Duran, 2017-07-05 The first English language monograph on Il Fronte Nuovo delle Arti this study explores the rise and fall of this postwar Italian artists group as a representative instance of the tensions facing Italian painting during the transition out of two decades of Fascism and into the global divisions of the Cold War Adrian Duran argues that the binary structures of the era realism vs abstraction Communism vs democracy conformism vs freedom have monopolized the discourse surrounding the Fronte Nuovo and with it the historiography of Italian painting during this period 1944 50 Beginning with the dialogues that framed the formation of the Fronte Nuovo this book reconsiders artists works correspondence critical writings and manifestos These are married to examinations of specific exhibitions the most important of which are the group s 1947 inaugural exhibition and the 1948 and

1950 Venice Biennali The critical responses to these exhibitions are reconsidered in light of their groundings in the heated political debates of the period In total these diverse sources reveal the vast divide between the internal discourse of the arts generated by the participant artists and their works and the surrounding politics of Cold War Italy     Vedova de America Germano Celant,2019-11-28 De America is a series of some fifty paintings on paper and canvas created by Emilio Vedova in Venice between 1976 and 1977 subject of the exhibition organized by the Galleria dello Scudo and the Fondazione Emilio e Annabianca Vedova After the war New York encouraged a dialog between American Abstract Expressionism and European art activities It happened between Venice and America too Industrious collectors came to Venice to acquire the best proposals of the time and the Biennale also oundertook an intense activity of promotion in South American countries This exhaustive catalog offers an occasion for reconstructing the steps of an American itinerary in which Vedova s painting was influenced by the radical transformations wich above all in the 1960s and 1970s deeply affected the country s social context

Rethinking Medical Humanities Rinaldo F. Canalis, Massimo Ciavolella, Valeria Finucci, 2022-12-19. Medical Humanities may be broadly conceptualized as a discipline wherein medicine and its specialties intersect with those of the humanities and social sciences. As such, it is a hybrid area of study where the impact of disease and healing science on culture is assessed and expressed in the particular language of the disciplines concerned with the human experience. However, as much as at first sight this definition appears to be clear, it does not reflect how the interaction of medicine with the humanities has evolved to become a separate field of study. In this publication, we have explored through the analysis of a group of selected multidisciplinary essays the dynamics of this process. The essays predominantly address the interaction of literature, philosophy, art, art history, ethics, and education with medicine and its specialties from the classical period to the present. Particular attention has been given to the Medieval, Early Modern, and Enlightenment periods. To avoid a rigid compartmentalization of the book based on individual fields of study, we opted for a fluid division into multidisciplinary sections reflective of the complex interactions of the included works with medicine.

Exhibiting Italian Art in the United States from Futurism to Arte Povera Raffaele Bedarida, 2022-06-28. This volume explores how Italian institutions, dealers, critics, and artists constructed a modern national identity for Italy by exporting literally and figuratively contemporary art to the United States in key moments between 1929 and 1969. From artist Fortunato Depero opening his Futurist House in New York City to critic Germano Celant launching Arte Povera in the United States, Raffaele Bedarida examines the thick web of individuals and cultural environments beyond the two more canonical movements that shaped this project. By interrogating standard narratives of Italian Fascist propaganda on the one hand and American Cold War imperialism on the other, this book establishes a more nuanced transnational approach. The central thesis is that beyond the immediate aims of political propaganda and conquering a new market for Italian art, these art exhibitions, publications, and the critical discourse aimed at American audiences all reflected back on their makers; they forced and helped Italians define their own modernity in relation to the world's new dominant cultural and economic power. The book will be of interest to scholars working in art history, social history, exhibition history, and Italian studies.

Heinz Tesar, Sammlung Essl, Klosterneuburg Heinz Tesar, Gottfried Knapp, 2000. Text in English and German. Heinz Tesar's buildings occupy a very particular place on the Austrian architectural scene, which is anyway populated by a lot of individualists. There is a great deal of creative imagination at work here, which always operates outside the scope of modern routine. The town of Klosterneuburg, north of Vienna, has become something like an artistic home.

for Tessa The Schönerhaus an office building whose huge oval central hall leaves convention far behind and the Protestant church which has a rounded floor plan like a tear drop were now followed by the impressive museum he has built here to house 4000 objects from the private ESSL collection which includes the most important collection of Austrian art after 1945 The floor plan is based on a triangle Above a storage floor that runs the whole length of the building three individually shaped architectural entities are grouped around a green courtyard The elaborately orchestrated section of the building on the short leg of the triangle accommodates the entrance foyer staircase library offices and a flat The long side of the triangle contains the hall for temporary exhibitions extending over two storeys on the lower floor it is glazed on the courtyard side and in the upper storey it is lit partly from the side and partly from the skylights in the slightly undulating roof The hypotenuse is made up of a sequence of parallel galleries they are topped by lanterns which admit a great deal of daylight Finally Tessa gives the cubic building an organic touch with a curved flourish at the tip of the triangle Following Gehry and Zumthor who have recently made important contributions to the theme of art museums Tessa is now offering a variant that responds very physically to its surroundings creating individual spaces with a variety of light
