Empowering Women Illustrations From The Third World:

Women and Empowerment Haleh Afshar, 2016-07-27 The authors in this volume address the questions What is empowerment Is it power over resources Is it the ability to create effective demand Is it about the ability to make choices Is it about access to resources and how they are controlled politically economically by NGOs by political parties by the state Do political parties facilitate or do they channel energies away from empowerment They evaluate how in different circumstances different political agents have been seen as provider of resources

Empowering Indian Women Through Resilience Abha Singh, Rahul Bhadouria, Sachchidanand Tripathi, Ritu Modi, Shashidhar Gupta, 2025-02-24 The book examines various aspects of women empowerment in South Asia particularly in India The term empowerment refers to women's liberation from social economic restraints of reliance Women worldwide actively work as leaders and establish new dimensions in all fields Yet in India although women comprise around 50% of India's population most stay economically dependent and in most Indian villages and towns women are still denied fundamental education After more than 75 years of independence as a country we need to take a long overdue in depth look at empowering women in India and how women empowerment should be a powerful tool for national development This book aims to discuss the empowerment of women through examining the social and personal challenges faced by women as well as evaluating areas such as gender discrimination education opportunity and employment opportunity

Women's Lives and Livelihoods in Post-Soviet Uzbekistan Zulfiya Tursunova, 2014-06-05 Women in Uzbekistan have been labeled as victims of patriarchy and submissive voiceless bodies who lack agency and decision making power They are also often symbolized as preservers of rituals and culture and also the victims of socio economic transformations During the years of land tenure changes from collectivization to de collectivization World War II and the five year plan economy women played a vital role in pursuing a diverse range of livelihood opportunities to sustain their families and communities But what kind of livelihood activities do women pursue in rural areas in Uzbekistan What do they think about themselves Do they exercise agency What are their values desires dreams and inspirations in the post Soviet period in Uzbekistan Women's Lives and Livelihoods in Post Soviet Uzbekistan presents women's voices and their experiences of carrying out livelihood activities such as farming trading baking sewing building greenhouses and establishing furniture workshops In a major contribution to the study of post Soviet transformations Zulfiya Tursunova demonstrates how women exercise multi dimensional empowerment by joining social and economic saving networks such as gap and chernaya kassa These networks represent a collective movement and action against economic dependency of women on men and the state micro loan bank system The networks that do not require external donor interventions have been able to empower women for social justice knowledge redistribution of resources and conflict resolution in ways that are vital to community development Tursunova provides accounts of such ceremonies as mavlud ihson Bibi Seshanba and Mushkul Kushod These ceremonies show the ways the conflict resolution practices of women are woven into their everyday life and function autonomously from the hierarchical elite driven Women's Committees and state court systems established in the Soviet times. Many local healers and other religious teachers use their discursive knowledge based on Islam, Sufism, shamanism and animism to challenge and transform women's subordination, abuse and other practices that impinge on women's needs and rights. These female religious leaders through different ceremonial practices create space for raising the critical consciousness of women and transform the social order for maintaining peace in the communities.

Global Insights on Women Empowerment and Leadership Haoucha, Malika, 2024-05-28. In a world persistently grappling with gender disparities, the quest for women's empowerment and leadership stands as a pivotal challenge on the global stage. Across diverse societies, the journey towards gender equality in leadership remains fraught with systemic barriers, deeply ingrained stereotypes and institutional hurdles. From corporate boardrooms to political arenas, women continue to face challenges in realizing their leadership potential. Global Insights on Women Empowerment and Leadership unveils this intricate narrative, offering a nuanced exploration of the triumphs, challenges and evolving landscapes that define women's pursuit of empowerment across continents and cultures. Through a meticulously woven tapestry of stories, experiences and struggles, the book sheds light on the shared aspirations and unique journeys of women navigating pathways towards parity and influence. This comprehensive resource is tailored for a diverse audience, including leaders and decision makers across sectors, educators and students in gender studies, activists and advocates for social justice, professionals aiming for inclusive workplaces, international development organizations seeking effective strategies and general readers interested in societal shifts. By catering to this spectrum, the book serves as a guide, offering insights, practical strategies and inspiration for those committed to fostering environments where women can thrive as leaders, contributing to a more equitable world.

Women, Globalization and Fragmentation in the Developing World H. Afshar, S. Barrientos, 1999-07-05. The process of globalization has had a dramatic impact on the lives of women in developing countries in the past decade. They have been increasingly drawn into insecure, flexible employment working for the world market. The feminisation of the labour market has increased the burdens on women and the inability of men to access full-time, well remunerated employment has exacerbated the process of male out-migration and has left many families headed by women. At the same time, the reduction in state services and welfare has increased the burdens placed on women. Nevertheless, the consequences of globalization have been different for different women in different places. In some circumstances, it has created opportunities for greater empowerment, whilst in others, it has stimulated a reaction and increased the subordination of women. This book explores the experiences of women in diverse local contexts within different cultures and faiths, drawing on case studies from Asia, Africa and Latin America. It draws out the contradictory and fragmented impact of globalization at the local level on the lives of women in the developing world.

Understanding the organizational approaches of funders and project implementers to strengthen women's empowerment through agricultural collectives Rubin, Deborah, 2024-10-07. This paper reports on approaches for strengthening women's empowerment that were implemented by project partners involved in the International Food Policy Research IFPRI led Applying New Evidence for Women's Empowerment ANEW project funded by the Walmart Foundation. The study explores the partner organizations' websites and publications, project materials and selected staff interviews to better understand how each envisions women's empowerment and the pathways for supporting it. The four implementing project partners are Grameen Foundation, Professional Assistance for Development Action (PRADAN) in India, Root Capital in Mexico and TechnoServe in Guatemala. Their programs and their organizational approaches vary in whether they primarily focus on women rather than more broadly targeting both women and men and their gender relationships. Some organizations are more organic in integrating attention to gender and empowerment into their programs, designing and implementing an approach on a case-by-case basis. Others are more intentional in establishing organization-wide policies, strategies and monitoring systems. The organizations also differ in their positions on supporting economic empowerment and clear economic benefits such as prioritizing increased income or assets in contrast to those that also seek to actively change social norms and achieve other social dimensions of empowerment that encompass behaviors around decision making, mobility and self-confidence. Another variation is in the organizations' attention to enterprise development and consequently to entrepreneurship and upgrading and what aspects of women's empowerment are most critical for achieving those goals. This paper offers implementers and their funders insight into organizational differences in approaches to women's empowerment. The review demonstrates that both funders and implementers continue to focus on strengthening women's economic empowerment by increasing women's incomes and assets, often with good results. However, they often lack clear theories of change or explicit strategies to strengthen other dimensions of women's empowerment. More nuanced evidence-based theories of change and targeted actions could strengthen program design to expand and support women's achievement of empowerment across all its dimensions.

International Handbook of Teacher Quality and Policy Motoko Akiba, Gerald K. LeTendre, 2017-09-01. The International Handbook of Teacher Quality and Policy is a comprehensive resource that examines how teacher quality is conceptualized, negotiated and contested and teacher policies are developed and implemented by global, national and local policy actors. Edited by two of the leading comparative authorities in the field, it draws on the research and contributions of scholars from across the globe to explore five central questions: How has teacher quality been conceptualized from various disciplinary and theoretical perspectives? How are global and transnational policy actors and networks influencing teacher policies and practices? What are the perspectives and experiences of teachers in local policy contexts? What do comparative research studies tell us about teachers and how their work and policy contexts influence their teaching? How have various countries implemented policies aimed at improving teacher quality and how have these policies influenced teachers and students? The international contributors represent a wide variety of scholars who identify global dynamics influencing policy discourses on teacher quality and examine national and local teaching and policy environments.

influencing teacher policy development and implementation in various countries Divided into five sections the book brings together the latest conceptual and empirical studies on teacher quality and teacher policies to inform future policy directions for recruiting educating and supporting the teaching profession      Networking Arguments Rebecca Dingo,2012-04-22

Networking Arguments presents an original study on the use and misuse of global institutional rhetoric and the effects of these practices on women particularly in developing countries Using a feminist lens Rebecca Dingo views the complex networks that rhetoric flows through globally and nationally and how it is often reconfigured to work both for and against women and to maintain existing power structures To see how rhetorics travel Dingo deconstructs the central terminology employed by global institutions mainstreaming fitness and empowerment and shows how their meanings shift depending on the contexts in which they are used She studies programs by the World Bank the United Nations and the United States among others to view the original policies then follows the trail of their diffusion and manipulation and the ultimate consequences for individuals To analyze transnational rhetorical processes Dingo builds a theoretical framework by employing concepts of transcoding ideological traffic and interarticulation to uncover the intricacies of power relationships at work within networks She also views transnational capitalism neoliberal economics and neocolonial ideologies as primary determinants of policy and arguments over women's roles in the global economy Networking Arguments offers a new method of feminist rhetorical analysis that allows for an increased understanding of global gender policies and encourages strategies to counteract the negative effects they can create      The Poor Always Pay Back Asif Dowla,Dipal Barua,2006 Nobel Prize winning microcredit institution Grameen Bank has financially empowered the poorest families in more than a hundred countries across the globe for over three decades through savings and loans Recently Grameen has undergone a complete overhaul of its system creating Grameen II and seeking to make its loan programs more effective The Poor Always Pay Back not only uncovers how a major financial institution is able to change its system in response to the needs of its borrowers but also how Grameen redefined and continues to redefine the basic assumptions of credit worthiness The immense success of Grameen Bank shows a hopeful trend in the alleviation of poverty Grameen Bank II is addressing the frontier issues in microfinance open access savings flexible loan products self reliance and absence of donor dependency for funds and product development to cater to the needs of the retirees Grameen Pension Scheme and their adult children Higher Education Loans The story behind these and other innovations show why Grameen has become such an inspiration to those working for social justice everywhere      Cultural Hybridity and the Environment Kirsten Maclean,2015-02-07 This book highlights the importance of diversity in overcoming issues of social and environmental degradation It presents conceptual and practical strategies to celebrate local and Indigenous knowledge for improved community development and environmental management David Harvey has proclaimed The geography we make must be a peoples geography This clarion call challenges geographers around the world to consider the power and potential of geographic knowledge as the basis for social action a call this book answers providing readers the theoretical and conceptual tools needed to understand the social world and empowering them to mobilize social change The author uses empirical case studies of two environmental management and community development projects to document how knowledge generation is essentially locally situated and socially derived In doing so she charts a path for moving beyond what Vandana Shiva so aptly describes as monocultures of the mind The book argues that local and Indigenous knowledge must not be seen in opposition to scientific knowledge as none of these knowledge traditions hold all the answers to localized socio environmental problems Rather as the author explores through a set of processes and strategies to enable support and celebrate cultural hybridity at the local environmental governance scale these respective knowledge systems can learn to speak to each other Such dialogue has the potential to support more sustainable outcomes at multiple environmental governance locales This book will be of interest to everyone involved in environmental policy planning or politics and for those who want to make this planet a more sustainable and just place Logics of
