Development Management Sadhvi Dar,Bill Cooke,2008-08-15 Development management is an idea that blends the seemingly innocuous claims of managerialism with notions of modernity and utopian ideals of third world progress This book views both phenomena as problematic and modernizing interventions In doing so it overturns and reclaims such ideas as participation community governance NGOs and civil society The contributors argue that the practices of development are often threaded together by the language of managerialism reports logframe encounters with the boss yet all of these serve to further development s disengagement from the mundane In voicing such concerns about the way development is going and about the encroachment of managerialism The New Development Management will breathe fresh life into post development debates      The Rise of Japanese NGOs Kim D. Reimann,2009-12-04

Looking at domestic politics transnational diffusion the state s relationship with civil society and societal actors the book demonstrates how and why NGOs active in global issues have become more visible in Japan and are now established players in the policy making process      NGOs as Advocates for Development in a Globalising World

Barbara Rugendyke,2007-12-12 This book traces the recent historical shift in the policies and practises of development NGOS towards increased advocacy activity as a means of achieving poverty alleviation and increased global equity and through case studies illustrates the impacts of the advocacy activities of a range of international NGOs at different geographical scales      Contesting Globalization André C. Drainville,2004-07-31

Contesting Globalization makes an innovative and original addition to the literature on globalization examining the challenges faced by those wishing to develop progressive visions of transparent global governance and civil society This new study closely traces the history and development of the institutions of global governance The World Bank IMF WTO etc as well as the emergence of the anti globalization movement The author argues that we are at a unique moment where social forces have moved from national and international struggles to a global struggle and intervention in the world economy A series of case studies examine the ways in which cities have become contested sites for global struggles from the London dockworkers strikes of the nineteenth century to the recent demonstrations against the international financial institutions in Genoa Seattle and Washington

NGOS, the New Lexicon of Health Care Asok Kumar Sarkar,2005 With reference to West Bengal India      Surrogates of the State Michael Jennings,2008 Uses an instructive historical event to show how NGOs with good intentions are sometimes capable of supporting harmful government policies A fascinating picture of the players involved in misguided development program In Surrogates of the State Jennings explores the delicate relationship between development NGOs and the states they work in using his exhaustive and illuminating case study of Tanzania in the 1960s and 70s During that time Tanzania instituted the rural socialist Ujamaa program resulting in the forced resettlement of 6 million people to villages transforming the map of the country Rather than questioning this policy NGOs working in the area as typified by Oxfam became surrogates of the state helping to carry out the program Jennings argues that the NGO community was seduced by its own interpretations of what Ujamaa represented and was consequently blinded to the dark realities of resettlement Bound by ideological chains of their own forging organizations that in other contexts have criticized over mighty states and the use of overt force NGOs committed themselves fully to Tanzania and its development policy Through this study the book uncovers not just the story of development in Tanzania in this critical period but the history of the NGO itself And in doing so raises questions about the future direction of this institution which has become so prominent in international development

Transacting Transition Keith Brown, 2006 In Transacting Transition scholars and practitioners with first hand knowledge of foreign assistance programs recount what happens when democracy goes local and principles like transparency gender equality interethnic tolerance and cooperation run up against particular realities political agendas self interest and memories of conflict Focused on the former Yugoslavia where the 1990s saw an unprecedented investment of time and energy by a host of international organizations in processes of reconstruction and democracy assistance the contributors offer description and analysis of diagnostic cases of international intervention to explore how the mission and vision of democracy promotion is enacted on the ground Their experiences reflect wider trends in the evolution of U S democracy assistance after the end of the Cold War which has increasingly focused on locally oriented development and civic action as a necessary component of democratic transition In these cases individuals from outside the region found themselves charged with advancing ambitious agendas of social and political change while dealing with the micropolitics of particular situations where for example village solidarity is fractured by old rivalries participation in decision making is habitually restricted by gender or ethnicity or where donors and implementers disagree on the best way forward The book includes an overall introduction and eight chapters focusing on case studies from Kosovo Serbia and Macedonia Each case is described by a participant and put in wider context by a short editorial introduction The book is intended to be broadly accessible to readers and students interested in understanding what is entailed in making grand visions of democratization work Other Contributors Jeff S Merritt Dennison Lane Paul J Nuti Claire Sneed Sally Broughton Micova Clemson Turregano and Chip Gagnon
