Family Of Three:

Three Generations, Two Languages, One Family Li Wei, 1994 This book offers a sociolinguistic study of the Chinese community in Britain It focuses on generational changes in language choice and code switching patterns of Chinese immigrant families The social network model developed in the study is intended to account for the relationship between community norms of language use and conversational strategies of individual speakers and for the relation of both to the broader social economic and political context Family Development in Three Generations Reuben Hill, 2017-07-12 Family Development in Three Generations is an unusual kind of multi generational gathering the result of a massive in depth research effort It is based upon Hill s personal interviews conducted with over 300 families during the course of a year The discussion results from these interviews from the statistical information that they produced and from Hill s consultation with five other fellow researchers This scholarly contribution to the family field thoroughly analyzes the complexities of the modified generational network As a multi generational study it is pervaded by the vigorous spirit that usually characterizes such research In his preface to Family Development in Three Generations Reuben Hill invites the reader to drop in on any generational gathering where you will hear how much better or worse life was in grandfather s day than today Such discussions are usually controversial and center upon shared experiences Such rhetoric polemic and energy sustain conversations among generations Family Development in Three Generations penetrates to the life center of intimate change in American society It is a wide ranging volume that presents varied and highly significant insights into many fields Scholars will find it a vital contribution to their knowledge of the subject and laymen will find it full of valuable information that they can profitably apply to their own families The work is widely recognized as a classic in longitudinal analysis of family life

The Family in Asia Man Singh Das, Panos D. Bardis, 2023-08-09 The institution of the family is by far the most important of all the societal networks in which the lives of men women and children are involved Nowhere is this more true than in the less developed countries of Asia Originally published in 1979 The Family in Asia aimed to provide a series of comprehensive survey chapters which described traditional family patterns in a selection of Asian countries at different stages of economic development These range from a rapidly expanding and highly developed industrial nation Japan through modernising and developing countries India Pakistan Iran China South Korea and the Philippines to more underdeveloped countries such as Thailand and Afghanistan Each chapter is written by a senior country specialist and covers an integrated series of topics within a uniform framework in order to facilitate inter country comparisons Valuable description and statistical material is provided on the literature and on the effects of industrialisation urbanisation and modernisation but perhaps more important is a theoretical framework and the editors review of some basic characteristics of social modernisation These include the degree of equalitarian family relations and sexual divisions in society emphasis on individualism and independence the differentiation and specialised functioning of social institutions urban life birth control and family planning social mobility marital disruption and divorce neglect and care of the elderly formal education for children and government intervention and influence on family activities Read in its historical context this title will interest specialists in development and Asian studies in demography sociology and in anthropology Students in particular will value the tight analytical framework in which the book has been written
