Families On Small Farms Case Studies In Human Ecology:

Families on Small Farms M. Suzanne Sontag, Margaret M. Bubolz, 1996 Extensive and detailed case studies of two families who began operating small farms in Michigan in the 1980s not only provide information about how human and agricultural systems interact but also demonstrate the principles and methodologies of human ecology at a level useful to graduate or undergraduate students Annotation c by Book News Inc

Case Studies in Human Ecology Daniel G. Bates, Sarah H. Lees, 2013-06-29 This volume was developed to meet a much noted need for accessible case study material for courses in human ecology cultural ecology cultural geography and other subjects increasingly offered to fulfill renewed student and faculty interest in environmental issues The case studies all taken from the journal Human Ecology An Interdisciplinary Journal represent a broad cross section of contemporary research It is tempting but inaccurate to suggest that these represent the Best of Human Ecology They were selected from among many outstanding possibilities because they worked well with the organization of the book which in turn reflects the way in which courses in human ecology are often organized This book provides a useful sample of case studies in the application of the perspective of human ecology to a wide variety of problems in different regions of the world University courses in human ecology typically begin with basic concepts pertaining to energy flow feeding relations material cycles population dynamics and ecosystem properties and then take up illustrative case studies of human environmental interactions These are usually discussed either along the lines of distinctive strategies of food procurement such as foraging or pastoralism or as adaptations to specific habitat types or biomes such as the circumpolar regions or arid lands
