Families Kevin McQuillan, Zenaida R. Ravanera, 2006-01-01 In recent years two significant trends have had a substantial impact on Canadian families First Canadian families have been dramatically altered by high rates of separation and divorce declining fertility greater popularity of alternative family arrangements such as cohabitation and increasing involvement of women in paid labour Second changes occurring in the economy and the larger society have brought new pressures to bear on families In Canada's Changing Families editors Kevin McQuillan and Zenaida R. Ravanera explore how these developments have altered family life Using data collected in recent surveys by Statistics Canada contributors to this volume illustrate how transformed conditions in the labour market have forced families to alter their routines and the division of responsibilities within the household At the same time the government striving to maintain or increase the competitive position of the economy has moved to control spending restrain taxes and reduce deficits The result has been new demands on the family to provide or supplement services that might otherwise be provided by the state Canada's Changing Families is an eye opening study and one of great contemporary relevance

Canadian Family Policies Maureen Baker, 1995-01-01 With poverty unemployment and one parent families on the rise in most Western democracies government assistance presents an increasingly urgent and complex problem This is the first study to explore Canada's family policies in an international context Maureen Baker looks at the successes and failures of social programs in other countries in search of solutions that might work in Canada Baker has chosen seven industrialized countries for her comparative study Australia France Germany The Netherlands Sweden the United Kingdom and the United States These countries experience social and economic strains similar to those felt in Canada and though they share certain policy solutions major differences in policy remain Baker considers which of the policies in these countries are most effective in reducing poverty enhancing family life and improving the status of women then applies her findings to the Canadian situation Bringing together research and statistics from the fields of demography political science economics sociology women's studies and social policy this rich multidisciplinary study provides a unique resource for anyone interested in Canadian family policy

The Psychosocial Interior of the Family Gerald Handel, 2018-04-17 Drawing upon findings from many disciplines including sociology communication family studies human development psychology and anthropology this book provides the first composite study of the whole family and of the complex interplay between self and collectivity in family life It departs sharply from the traditional two person cause effect models used in conventional studies and attempts to delineate a social psychology of the family This book undertakes to define and understand the nature of families to point out ways of discerning different family characters and to comprehend the processes by which these characters are established and maintained by so doing it introduces a new dimension into the study of family behavior and provides a framework within which meaningful investigations and practical applications can be pursued This long awaited fourth edition continues the goal of preceding editions to understand families in terms of the kinds of interaction through which family life is constructed Contributors drawn from a wide variety of disciplines sociology communication family studies human development psychology anthropology and social work provide a range of authoritative and up to date sources on the family and interpersonal relations including newly emergent forms of family organization In providing a new framework for fruitful investigation and practical application this volume contains the best available interdisciplinary work on the social psychology of the family Immigrant Families in Contemporary Society Jennifer E. Lansford, Kirby D. Deater-Deckard, Marc H. Bornstein, 2009-01-16 How do some families successfully negotiate the linguistic cultural and psychological challenges of immigration while others struggle to acculturate This timely volume explores the complexities of immigrant family life in North America and analyzes the individual and contextual factors that influence health and well being Synthesizing cutting edge research from a range of disciplines the book addresses such key topics as child development school achievement and the cultural and religious contexts of parenting It examines the interface between families and broader systems including schools social services and intervention programs and discusses how practices and policies might be improved to produce optimal outcomes for this large and diverse population First Peoples of Canada Jean-Luc Pilon, Nicholette Prince, Andrea Lynne Laforet, Ian G. Dyck, Canadian Museum of Civilization, Eldon Yellowhorn, 2013-01-01 A catalogue of a travelling exhibition of 150 archaeological and ethnographic objects owned by the Canadian Museum of Civilization NFB Kids Brian J. Low, 2006-01-01 Imagine a society that exists solely in cinema this book explores exactly that Using a half century of films from the archival collection of the National Film Board NFB Kids Portrayals of Children by the National Film Board of Canada 1939 1989 overcomes a long standing impasse about what films may be credibly said to document Here they document not reality but social images preserved over time the NFB Society an evolving cinematic representation of Canadian families schools and communities During the postwar era this society in cinema underwent a profound change in its child rearing and schooling philosophies embracing modern notions based upon principles espoused by the American mental hygiene movement Soon after the introduction of these psychological principles into NFB homes in 1946 and schools in 1956 there was a subtle transformation in adult child relations which progressively over time narrowed the gulf of power between generations and diminished the socializing roles of the NFB parents and teachers NFB Kids is a pioneering study within a new field of academic research cinema ethnography It adds to the growing body of knowledge about the function and the considerable impact of psychiatry and psychology in the post war social reconstruction of Canadian society and social history It will be of interest to academics over a broad spectrum of disciplines and to anyone thinking about the advancing arbitrary power of the cinematic state Changing Women, Changing History Diana Pederson, 1996-10-15 Changing Women Changing History is a bibliographic guide to the scholarship both English and French on Canadian s women s history Organized under broad subject headings and accompanied by author and subject indices it is accessible and comprehensive
