Cohabitation

Great Britain: Law Commission, 2006-05-31 This consultation paper considers options for reform of the current law in relation to the property and financial rights of cohabiting couples either opposite sex or same sex couples when a relationship ends Although the paper does discuss the situation in relation to when one of the partners dies it focuses on whether a new scheme is needed to provide financial remedies on separation when a relationship breaks down Amongst the provisional proposals the Committee identifies the need for the introduction of new statutory remedies to address the separation of cohabiting couples who have children however the situation for cohabitants without children is found to raise more difficult social policy questions and the views of consultees are sought about their eligibility within the proposed scheme Other proposals include that courts should be given discretion in determining financial claims on separation rather than having fixed rules for property division based on principles of the contributions of both parties to the joint household and to the welfare of dependent children both before and after separation with the provision for an opt out agreement for couples under the proposed statutory scheme Responses to the proposals should be received by 30th September 2006 and a final report is due to be published by August 2007 An overview document summarising the key issues considered is available separately ISBN 011730266X

risk jail in desperate efforts to abduct their own children from foreign ex spouses The aim of this Handbook is to provide scholars postgraduate students judges and practioners with a broad but authoritative review of current research in the area of International Family Law The contributors reflect on a range of jurisdictions and legal traditions and their approaches vary Each chapter has a distinct subject matter and was written by an author who was invited because of his or her expertise on that subject This volume provides a valuable contribution to emerging understandings of the subject

International Family Law ,2000 What is The Family of Law? Alan Brown,2019-02-07 This book argues that the legal understanding of family in the UK continues to be underpinned by the idealised image of the nuclear family premised upon the traditional gendered roles of father as breadwinner and mother as homemaker This examination of the law s model of the family has been prompted by the substantial reforms that have taken place in family law in recent decades and the significant evolution in social attitudes and familial practices that has occurred in parallel Throughout the book the influence of the nuclear family is noted in several different contexts various specific legal definitions of family the legal regulation of adult conjugal relationships the attribution of legal parenthood and the construction of the role of the parent within the law Ultimately this book argues that while these reforms have resulted in additional categories of relationship coming to be situated within the nuclear family model there has not as yet been any fundamental alteration of the underpinning concept of the nuclear family itself This book concludes by considering the possibilities offered beyond the nuclear family exploring the reconceptualising of the legal understanding of family around alternative and potentially radical models of family
