Empty Ocean:

The Empty Ocean Richard Ellis, 2013-03-19 In The Empty Ocean acclaimed author and artist Richard Ellis tells the story of our continued plunder of life in the sea and weighs the chances for its recovery Through fascinating portraits of a wide array of creatures he introduces us to the many forms of sea life that humans have fished hunted and collected over the centuries from charismatic whales and dolphins to the lowly menhaden from sea turtles to cod tuna and coral Rich in history anecdote and surprising fact Richard Ellis's descriptions bring to life the natural history of the various species the threats they face and the losses they have suffered Killing has occurred on a truly stunning scale with extinction all too often the result leaving a once teeming ocean greatly depleted But the author also finds instances of hope and resilience of species that have begun to make remarkable comebacks when given the opportunity Written with passion and grace and illustrated with Richard Ellis's own drawings The Empty Ocean brings to a wide audience a compelling view of the damage we have caused to life in the sea and what we can do about it ICC Register, 1987 Empty Promises Nick Shepherd, 2022-03-30

Fictioning Namibia as a Space of Desire Renzo Baas, 2019-02-25 Modern day Namibian history has largely been shaped by three major eras German colonial rule South African apartheid occupation and the Liberation Struggle It was however not only military conquest that laid the cornerstone for the colony but also how the colony was imagined the dream of this colony As a tool of discursive worldmaking literature has played a major role in providing a framework in which to dream Namibia first from outside its borders and then from within In Fictioning Namibia as a Space of Desire Renzo Baas employs Henri Lefebvres city countryside dialectic and reworks it in order to uncover how fictional texts played an integral part in the violent acquisition of a foreign territory Through the production of myths around whiteness German and South African authors designed a literary space in which control destruction and the dehumanisation of African peoples are understood as a natural order one that is dictated by history and its linear continuation These European texts are offset by Namibia's first novel by an African offering a counter narrative to the colonial invention that was German South West Africa
