ongoing struggles for rights and representation in today's society      Sir Oliver Mowat A. Margaret Evans, 1992-12-15 Few political leaders in Ontario's history have had as lasting an impact on the province and perhaps on the nation as Oliver Mowat premier from 1872 to 1896 Under his leadership Ontario flourished economically socially and politically Among the many political skills that Mowat brought to office one of the most useful was pragmatism He was able to establish a rock solid style that appealed to a wide spectrum of the electorate rural and urban Catholic and Protestant He was also adept at redrawing constituency boundaries and extending the franchise at opportune times Margaret Evans's biography of Mowat is in some ways the story of a golden age in the province's history During this period Ontario modernized agriculture and industry opened the north developed natural resources addressed social problems and accepted trade unions Above all it established itself as the dominant province in Confederation This last was accomplished through a stubborn struggle with Ottawa John A Macdonald fought hard against Mowat's provincial rights moves and referred to the premier as the little tyrant But Mowat prevailed The Canada that emerged was a less centralized state than Macdonald had ever wanted the provinces had substantially more power A century later that legacy of diffused power has been at the centre of much of Canada's constitutional debate      The Feminist Challenge to the Canadian Left, 1900-1918 Janice Newton, 1995 The resurgence of feminism in the early 1970's created shock waves across Canadian society that can be felt to this day One of its results was a growing interest in women's history which initially focused on the struggle of women around the turn of the century to gain the right to vote      In Times Like These Nellie Lillian McClung, 2017-06-22 Nellie McClung's fourth book In Times Like These written in 1915 survives as a classic formulation of a feminist position With hard hitting rhetoric it demands women's rights as a logical extension of traditional views of female moral superiority and maternal responsibility

The Struggle for Social Justice in British Columbia Irene Howard, 2011-11-01 Helena Gutteridge was a socialist and feminist whose vision helped to shape social reform legislation in British Columbia in the first decades of the twentieth century and also one of the first women there to hold high political office She was born in England in 1879 A militant suffragist tutored by the Pankhursts she learned the politics of confrontation early Emigrating to Vancouver in 1911 she found the suffrage movement there too polite and organized the B C Woman's Suffrage League to help working women fight for the vote And she kept on organizing As a journeyman tailor she was a power in her union local and as the only woman on the Vancouver Trades and Labor Council their rebel girl she championed the rights of workers and organized women to fight for themselves In the 1930s as a member of the feisty new political movement the Co-operative Commonwealth Federation she joined in the struggles of the unemployed for work and wages Then in 1937 as the first woman ever elected to Vancouver City Council she led the fight for low income housing As was typical for women of her class and time Helena did not keep personal records nor did organizational records exist to any extent Irene Howard made it her task over a period of years to search out and assemble details of Helena's life and career and to interview old comrades who knew Helena and the turbulent times in which she lived Herself a miner's daughter the author brings to her subject an affectionate regard and sympathy qualified by the larger view of the scholar and researcher The result is a lively biography shot through with humour and pathos that pays homage to Helena Gutteridge and to many of the people who have been inspired by a cause and who have taught us about the politics of caring Changing Women, Changing History Diana Pederson, 1996-10-15
