Waller on the Family, Education, and War Willard Waller, 1970-10 Willard Waller 1899 1945 taught and wrote on sociology during the decades of its crystallization the 1920s through the 1940s He pursued sociological analysis in terms of intensive direct observation and humanistic detail as well as conceptual analysis Waller's explorations of role behavior especially in his writings on marriage and education shocked academia and are still provocative today In his direct perceptive often cynical style he penetrated the facades of the most respected social institutions He made use of the case study method many of Waller's case studies were lifted directly from his own experiences particularly from the agonies of his own divorce and from the disappointments of his initial teaching experience He also drew fresh insights from the personal experiences of his colleagues and students hardly a traditional procedure This volume is the first unified presentation of Waller's writings covering in depth his work on family education and war It also includes his shorter but equally vivid discussions on social problems such as crime and on the conflict between insight and scientific method Since Waller's private life was so intimately bound to his public work an understanding of his personal history reveals much about the development and dilemma of sociologists in the United States In their Introduction editors Goode Mitchell and Furstenberg reconstruct the life of this complex American thinker      Sourcebook of Family Theories and Methods Pauline Boss, William J.
