Fall Of The South:

The Fall of Saigon Charles River Editors, 2019-09-27 Includes pictures Includes a bibliography for further reading The Vietnam War could have been called a comedy of errors if the consequences weren't so deadly and tragic In 1951 while war was raging in Korea the United States began signing defense pacts with nations in the Pacific intending to create alliances that would contain the spread of Communism As the Korean War was winding down America joined the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization pledging to defend several nations in the region from Communist aggression One of those nations was South Vietnam Before the Vietnam War most Americans would have been hard pressed to locate Vietnam on a map South Vietnamese President Diem's regime was extremely unpopular and war broke out between Communist North Vietnam and South Vietnam around the end of the 1950s Kennedy's administration tried to prop up the South Vietnamese with training and assistance but the South Vietnamese military was feeble A month before his death Kennedy signed a presidential directive withdrawing 1 000 American personnel and shortly after Kennedy's assassination new President Lyndon B Johnson reversed course instead opting to expand American assistance to South Vietnam Over the next few years the American military commitment to South Vietnam grew dramatically and the war effort became both deeper and more complex The strategy included parallel efforts to strengthen the economic and political foundations of the South Vietnamese regime to root out the Viet Cong guerrilla insurgency in the south combat the more conventional North Vietnamese Army NVA near the Demilitarized Zone between north and south and bomb military and industrial targets in North Vietnam itself In public American military officials and members of the Johnson administration stressed their tactical successes and offered rosy predictions speaking before the National Press Club in November 1967 General Westmoreland claimed I have never been more encouraged in the four years that I have been in Vietnam We are making real progress I am absolutely certain that whereas in 1965 the enemy was winning today he is certainly losing Ripe for the plucking by North Vietnam the country of South Vietnam found itself in an unenviable position in 1974 American forces rapidly withdrew leaving only a few advisers and other personnel in place of the large forces deployed in the Southeast Asian theater until recently President Gerald Ford and his staff completely outmatched at the negotiations during the American retreat parleyed from a position of weakness The North Vietnamese gave essentially no useful concessions since they had no reason to and they secured an American withdrawal without needing to remove their own advance units from South Vietnamese territory in return Naturally these facts reflected themselves in the morale of the two sides South Vietnamese morale collapsed to catastrophic levels and remained there though the ARVN Army of the Republic of Vietnam forces occasionally managed gallant even heroic stands The North Vietnamese by contrast felt confident of victory from the highest to the lowest ranks A mix of Marxist zeal and barely expressed but very real nationalism strengthened the resolve of the North Vietnamese's commanders and soldiers as well A haunting fear remained among the North Vietnamese that the Americans would return but each fresh success with no

American response made this concern recede further into the background As 1975 dawned the NVA prepared for a final series of campaigns to conquer the territory of South Vietnam leading to a chain of events that culminated with the fall of Saigon and some of the most infamous footage in 20th century America s history The Fall of Saigon The History of the Battle for South Vietnam s Capital and the End of the Vietnam War examines how the war ended Tears before the Rain Larry Engelmann,1990-08-30 In Tears Before the Rain a stunning oral history of the fall of South Vietnam Larry Engelmann has gathered together the testimony of seventy eyewitnesses both American and Vietnamese who capture the feel of history right here and now We hear the voices of nurses pilots television and print media figures the American Ambassador Graham Martin the CIA station chief Thomas Polgar Vietnamese generals Amerasian children even Vietcong and North Vietnamese soldiers Through this extraordinary range of perspectives we experience firsthand the final weeks before Saigon collapsed from President Thieu s cataclysmic withdrawal from Pleiku and Kontum to the last minute airlift of Americans from the embassy courtyard and roof Touching heroic harrowing and utterly unforgettable these dramatic narratives illuminate one of the central events of modern history Handbook of South Carolina South Carolina. Department of Agriculture,1908

The Fall of South Vietnam Stephen T. Hosmer,Konrad Kellen,Brian Michael Jenkins,1980 The Fall of South Vietnam is a unique military history It contains a wealth of original material gathered from former military and civilian officials It is a fascinating picture of failure drawn by the participants themselves The first part of the book is devoted to the setting before the 1975 enemy offensive and includes discussion of the Paris Agreements of 1973 The second part deals with the course of the collapse beginning with the loss of Phuoc Long in January 1975 BOOK JACKET The Southern Gardener's Book of Lists Lois Trigg Chaplin,1994-04 A virtual index to gardening in the South you can t afford to garden without this friendly anthology of personalities experiences and information The Fall of the South Clark Dougan,David Fulghum,1985 The communist offensive of 1975 Jacket subtitle Geological Survey Bulletin ,1949 Central and Southern Florida Project Comprehensive Review Study: app. D - Environmental evaluation analyses United States. accomplished including almost one hundred rarely or never seen before North Vietnamese unit histories battle studies and memoirs Most important to celebrate the 30th Anniversary of South Vietnam s conquest the leaders in Hanoi released several compendiums of formerly highly classified cables and memorandum between the Politburo and its military commanders in the south This treasure trove of primary source materials provides the most complete insight into North Vietnamese decision making ever compiled While South Vietnamese deliberations remain less clear enough material exists to provide a decent overview Ultimately whatever errors occurred on the American and South Vietnamese side the simple fact remains that the country was conquered by a North Vietnamese military invasion despite written pledges by Hanoi s leadership against such action Hanoi s momentous choice to destroy the Paris Peace Accords and militarily end the war sent a generation of South Vietnamese into exile and exacerbated a societal trauma in America over our long Vietnam involvement that reverberates to this day How that transpired deserves deeper scrutiny EPA-600/5 ,1979-02 Extent of Subversion in the "New Left" United States.
