Leintwardine in Herefordshire to BBC film perfect Askrigg in Yorkshire to higgledy piggledy tourist hub Polperro in Cornwall to Miserden in Gloucestershire with its staggeringly beautiful gardens to Pittenweemin Fife still eking a living from fishing to the warring villages of Donhead St Mary and Donhead St Andrew in Wiltshire History and architecture account for some differences the memorials in churches the details of door frames and chimney stacks but there are also differences of spirit and in how life is lived there today What are the thriving local businesses What are they selling in the shops or are there shops at all What are the traditions old or invented Who are the people who make these communities work In this captivating volume Clive Aslet draws on thirty years of travel in the countryside working for Britain's Country Life magazine to give us a living personal and opinionated history of five hundred of Britain's most beautiful and vibrant villages Meticulously researched and drawing from conversations with local residents publicans and vicars this book is both an indispensable gazetteer for anyone planning to tour the countryside and a portrait of rural Britain in a time of change All in the Best Possible Taste Tom Bromley, 2010-08-19 Television past as LP Hartley might have once said is another country And in the early 1980s it certainly was a different beast There were still only three channels to watch the evening's programmes finished with the playing of the national anthem and the biggest prize on TV was not Chris Tarrant's million pounds but a speedboat on Bullseye But as Tom Bromley suggests in this funny and warming memoir all that was about to change The 1980s saw the end of the original golden era of television and the beginnings of TV as we know it today In 1982 Channel 4 became the first new terrestrial channel for almost twenty years and by the end of the decade Rupert Murdoch's Sky Television was vying to become Britain's first multi channel provider The result of all this was that slowly but surely British viewers had more choice than ever before and the cost of this choice was the erosion of television as a shared national event And no one felt this change more deeply than Tom Bromley Television played a large part in Tom's childhood His first word was two as in BBC Two and his earliest childhood memory is seeing Johnny Ball at a church fete With great humour and affection Tom Bromley tells the story of a childhood spent with his three siblings and that other all important family member the television set Emmerdale at War Pamela Bell, 2019-10-03 The perfect Christmas gift full of warmth and nostalgia for fans of ITV's Emmerdale and readers who love heartwarming and heartbreaking stories set during World War II Britain is at war once again and the families of Emmerdale are trying their best to cope with a new way of life Rationing has been introduced across the country two million more men have been called up for service and blackouts evacuees and military training camps have become the norm In Beckindale three young women are about to find their lives changed forever Annie Pearson is working on Emmerdale Farm while her love Edward Sugden is at the front line Lily Dingle has found purpose in joining the ATS though she may get more than she bargained for And Meg Warcup now teaching at the local school has taken in two children evacuated from Hull They've adjusted to their new way of life until one day a German plane comes crashing down in the village and changes everything in the village of Beckindale The third novel in the Emmerdale series transports us
