Family Gender And Population In The Middle East Policies In Context:

Family, Gender, and Population in the Middle East Carla Makhoul Obermeyer, 1995 In the spring of 1993 at the invitation of The Population Council a small group of Middle East researchers representing different backgrounds and disciplines met in Cairo to discuss the ways in which the issues of population being debated on the global scene related to the current situation in the region A period of intensive research and writing followed and these efforts culminated in an international symposium entitled Family Gender and Population Policy International Debates and Middle Eastern Realities convened in Cairo in early 1994 The essays in this book are revised versions of the presentations made at the symposium they assess the interplay of economic political cultural and demographic forces that shape the context of population policy in the region

Family in the Middle East Kathryn M. Yount, Hoda Rashad, 2008-07-16 This book examines in comparative perspective the different ideals about family and society and how they have impacted on real family life across a number of countries in the Middle East

Arab Family Studies Suad Joseph, 2018-07-10 Family remains the most powerful social idiom and one of the most powerful social structures throughout the Arab world To engender love of nation among its citizens national movements portray the nation as a family To motivate loyalty political leaders frame themselves as fathers mothers brothers or sisters to their clients parties or the citizenry To stimulate production economic actors evoke the sense of duty and mutual commitment of family obligation To sanctify their edicts clerics wrap religion in the moralities of family and family in the moralities of religion Social and political movements from the most secular to the most religious pull on the tender strings of family love to recruit and bind their members to each other To call someone family is to offer them almost the highest possible intimacy loyalty rights reciprocities and dignity In recognizing the significance of the concept of family this state of the art literature review captures the major theories methods and case studies carried out on Arab families over the past century The book offers a country by country critical assessment of the available scholarship on Arab families

Sixteen chapters focus on specific countries or groups of countries seven chapters offer examinations of the literature on key topical issues Joseph's volume provides an indispensable resource to researchers and students and advances Arab family studies as a critical independent field of scholarship

Anthropology of the Middle East and North Africa Sherine Hafez, Susan Slyomovics, 2013-06-05 This volume combines ethnographic accounts of fieldwork with overviews of recent anthropological literature about the region on topics such as Islam gender youth and new media It addresses contemporary debates about modernity nation building and the link between the ideology of power and the production of knowledge Contributors include established and emerging scholars known for the depth and quality of their ethnographic writing and for their interventions in current theory

Gender in Judaism and Islam Firoozeh Kashani-Sabet, Beth S. Wenger, 2015 Lone Star Muslims offers an engaging and insightful look at contemporary Muslim American life in Texas It illuminates the dynamics of the Pakistani Muslim community in Houston a city with one of the largest Muslim populations in the south and southwestern United States Drawing on interviews and participant observation at radio stations festivals and ethnic businesses the volume explores everyday Muslim lives at the intersection of race class profession gender sexuality and religious sectarian affiliation to demonstrate the complexity of the South Asian experience Importantly the volume incorporates narratives of gay Muslim American men of Pakistani descent countering the presumed heteronormativity evident in most of the social science scholarship on Muslim Americans and revealing deeply felt affiliations to Islam through ritual and practice It also includes narratives of members of the highly skilled Shia Ismaili Muslim labor force employed in corporate America of Pakistani ethnic entrepreneurs the working class and the working poor employed in Pakistani ethnic businesses of community activists and of radio program hosts Decentering dominant framings that flatten understandings of transnational Islam and Muslim Americans such as terrorist on the one hand and model minority on the other Lone Star Muslims offers a glimpse into a variety of lived experiences It shows how specificities of class Islamic sectarian affiliation citizenship status gender and sexuality shape transnational identities and mediate racism marginalities and abjection

Transitions in Domestic Consumption and Family Life in the Modern Middle East: Houses in Motion R.

Shechter, 2003-11-28 The volume focuses on three countries Egypt Israel and Turkey earlier the Ottoman Empire in the period between the mid nineteenth and the early Twenty first centuries It studies the consumption of homes and domesticity as changing processes in space and time It further foregrounds research into the impact of economic political and socio cultural transformations on the private life of individuals Even more so the volume advances the discussion on the processes of restructuring of self identity and lifestyles via acts of consumption The volume focuses on the market where producers and consumers meet the state and the national movements with their respective ideologies and practices the role of advertisers but also the agency of individual and group choice In addition it discusses in different ways the close interrelations between the representation of home and domestic life for example in journals books and photography and the political economy of house consumption Thus this volume avoids the notion of linearity and progress in the transition to modern lifestyles in favour of more subtle accounts of the different venues in which people in the Middle East restructure their most immediate and intimate surroundings

Iran Negin Nabavi, 2012-08-30 Recent Iranian history has been full of unexpected turns Whether it was the 1979 revolution which resulted in the establishment of the first ever Islamic Republic in the history of the Muslim world the rise to power of the reformist movement in 1997 or the emergence of the Green Movement an opposition movement that took shape spontaneously in the days immediately following the presidential elections in June 2009 the world has been taken unawares at every juncture This book brings together essays that both speculate on the import of the developments of 2009 and shed light on the complexities and the ever changing dynamics of post revolutionary Iran

Dreaming of Change: Young Middle-Class Women and Social Transformation in Jordan Julia Droeber, 2005-10-01 This anthropological monograph focuses on the everyday experiences of young highly educated women in contemporary Jordan It carefully analyses their powerful contributions to social change as well as the strategies they employ in dealing with the problems they generally face In their struggle to find recognition religion Islam and Christianity often plays a major part and helps them to empower themselves which is also reflected in this account The study discusses family relationships social networks gender constructions religiousness and women s roles in various social spheres It sheds light on how these young women actively influence transformations in their society and re negotiate their own and other people s social position and how they in turn are highly influenced and often restricted by the socio cultural environment in their efforts towards change

Islam, Development, and Urban Women's Reproductive Practices Cortney Hughes Rinker, 2013-09-02 Drawing on fieldwork conducted in Rabat Morocco this ethnography analyzes the relationship between neoliberal development policies women s reproductive practices and popular understandings of Islam In the 1990s Morocco shifted its attention from economic to human development as economic reforms in the preceding decades ultimately did not address social issues such as access to healthcare and education and poverty Development programs like the National Initiative for Human Development seek to create modern citizens who are responsible self sustaining and will make choices that better their well being Hughes Rinker considers the implications that the reorientation from primarily economic to social development has on reproductive healthcare Drawing on observations in health clinics interviews with patients medical staff and at government and development agencies and a document analysis she demonstrates how women appropriate the medical practices and spaces of intervention aimed at creating modern citizens to form new religious identities novel ideas of motherhood and interpretations of neoliberal citizenship based on Islamic beliefs Women s interpretations of Islam are not incompatible with the state s agenda for modernization but rather serve as rationale for women to accept modern reproductive practices such as contraception and pregnancy tests However even though female patients appropriate medical practices they reinscribe development tropes that suggest they participate in modernization through their reproductive bodies and mothering instead of their productive labor Hughes Rinker complicates neoliberalism as she shows it is unproductive to have a set conceptualization of neoliberal citizens and more productive to examine the practices and discourses that create such citizens

Reproductive Agency, Medicine and the State Maya Unnithan-Kumar, 2005-11 Recent years have seen many changes in human reproduction resulting from state and medical interventions in childbearing processes Based on empirical work in a variety of societies and countries this volume considers the relationship between reproductive processes of fertility pregnancy childbirth and the postpartum period on the one hand and attitudes medical technologies and state health policies in diverse cultural contexts on the other

North African Women after the Arab Spring Larbi Touaf, Soumia Boutkhil, Chourouq Nasri, 2017-06-21 This book looks with hindsight at the Arab Spring and sheds light on the debates it triggered within North African societies and the alarming developments in women s rights Although women played a key role in the success of the uprisings that wiped out long ruling oligarchies across the region they remain excluded from decision making circles and the formal political and electoral apparatus Women's rights are written off constitution drafts and issues of gender equality are hardly addressed The chapters that compose this volume present research and reflections from different perspectives to help the reader get a better picture of the profound turmoil that beset this part of the so called Arab World Adopting an interdisciplinary perspective the contributors discuss a host of questions related to women and gender in the Arab world and address the broader question of why women's efforts and momentum during the revolution did not seem to pay off the same way they did for men This book provides an assessment of the situation from the inside It is intended to help the general public as well as the academic world comprehend the significance of what is going on in this key part of the Islamic World

Impacts of Global Change on the Hydrological Cycle in West and Northwest Africa Peter Speth, Michael Christoph, Bernd Diekkrüger, 2010-08-12 Africa is highly vulnerable to the impacts of climate change In particular shortage of fresh water is expected to be the dominant water problem for West and Northwest Africa of the 21st century In order to solve present and projected future problems concerning fresh water supply a highly interdisciplinary approach is used in the book Strategies are offered for a sustainable and future oriented water management Based on different scenarios a range of management options is suggested with the aid of Information Systems and Spatial Decision Support Systems for two river catchments in Northwest and West Africa the wadi Dr a in south eastern Morocco and the Ou m basin in Benin The selected catchments are representative in the sense what can be learnt from these catchments for other similar catchments

Arab Migrant Communities in the GCC Zahra Babar, 2017 This volume provides a series of empirically dense analyses of the historical and contemporary dynamics of Arab intra regional migration to the monarchies of the Persian Gulf and unravels the ways in which particular social and cultural practices of Arab migrants interact with the host states Among other things specific contributions allow us to consider the socioeconomic and political factors that have historically shaped the character of the Arab migratory experience the sorts of work opportunities that Arab migrants have sought in the region what their work conditions and lived experiences have been and whether we are able to discern any patterns of sociocultural integration for Arab non nationals
