Cho, 2021-10-21 Sung Cho addresses the seeming contradiction of Herod the Great's massacre in Matthew 2 16 18 questioning why such a tragedy had to occur why it was included in the good news of Jesus and what connection it has to ancient prophecies In creating a reception history of the Massacre of the Innocents Cho progresses through two millennia worth of interpretation and depiction to highlight key works for discussion Beginning with a close reading of Matthew 2 16 18 Cho moves to analyse depictions of the tragedy in the Early Patristic Tradition from the sixth century to the early modern period and thus to the present day complete with an examination of visual interpretations of the massacre Cho's examination provides a positive step to understanding the depths of human suffering with the help of many diverse perspectives Beeton's Men of the age and annals of the time

Petrarch and the Literary Culture of Nineteenth-century France Jennifer Rushworth, 2017 A consideration of Petrarch's influence on and appearance in French texts and in particular his appropriation by the Avignoneses Was Petrarch French This book explores the various answers to that bold question offered by French readers and translators of Petrarch working in a period of less well known but equally rich Petrarchism the nineteenth century It considers both translations and rewritings the former comprise not only Petrarch's celebrated Italian poetry but also his often neglected Latin works the latter explore Petrarch's influence on and presence in French novels as well as poetry of the period both in and out of the canon Nineteenth century French Petrarchism has its roots in the later part of the previous century with formative contributions from Voltaire Rousseau and in particular the abbé de Sade To these literary catalysts must be added the unification of Avignon with France at the Revolution as well as anniversary commemorations of Petrarch's birth and death celebrated in Avignon and Fontaine de Vaucluse across the period 1804-1874-1904. Situated at the crossroads of reception history, medievalism and translation studies, this investigation uncovers tensions between the competing construction of a national French Petrarch and a local Avignonese or Provençal poet. Taking Petrarch as its litmus test, this book also asks probing questions about the bases of nationality, identity and belonging. Jennifer Rushworth is a Junior Research Fellow at St John's College, Oxford.
