Play: A Theory of Learning and Change Tara

Brabazon, 2015-12-12 This book examines the question of why play is a happy and benevolent verb in childhood yet a subjective label of behaviour in adulthood It studies the transformation of the positively labelled term child's play used to refer to our early years into an aberrance or deviation from normal social relationships in later life when we speak of playing up or playing around It answers the question by proposing play as a theory of learning an ideology that circumscribes behaviour and a way of thinking Written by scholars of early childhood through to further and higher education the book presents research on play enacted in a way that arches beyond the specificity of age groups or predictive normative patterns It is international in its focus moving beyond insular inward and parochial educational standards and limitations in one city province state or nation Finally it demonstrates the value of play to educational policy and theories of learning

A Practical Guide to Nature-Based Practice Niki Buchan, 2017-02-09 WINNER OF THE 2018 NURSERY WORLD STAFF RESOURCES AWARD There is a growing realisation that children in the Early Years benefit from being involved in wild spaces They need dynamic and complex outdoor environments and opportunities for risk and challenge to play with abandon have first hand experiences places where there is adventure delight daring and joy In this exciting book outdoor education guru Niki Buchan offers ideas for natural learning in the Early Years She provides a background to forest school and its relevance to Early Years settings outlines the challenges and benefits of free play and a risk taking disposition in children and uses case studies from educators to explore the concept of nature based practice A Practical Guide to Nature Based Practice presents ideas for outdoor learning that can be used all year round whatever the season This full colour book will help adults and children alike to reconnect with their local environment making it a must have for any Early Years setting

Imagination for Inclusion Derek Bland, 2016-02-12 Imagination for Inclusion offers a reconsideration of the ways in which imagination engages and empowers learners across the education spectrum from primary to adult levels and in all subject areas Imagination as a natural expedient and exciting learning tool should be central to any approach to developing and implementing curriculum but is increasingly undervalued as learners progress through the education system this disregards not only imagination's potential but its paramount place in informing truly inclusive approaches to teaching and learning This book presents a new theory of imagination and includes discussion about its application to teaching and learning to increase the engagement of disaffected students and reinvigorate their relationships with curriculum content Chapters include key ideas and discussion surrounding the benefits of introducing imaginative practices into the classroom for learners from a range of marginalised backgrounds such as young people with disabilities and adult learners from socio economically disadvantaged environments In exploring imagination in the practice of inclusive education the book includes chapters from researchers and practitioners in education who have fresh ideas about how learners and teachers have benefited from introducing imaginative pedagogies The diverse collection featuring writers with backgrounds from early childhood to adult education will be essential reading for academics and researchers in the fields of education inclusive education social policy professional development teacher education and creativity It will be of particular interest to current and pre service teachers who want to develop inclusive practice and increase the engagement of all students with formal education

Innovative Teaching and Learning in Primary Schools Des Hewitt, Susan Tarrant, 2015-02-12 Innovation in the classroom is about empowering teachers to develop intelligent creative and effective teaching methods that will challenge and engage learners Drawing on contemporary research and case studies from the UK and internationally this book examines the theory behind innovative teaching and learning and its practical application in primary schools Reflection points throughout the chapters encourage self evaluation and development giving students greater confidence to plan and deliver their own innovative teaching Topics covered include Creative approaches to learning in primary and early years education Using different settings and technologies to develop thinking skills Promoting positive classroom behaviour and inclusion Innovation in planning and assessment

Handbook of Curriculum Theory, Research, and Practice Peter Pericles Trifonas, Susan Jagger, 2024-02-22 This Handbook paints a portrait of what the international field of curriculum entails in theory research and practice It represents the field accurately and comprehensively by preserving the individual voices of curriculum theorist researchers and practitioners in relation to the ideas rules and principles that have evolved out of the history of curriculum as theory research and practice dealing with specific and general issues Due to its approach to both specific and general curriculum issues the chapters in this volume vary with respect to scope Some engage the purposes and politics of schooling in general Others focus on particular topics such as evaluation the use of instructional objectives or curriculum integration They illustrate recurrent themes and historical antecedents and the curricular debates arising from and grounded in epistemological traditions Furthermore the issues raised in the handbook cut across a variety of subject areas and levels of education and how curricular research and practice have developed over time This includes the epistemological foundations of dominant ideas in the field around theory research and practice that have led to marginalization based on race class gender sexuality ethnicity age religion and ability The book argues that basic curriculum issues extend well beyond schooling to include the concerns of anyone interested in how people come to acquire the knowledge skills and values that they do in relation to subjectivity and experience Play and Playwork Fraser Brown, Mike Wragg, 2019-07-09 Bringing together authors from a range of academic disciplines and research backgrounds united as standard bearers for the child's right to play and set against a backdrop evoking play's critical essence this book documents the rise and fall of an explosive period of political interest in play in the UK Has the withdrawal of so much state funding damaged the playwork profession forever Has the battle for recognition of the significance of play in child development been lost Why is children's happiness always so low on the agendas of our politicians The invaluable contributions in this book identify the lessons learned and the opportunities that may be available to those determined to maintain the struggle for a greater recognition of the importance of children's play in an era defined by the oppressive politics of austerity This book was originally published as a special issue of the International Journal of Play Your Child From Birth to Eight Pam Linke, 2012-04-01 The bond between parent and child is extremely important and needs to be fostered Your Child from Birth to Eight provides a supportive and practical guide to the physical emotional social and cognitive development of young children While children develop differently in accordance with their genetic inheritance and environment Pam Linke renowned social worker and early childhood expert clearly defines the steps which help parents to know what milestones children can be expected to reach at different ages and stages and how best to support their learning An invaluable resource for all parents and carers Your Child from Birth to Eight encapsulates the wisdom and experience of other mums and dads as well as social workers health professionals early childhood practitioners and teachers who engage regularly with children from birth to eight Pam Linke is a social worker with a specific interest in early childhood In 2006 Pam was awarded the Order of Australia for her professional services in the field Research Anthology on Navigating School Counseling in the 21st Century Management Association, Information Resources, 2021-04-16 School counseling in the 21st century requires a new set of skills and practices than seen in past decades With a sharper focus on social justice the experiences and challenges for marginalized groups and more open discussions as to issues students face school counselors must be best equipped to handle all types of diverse students and situations School counselors and guidance programs must address multicultural needs underserved populations and students with issues ranging from mental illness to family issues to chronic illnesses and LGBTQ identities Moreover they must be prepared to guide students to learning success and adequately prepare them for future careers The challenges students face in the 21st century lead to new ways to prepare support and educate school counselors in modern educational atmospheres with student bodies that are handling vastly different challenges identities and lifestyles School counselors must navigate the profession with information on best practices techniques and 21st century skillsets that can adequately support and help all students The Research Anthology on Navigating School Counseling in the 21st Century provides emerging research on the best practices in school counseling along with methods techniques and professional development initiatives to better understand diverse student populations needs and challenges This book will not only focus on how school counselors must adapt and learn in their own professional careers but also how school counseling is functioning in the 21st century with the new concerns and obstacles students must face and overcome The chapters provide a holistic view of how counselors are navigating their positions to best serve their students through effective practices programs and new tools and technologies This book is ideal for school counselors therapists school psychologists counseling educators administrators practitioners researchers academicians and students who are interested in school counseling in the 21st century

Cultivating a Culture of Nonviolence in Early Childhood Development Centers and Schools Taukeni, Simon George, 2019-02-15 With the recent uptick of violence in schools it is essential to strategize new concepts for promoting nonviolent tendencies in children and creating safe environments Through nonviolent teaching techniques it is possible to effectively demonstrate mutual respect tolerance and compassion in order to have a lasting peace Cultivating a Culture of Nonviolence in Early Childhood Development Centers and Schools aims to expand and deepen multicultural nonviolent teaching techniques and concepts to achieve desired outcomes for early childhood development centers schools institutions of higher learning and centers of teacher development and training While highlighting topics including child development conflict resolution and classroom leadership this book is ideally designed for teachers directors principals teacher organizations school counselors psychologists social workers government officials policymakers researchers and students

Unschooling To University Judy L. Arnall, 2018-09-21 School is one option for education homeschooling is the second and unschooling is the third Many parents are frustrated by the school system perhaps because of bullying crowded classrooms and outdated dull online courses Disengaged learners that have no say in their coerced curriculum tend to act out tune out or drop out Education must change and unschooling is the fastest growing alternative method of learning Two decades ago students registered with their local school based on their house address Now with the internet students are borderless Learning can occur anywhere anytime anyway and from anyone including self taught Self directing their education unschoolers learn through Play Projects Reading Volunteering Video games Sports Mentorship Travel Life This book explores the path of 30 unschooled children who self directed all or part of their education and were accepted by universities colleges and other postsecondary schools Most have already graduated What children need most are close relationships parents teachers siblings relatives coaches and mentors within a wider community not just within an institutional school Educational content is everywhere Caring relationships are not Families that embrace unschooling do not have to choose between a quality education and a relaxed connected family lifestyle They can have both
