Empowering and Healing the Battered Woman Mary Ann Dutton, PhD, 1992-08-15 The book spells out in practical concrete terms what it really means to place the pathology outside the battered woman The novelty in this approach lies in the implications for practice battered women are not sick they are in a sick situation Practical and comprehensive an excellent guide for clinicians and other interveners Mary Ann Dutton s book Empowering and Healing the Battered Woman integrates psychological theory with detailed information on the real life dimensions of abused women s posttraumatic responses and the strategies for assessment that form a part of each chapter are particularly valuable Dutton s approach of understanding women s experiences of violence in context and of empowering abused women will also serve to empower and free those providing services to women victims of partner violence Angela Browne PhD University of Massachusetts Medical School Author When Battered Women Kill Drawing upon her vast clinical academic and forensic background Mary Ann Dutton shows us that women experience abuse in many different ways and employ a wide range of techniques to survive the abuse She then offers numerous suggestions for working with battered women all predicted on ethical feminist principles Although geared toward clinicians this book is a great resource for battered women s advocate law enforcement officials and attorneys for anyone who comes into contact with battered women Sue Osthoff Director National Clearinghouse for the Defense of Battered Women Finally a book on battered women that shelter workers can recommend to traditionally trained therapists Dutton provides a conceptual framework for understanding the differing needs of battered women support advocacy and healing Not all battered women are the same Dutton details both the assessment processes and therapeutic approaches that acknowledge those differences Anne L Ganley PhD Domestic Violence Program Seattle V A Medical Center

Empowering and Healing the Battered Woman Mary Ann Dutton, 1992-08-15 In this volume Mary Ann Dutton presents her innovative work with battered women It is solidly grounded in research as well as in the social and political analysis of domestic violence Her work is based on extensive contact with battered women in both clinical and forensic settings Dutton first outlines a conceptual framework for understanding the battered woman s response to violence abuse and control This serves as the foundation for both assessment and intervention Her framework has application within both a clinical and a forensic context She also discusses battered women s strategies for escape avoidance and survival The text spells out in concrete practical terms what it means to place the pathology outside the battered woman and its implication for practice that battered women are not sick but they are in a sick situation From this premise Dutton creates a model with three primary goals for working with battered women 1 safety first 2 empowerment through choice making and 3 healing the psychological trauma This is an essential book for mental health professionals involved with clinical intervention in domestic violence and for legal professionals interested in understanding the impact of domestic violence on battered women

Clearinghouse Review ,1996      Domestic Violence and Mental Health Louise Howard, Gene Feder, Roxanne

Agnew-Davies,2013-05 People with mental health problems are more likely to be a victim of domestic violence than the general population This text offers practical guidance on how mental health professionals can identify and respond to domestic violence experienced by their patients      Making an Impact Marianne Hester,2007 Previously published under the author Marianne Hester      Working with Client Experiences of Domestic Abuse Jeannette Roddy,2023-06-30 This edited volume shares relevant theory and practical strategies to support counsellors to work effectively with those who have experienced domestic abuse The effect of relational and other abuses can impact an individual s ability to engage with family friends counsellors or other professionals trying to support them due to reduced ability to trust and the impact of complex trauma Helping someone to recover requires specific knowledge and skills not usually part of a standard professional training program This book acts as a training manual providing an overview of what clients need at different stages of recovery It contains chapters written by staff who deliver counselling and mental health training and provides their insight into the specific issues that clients may present suggesting constructive and accessible suggestions for practice and a chapter on counsellor self care The reflections exercises in each chapter will help the reader assess their competency Working with Client Experiences of Domestic Abuse will be of interest to mental health professionals counselling training courses and domestic violence services who wish to incorporate counselling as part of their service offer      Rebuilding Lives after Domestic Violence Hilary Abrahams,2010-05-15 Rebuilding Lives after Domestic Violence examines in depth the long term outcomes for women who have suffered domestic violence and abuse based on interviews conducted over seven years Through these interviews the author reveals the factors which help or hinder a successful transition from abusive relationship to independent living      Intimate Partner Violence Sana Loue,2005-12-08 It is clear that physical abuse is an integral component of some intimate relationships This book addresses not the violence but our responses or lack of responses to that violation of personal integrity and the accompanying trauma How partner violence is responded to individually and collectively may well determine whether the violence can be prevented or will cease once begun This text is intended to serve as a basic resource for the student clinician and researcher It provides a summary of how we have responded to such violence in the past and presents potential future directions for research and prevention efforts

Violence and Sexual Abuse at Home Susan Sorenson,Paula Lundberg Love,2014-01-09 Violence and abuse that occur behind closed doors are not just personal concerns or issues Family violence is a major mental health social service health care and criminal justice problem that society cannot continue to ignore Violence and Sexual Abuse at Home gives you the facts of spouse partner and child maltreatment an analysis of the intervention and prevention techniques commonly used and alternative approaches and theories for understanding and reducing instances of family abuse The factors behind maltreatment are multiple and diverse Because there are so many approaches to treating perpetrators and victims choosing a treatment strategy can sometimes feel overwhelming Use Violence and Sexual Abuse at Home to help you decide which treatment models will be most effective in particular situations Don't risk low success rates with your patients This comprehensive guidebook can help you refine your treatment strategies as you better your understanding of mutual combat the ethical issues and legal mandates involved in reporting family maltreatment biological issues and aggression the causes of the physical maltreatment of children maltreatment of children with disabilities the debate surrounding parent alienation syndrome difficulties in diagnosing incest offenders the impact of child sexual maltreatment on the survivor's sexuality and sexual functioning the repression dissociation and delayed recall of traumatic events Violence and Sexual Abuse at Home shows clinicians researchers advocates and other professionals the importance of broadening their perspectives of all types of family maltreatment Anyone working with people who abuse and or with adults and children who are or have been abused should understand the developmental social psychological cultural and biological issues at play in violent home environments

Clear Law Enforcement for Criminal Alien Removal Act of 2003 United States. Congress. House. Committee on the Judiciary. Subcommittee on Immigration, Border Security, and Claims, 2003 Battered Women in the Courtroom James Ptacek, 1999 For the first time a study of the ways in which judges respond to abused women Tomorrow's Criminals N. Wim Slot, Machteld Hoeve, 2016-02-24 It has been acknowledged for some years that the early onset of delinquency can predict a long and serious criminal career Most resources are targeted at the teenage years but this book argues convincingly that more research and interventions should be aimed at child delinquents aged 12 and under Tomorrow's Criminals addresses key problems in criminological research and makes studies from the Netherlands more accessible to a wider audience It provides information and analyses on risk factors and reviews screening tools and risk focused prevention methods The contributions increase visibility and accessibility of European policy and practice in the explanation and prevention of child delinquency Health Care Ethics Donald VanDeVeer, Tom Regan, 1987 The Public Nature of Private Violence Martha Fineman, Roxanne Mykitiuk, 1994 First Published in 1994 Routledge is an imprint of Taylor Francis an informa company What Causes Men's Violence Against Women? Michele Harway, James M. O'Neil, 1999-09-09 Carefully organized and tightly edited this insightful book considers potential causes of men's violence against women utilizing a variety of theoretical perspectives It summarizes what is known about the multiple causes of men's violence against women and the importance of identifying men's risk factors in order to prevent future violence The editors approach is unique but systematic In chapter 2 the editors present a preliminary multivariate model that explains men's violence against women by identifying four content areas macrosocietal biological gender role socialization and relation factors Within these four areas the editors develop thirteen preliminary hypotheses about the causes of men's violence against women In the subsequent chapters the contributing authors critique or react to specific parts of the multivariate model and address one or more of the 13 hypotheses in the presentation of their own ideas about the causes of men's violence against women In the concluding chapter the editors summarize the contributors reactions to the original hypotheses by creating a revised multivariate model of risk factors for men's violence against women. The final model includes biological, socialization, psychological, psychosocial, relational, and macrosocietal factors. Furthermore, the model is explained through 13 theoretical propositions, 40 research hypotheses, and over 60 risk variables related to men's violence against women. The book closes with a discussion of men's protective resiliency and vulnerability factors, as well as future directions for theory development, advocacy, and the prevention of violence against women.

Current Catalog National Library of Medicine (U.S.), 1993. First multi-year cumulation covers six years 1965-70.

Counselling Survivors of Domestic Abuse Christiane Sanderson, 2008-06-15. This book explains how counsellors can facilitate recovery from domestic abuse within a secure, supportive therapeutic relationship. Essential reading for all those working with survivors of domestic abuse, it examines the therapeutic techniques and specific challenges faced by professionals when working in such areas.

A Troubled Marriage Leigh Goodmark, 2013-11. Choice's Outstanding Academic Title list for 2013. The development of a legal regime to combat domestic violence in the United States has been lauded as one of the feminist movement's greatest triumphs. But Leigh Goodmark argues the resulting system is deeply flawed in ways that prevent it from assisting many women subjected to abuse. The current legal response to domestic violence is excessively focused on physical violence; this narrow definition of abuse fails to provide protection from behaviors that are profoundly damaging, including psychological, economic, and reproductive abuse. The system uses mandatory policies that deny women subjected to abuse autonomy and agency, substituting the state's priorities for women's goals. A Troubled Marriage is a provocative exploration of how the legal system's response to domestic violence developed, why that response is flawed, and what we should do to change it. Goodmark argues for an anti-essentialist system which would define abuse and allocate power in a manner attentive to the experiences, goals, needs, and priorities of individual women. Theoretically rich yet conversational, A Troubled Marriage imagines a legal system based on anti-essentialist principles and suggests ways to look beyond the system to help women find justice and economic stability, engage men in the struggle to end abuse, and develop community accountability for abuse.

Negotiating the Power of NGOs Reem Wael, 2019-04-11. This book focuses on the socio-political environment that allows for the impactful work of NGOs through their proximity to local communities. The book showcases how this space has helped South African women's rights NGOs to bring about crucial legal reforms, which are quite relevant to women's lived realities. Recognizing its limitations, the South African state encourages NGOs to work freely on the ground and with state institutions to ameliorate the conditions for women's rights. The outcome of this state-NGO dynamic can be seen in the numerous human rights gains achieved by NGOs in general and by women's rights organizations specifically. In addition, vulnerable communities such as women living under customary law have a significantly better chance to access justice. The book then demonstrates the opposite scenario using Egypt as a case study, where NGOs are viewed as a national threat and consequently operate under restrictive rules.

The Heart of Intimate Abuse Linda G. Mills, PhD, LCSW, JD, 1998-08-31. This startling analysis of violence within intimate relationships contends that every abusive relationship has paradoxically a heart of its own Practitioners must acknowledge and engage this dynamic emotional center in order for interventions to succeed The Heart of Intimate Abuse takes a broad critical view of standard responses to abuse by today s criminal justice social work and medical systems especially those that respond to violence with coercive interventions such as mandatory arrest prosecution and reporting laws Here is a bold vision of the core dynamics of abuse in families a vision that professionals can use to realize new policies and implement effective interventions that reach the heart of intimate abuse
