Urban Schools Mickey Lauria, Luis F. Mirón, 2005 Urban Schools documents the quality of resistance and identity politics in relation to both the formal and hidden curricula of urban schools their pedagogical practices and their administrative norms and policies Building on the notion that the study of marginality is equally as important as an understanding of the school s structural connections to the wider society Mickey Lauria and Luis F Mir n demonstrate how resistance is much more than a random series of psychological events Indeed within the social context of the formation of racial and ethnic identity in schools in New Orleans Louisiana students acts of resistance alter the ideological structures of schooling Breaking Through the Access Barrier Edward P. St. John, Shouping Hu, Amy S. Fisher, 2010-10-18 This book argues that the policies designed to address inequalities in college access are failing to address underlying issues of inequality Breaking Through the Access Barrier introduces a groundbreaking new theory academic capital formation ACF to promote improvement in academic preparation college information and student aid Education Research and the Media Aspa Baroutsis, Stewart Riddle, Pat Thomson, 2018-12-07 Universities around the world now actively encourage academics to engage in public scholarship publishing in traditional and new media newspapers television radio blogs and social media Education Research and the Media addresses this situation using empirical and reflexive accounts to interrogate and advance the ways in which this shift is usually discussed Drawing on Australian and international scholars and contexts this edited collection probes the effects of these engagements Taken together the book offers new conceptualisations of the junctures and disjunctures of local national and transnational mediascapes in education research working across both traditional media and social media platforms The book takes as its starting point that traditional national media while still significant are now embedded in practices and discourses that transcend geographic and spatial boundaries Global media logics challenge the profitability and operations of media corporations as the production of news and information is paradoxically both democratised and fragmented There is a limited body of research about how this mediatised landscape impacts on public scholarship This is the first book in the field of education to systematically investigate this landscape using empirical examples and analysis as well as a range of theoretical and conceptual approaches Co-Learning in Higher Education Edward P. St. John, 2022-11-14 Co-Learning in Higher Education addresses topics critical to the future of higher education the wellbeing of communities engagement of scholars supporting new generations of social activists and the renewal and expansion of educational and career pathways It develops a theory of co learning that engages students and professors across generations in partnerships with community organizations schools and corporations that solve emerging social and environmental challenges Collaboratively written cases discuss community projects engaging pedagogies and action research projects These co cases demonstrate the power of using critical pedagogies and social action within troubling contexts rather than assuming public policy changes are the only solution Contributors explore mentoring discuss pedagogies that promote community wellbeing and equity address the urgency of change in universities and reflect on the implications of this chaotic period for empowering social agency among youth in rising generations This is a timely volume for scholars and students in higher education and educational policy The States and Public Higher Education Policy Donald E. Heller, 2003-05-01 Among the many challenges facing higher education today affordability access and accountability are increasingly commanding the attention of the public and policymakers alike As students and their families struggle to meet rising tuition prices and state resources for the funding of higher education are constrained policymakers confront issues of affordability within state and institutional budgets Changing demographics and challenges to affirmative action complicate the admissions process even as colleges and universities seek to diversify enrollments And issues of institutional accountability have given rise to the restructuring of higher education governing boards and systems and to a reexamination of the role of public trustees in governance In The States and Public Higher Education Policy Donald E Heller and other higher education scholars and practitioners explore the debates surrounding issues of affordability access and accountability In a concluding chapter Heller considers the impact of technology on public colleges and universities a subject that dominates many discussions of higher education Offering a broad perspective that will appeal to policymakers and educators The States and Public Higher Education Policy provides an unobstructed view of key issues that will shape the future of higher education Only in New Orleans Luis Mirón, Brian R. Beabout, Joseph L. Boselovic, 2015-07-22 With 2015 marking the 10th commemoration of Hurricane Katrina education reform in New Orleans continues to garner substantial local national and international attention Advocates and critics alike have continued to cite test scores new school providers and different theories of governance in making multiple arguments for and against how contemporary education policy is shaping public education and its role in the rebuilding of the city Rather than trying to provide a single unified account of education reform in New Orleans the chapters in this volume provide multiple ways of approaching some of the most significant questions around school choice and educational equity that have arisen in the years since Katrina This collection of research articles essays and journalistic accounts of education reform in New Orleans collectively argues that the extreme makeover of the city's public schools toward a new market based model was shaped by many local historically specific conditions In consequence while the city's schools have been both heralded as a model for other cities and derided as a lesson in the limits of market based reform the experience of education reform that has taken place in the city and its impacts on the lives of students families and educators could have happened only in New Orleans Institutional Ethnography as Practice Dorothy E. Smith, 2006-06-15 In this edited collection institutional ethnographers draw on their field research experiences to address different aspects of institutional ethnographic practice As institutional ethnography embraces the actualities of people's experiences and lives the contributors utilize their research to reveal how institutional relations and regimes are organized As a whole the book aims to provide readers with an accurate overview of what it is like to practice institutional ethnography as well as the main varieties of approaches involved in the research Public Relations in Schools Theodore J. Kowalski, 2011 For educational administration and leadership students studying school and community relations A contemporary and practice based school public relations text that centers on the importance of communication relationships and technology Outfitting students with a wealth of practical practice based knowledge that they can take directly into the halls of their school the new fifth edition of Public Relations in Schools has a fresh contemporary focus on both how administrators can effectively communicate with the community and how building strong relationships with stakeholders can ultimately lead to overall school improvement Through a blend of theoretical and tacit knowledge this text offers students an in depth guide to 1 how to successfully communicate with both internal and external school entities 2 how to build and maintain positive and active relationships via social and political capital and 3 how to translate the value of these relationships into positive change within the school While exploring these three central themes the book emphasizes how new technologies can aid school success At the same time real world case studies at the beginning of each chapter introduce readers to actual public relations issues and bring the material to life The revised fifth edition of Public Relations in Schools is updated with new materials and references throughout the text including two new chapters one on harnessing technology for your public relations needs and one on collecting assessing and applying public opinion In addition the new fifth edition text contains a matrix at the front of the book showing how content relates to ELCC NCATE Standards the widely used criteria for administrator preparation and licensing

Under New Public Management Alison I. Griffith,Dorothy E. Smith,2014-09-17 The institutional ethnographies collected in Under New Public Management explore how new managerial governance practices coordinate the work of people doing front line work in public sectors such as health education social services and international development and people management in the private sector In these fields organizations have increasingly adopted private sector management techniques such as standardized and quantitative measures of performance and an obsession with cost reductions and efficiency These practices of new public management are changing the ways in which front line workers engage with their clients students or patients Using research drawn from Canada the United States Australia and Denmark the contributors expose how standardized managerial requirements are created and applied and how they affect the practicalities of working with people whose lives and experiences are complex and unique

Educational Yearning Thomas Oldenski,Dennis Carlson,2002 What room is there for a language of spirituality and the spirit in democratic forms of education This is the question posed in this collection of essays by a broad range of scholars working in education Beginning with the premise that postmodernism is associated with a re spiritualization of culture the authors seek to explore ways in which this re spiritualization can be pushed in democratic rather than rightist or fundamentalist directions What they celebrate is diversity of progressive traditions and discourses of spirituality that educators and other cultural workers can draw upon to inform practice even as they trouble all essentialistic notions of spirituality Together these essays move democratic education onto a fundamentally new cultural terrain and they suggest that the metaphor of the journey of the spirit is one of the most enduring and potentially democratic ways of thinking about what it means to teach and to become educated
